any way, but you can certainly get rid of some of the inequalities that are in it now, and if this Senate wishes to face this thing in an honest way, I say here and now that we should pass an income tax right now, and that we provide that the state employes and everybody else pay a flat income tax until we have our constitution amended so that we can have a graduated income tax, because, Mr. President, this personal property tax law is an annual income tax, except that it taxes people who have no income, as well as those who do. It does not tax the rich man in any greater proportion than it taxes a man who saves up five or ten thousand dollars.

Mr. President, these amendments put this squarely up to this Senate. Do you want to save the people of this State who are finding their property confiscated by this tax, or do you want to wipe out some of the inequalities that exist now in this personal property tax?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, this is like it always has been when you begin to tax wealth. Now, it is not the widow who is going to howl about the tax, because we have had the 4-mill tax for a great many years, and this merely increases it. The taxing system of Pennsylvania has been so drawn that it taxes real estate, and, if you travel about Pennsylvania, you see the enormous wealth in land and buildings, and we glory in the wealth of Pennsylvania. When we stop to think that what we see in land and buildings is only 40% of the wealth of Pennsylvania, that means that 60% of the wealth of Pennsylvania is the real wealth, that is, the income producing wealth. We tax land up to probably 80% or 90% of the tax of Pennsylvania. Whether it is income-producing or not, we do not ask the owner of the real estate, or of the home in Pennsylvania, whether there is any income or not. A man may be losing on his real estate, and yet he has to pay a real estate tax. In the city of Pittsburgh it runs as high as 40 mills on real estate, even though there is not a penny of income, and here is a tax of 8 mills on real wealth, and I will say 90% of it is income producing wealth, owned by the well-to-do.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I want to say in regard to the question of constitutionality of this question, that it seems to me that if you classify personal property on the basis of whether it does actually yield an income it is an arbitrary classification. It would be an ideal situation, of course, if all taxes could be collected from income, because then we would know that there is some measure of ability to pay, but for years we have had our real estate taxes relying equally upon those who received an income from their property and upon those whose property yielded no income, the value of the property, of course, being determined with some reference to its income-producing or at least its potential income-producing value, and I think there is more protection in the matter of personal property than there is in the matter of real property, because there you can only consider potential income-producing values, but in the case of personal property its value for taxing purposes is always affected by the fact that it produces no income, and for that reason I cannot see why we should say that it is unconstitutional as regards real estate and yet say that it is constitutional in the other respect.

With reference to these other exemptions that have been referred to as to classes of real estate, I am not so sure, if they were brought to a test fairly on their merits before the court, but what there might be considered a question as to the constitutionality of some of our present exemptions. At least they are only there because the legislature has failed to act in the protection of the public interest, and I think in this case, if we permit any other arbitrary distinction to come in that we would be derelict in our duty. I should be glad, as soon as possible, to have our revenues raised entirely on an income basis. Personally, I would not say that there was anything so horrible about the flat income as a democratic proposition, but if we are going to have our tax on the basis of a capital levy, then we have to stick to that basis of what the value is, and not make an exemption on the question of income.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, I am in sympathy with a general income tax. I do not believe that the legislature has the authority to lay down a canon or a matter of fixing values. Property, whether it is real or personal, must be assessed in some manner or another, and a tax based upon that value, I think it is entirely without authority in the legislature to prescribe how a value shall be fixed, and for that reason I feel that these amendments should be opposed.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I certainly realize that two wrongs do not make a right. I should like very much to vote for this bill, for the reason that the purpose of it, I believe, is to supply funds for relief, but I cannot see the wisdom in voting a tax on people who have no income. I recall having been told by a member of this Senate, on the left, that he has had quite a considerable sum invested upon which he has received no interest, a mortgage, and I know countless numbers of people in my own district who have money at interest in mortgages and in stocks, widows and other people who invested their savings in order that they might have an income to support themselves, and I believe in the policy of taxation on ability to pay. I should like very much to vote for this bill. for the reason that it is intended to provide money for those who are on relief, but I see the utter futility in taxing people when they cannot pay. Now, whether or not this is constitutional, I have the assurance of the sponsor of this amendment, that Mr. Fertig, who is possibly better able than I am to judge, thinks that it is constitutional, and I present that as my reason, if this amendment is not accepted, for voting against the bill.

Mr. JACOBS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. JACOBS. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, whether he has been able, since he presented the amendment last week, to find out from the Department of Revenue just what difference this will make in the amount of revenue the State will collect, and just what increase in cost it would mean in the administration of the act.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the only information that I have been able to get from the Department of Revenue was through one of the majority members of this Senate, whom I asked whether the Department had calculated as to the effect on the revenue of this bill. He told me that a Department official advised him that it was too much trouble to figure and they had not been able to compute it. That is all the information I have.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and Mr. BUCKMAN, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—16

Bean,	Gelder,	Jacobs,	Rupp,
Buckman,	Heyburn,	Mallery,	Salus,
Chapman,	Homsher,	Owlett,	Scarlett,
Deitrick,	Howell,	Pierson,	Wolfenden,

Cavalcante,	Henney,	Law,	Rice,
Dando,	Huffman,	McCreesh,	Rodgers,
Dent,	Jaspan,	McGinnis,	Ruth,
DiSilvestro,	Kahle,	Mundy,	Sipe,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,	Pytko,	Sones,
Frey,	Kunkel,	Rankin,	Stiefel,
Gilson,	Lanius,	Reed,	Thompson,
Haluska,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the Section as amended?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move to amend sec. 1 (sec. 3), page 5, line 12, by striking out: the light-faced bracket before the word "and"; amend sec. 1 (sec. 3), page 5, line 19, by striking out: the light-faced bracket after the word "from"; amend sec. 1 (sec. 3), page 10, line 13, by striking out: the light-faced bracket before the "The" where it appears the first time in said line; amend sec. 1 (sec. 3), page 10, line 20, by striking out: the light-faced bracket after the word "therein"

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate, these amendments are on page 5, line 12. When this Personal Property Act was passed and the rate increased from one mill to four mills for State purposes, the Senate inserted a clause providing that the equitable interest in any personal property of the classes hereinafter enumerated, owned, held or possessed by any resident where the legal title to the personal property is vested in a trustee, agent, attorney in fact, and where such resident is entitled to receive all or any part of the income therefrom, was made taxable.

Mr. President, that clause was inserted last year to prevent wealthy people, who have large estates, and who were able to hire expensive lawyers, took their property over to Delaware and created a trust to avoid this personal property tax. Mr, President, there was a great question as to whether we could prevent that. It has always been considered very doubtful as to whether the legislature could prevent the removal of property outside of this State and set up a trust outside of the State by a resident to avoid this tax. Nevertheless, realizing how doubtful it was that we could enforce that, it was thought by the Senate that that clause inserted in the act would be a deterrent and would prevent it, the very fact that the property that was claimed so to be taxed by this bill, that is, the property of the rich, was being taken out of the State of Pennsylvania. And what do we find? We find that this clause was taken out of the bill, notice is served on the wealthy people of this State "you can take your property out, set up a trust in Delaware, receive the income on it in this State, and you can do it with complete immunity from this tax." Mr. President, I do not know why that amendment was taken out of this bill. I do not know whether these stories that are going around that high officials in this state government have moved their property over to Delaware to escape this tax that they advocate were true, but certainly, Mr. President, when we find a clause inserted for the very purpose of preventing property being taken out of this State to avoid taxation, when we find instead of re-enactment that they have put some brackets in and taken those clauses out, I say it is suspicious.

Mr. President, the amendments I have just offered take out the brackets and restore those clauses in this bill, and continue the notice that we inserted two years ago; it means that you cannot take your property out of Pennsylvania and escape this tax. That is all these amendments do.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I am convinced now that the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, is not desirous of adding anything on this subject. He is going over the same ground that we went over two years ago. It took us weeks, in fact months, two years ago, to get this bill together in a satisfactory way and in a manner that we hoped it would pass the courts, and that is what has been done this year. This bill has been built up for the purpose of trying to make it constitutional and legal, and it ought not to be necessary to come in here with a legal brief on every point involved in the case. The very matter that has been talked about has been decided recently in the courts, and for that reason we may not continue what has been suggested by the Senator from Tioga in his amendments. There is no ulterior reason, and it is unfair to make that kind of a statement in the Senate. The United States Courts have decided the question and we may not continue it, and we do not want to imperil the bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, name the case to which he refers, and will he state when and where that case was decided?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, the case was a United States case against the State of Maryland.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask if it is not a fact that the case of U. S. vs. Maryland, to which he refers, was decided two or three years ago, and followed a Virginia case; and it is not a fact that the U. S. Supreme Court, in those decisions, indicated that where a trust was a cestui que trust, that this rule applies, and was silent on the question whether you could tax the corpus under a personal property tax law when it was removed under a revocable trust.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I have already said I have not come in here with a legal brief, I did not anticipate that we would meet this problem. The bill has been built up so that it complied with the recent decision in the Maryland case, U. S. vs. Maryland, and for that reason elimination has been made in the bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, is correct. I think he and I both worked on this bill at the last session in the Senate Finance Committee. I would like to ask if it is not a fact that the clause which has now been removed from this bill, was inserted, as I have said, for the purpose and in the hope that it would act as a deterrent on wealthy people from removing their personal property from the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, it is difficult for me to remember. I do remember we had a discussion about it, but just how it was handled I am not familiar with any more.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe if it is not a fact that in the Maryland case that it attempted to tax the personal property itself, and by an amendment that we carried through last year we attempted to tax the equitable interest only in such personal property; in other words, there was a cestui que trust equitable interest, and I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe if it is not a fact that that question was not determined at all by the Maryland court.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, the difficulty is that I have not gone over those cases in two years and I am not able to answer that.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of these amendments.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, as to whether or not there has been any litigation or adjudication under the clauses which he proposes to re-insert in this bill?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I know of none.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, has the matter ever been drawn into question?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, so far as I know the question of whether the state can tax an equitable interest, under an act worded as is the clause which they now have taken out of this bill, has never been passed on.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga inform the Senate as to whether there is really any good reason to doubt the ability of the State at the present time to tax this equitable interest?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I think that there is a good reason to doubt the ability of the State to tax this equitable interest, and the Senate Finance Committee two years ago recognized that there was a serious question whether this equitable interest should be taxed, and I again repeat that in spite of that fact it was held that the insertion of this clause would give notice to the people that they must not try to move their property out of this State to escape taxation, and now, if this bill passes in the form that the administration has drawn it, you have given notice to those people that we taking away that provision, "take your property out' you can hire a lawyer and find a Trust Company in Philadelphia," so that only poor people will have to pay this tax.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga inform the Senate as to whether or not other provisions of the bill are properly drawn, so that in the event that this section with these amendments should be declared unconstitutional.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the bill with this last amendment adopted by the Senate would restore the bill, as I understand it, to the position under which we are now paying the tax, and that question has never been raised.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I had not intended to speak on these amendments, but since I have listened to this very able legal discussion, it occurred to me that on this roll call will be determined which side of this Chamber is the real friend of the poor man, and which, Mr. President, is the real friend of the rich. If the amendments offered by the Senator from Tioga are allowed to re-insert this clause in the bill, it will surely be a tax on the rich. Apparently our friends on the Democratic side do not want to tax the rich; apparently our friends on the Republican side do want to tax the rich; this roll call will determine that question. It seems to me very clear tonight that the Democratic Party has made itself the party of taxation, of taxing the poor man and exempting the rich.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and Mr. BUCKMAN and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—26

Bean,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Salus,
Buckman,	Heyburn,	Owlett,	Scarlett,
Chapman,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Sipe,
Dando,	Howell,	Reed,	Sones,

Cavalcante,	Henney,	Lanius,	Rankin,
Dent,	Huffman,	Law,	Rice,
DiSilvestro,	Jaspan,	McCreesh,	Ruth,

Frey,	Kilgallen,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The second section of the bill was read as follows and agreed to.

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment.

The title of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

An Act to re-enact and amend the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred fourteen) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property providing for the assessment collection and lien of the same and the distribution of the proceeds thereof imposing duties on executors administrators registers of wills recorders of deeds prothonotaries and court clerks and on persons copartnerships associations banks national banks trust companies and other corporations receiving deposits of money and on certain corporations and limited partnerships conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments imposing penalties and making an appropriation" as amended by imposing annual taxes for state purposes for two additional years imposing taxes on ground rents making further provision for the filing of reports and for the assessment and collection of said taxes and penalties and interest thereon and modifying and further defining certain exemptions from said taxes

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 927 (House Bill No. 1692), on second reading, entitled:

An Act changing the procedure in civil actions hereafter brought in any of the Courts of Common Pleas of Philadelphia County providing for trial without jury and for the filing of agreements therefor providing for the payment of jury fees go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 957, as follows:

An Act changing the procedure in civil actions hereafter brought in any of the Courts of Common Pleas of Philadelphia County providing for trial without jury and for the filing of agreements therefor providing for the payment of jury fees

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in all civil actions hereafter brought in any of the Courts of Common Pleas in and for the Judicial District comprising Philadelphia County the statement of claim before it shall be received by the prothonotary shall contain on the back thereof an indorsement signed by plaintiff or his counsel as follows "Jury trial demanded" or "It is agreed that this case be tried by a judge without a jury" If plaintiff demands a jury trial he shall at the time of filing his statement pay to the prothonotary a jury fee of four dollars Every affidavit of defense where plaintiff has not demanded a jury trial shall contain on the back thereof a similar indorsement and if defendant demands a jury trial he shall at the time of filing his affidavit of defense pay to the prothonotary a jury fee of four dollars If both parties as aforesaid have filed agreements that the case may be tried by a judge without a jury it shall be so tried under such rules of procedure as the said several Courts of Common Pleas shall prescribe

Section 2 The Act approved the twenty-second day of April one thousand eight hundred seventy-four (Pamphlet Laws one hundred nine) in so far as it relates to trials by Court without a jury in the Courts of Common Pleas of Philadelphia County is hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 975 (House Bill No. 1572), entitled:

An Act to amend sections one eight eleven and thirteen of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one thousand five hundred thirteen) entitled "An act regulating the construction equipment maintenance operation and inspection of boilers granting certain authority to and imposing certain duties upon the Department of Labor and Industry providing penalties for violations of this act and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act" extending the provisions of said act to unfired pressure vessels

The first to thirteenth sections, inclusive, of the bill were read as follows and agreed to.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That sections one eight eleven and thirteen of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 1513) entitled "An act regulating the construction equipment maintenance operation and inspection of boilers granting certain authority to and imposing certain duties upon the Department of Labor and Industry providing penalties for violations of this act and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Definitions Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That as used in this act "boiler" shall mean a vessel in which power or heat is generated and including all piping and apparatus connected thereto up to and including the stop-valve or valves nearest the boiler and shall also be construed to include unfired pressure vessels except where the context clearly indicates otherwise

"Department" shall mean the Department of Labor and Industry of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

The House met at 9:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. EPHRAIM Z. GALLAHER, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, we do thank Thee for the fine spirit that prevails among the members of this body tonight, who have come again to assume the part of their task with joy and with apparent feeling of thanksgiving, which should be. But, our Heavenly Father, our hearts are heavy tonight as in parts of this State people are facing devastating floods, thier property being destroyed and taken away from them. They are looking into the world with sadness and defeat, but, our Heavenly Father, may this body make them feel that in their suffering we suffer with them also, and that anything that can be done by us individually in prayer, in thought, and in giving shall be done with haste anh with feeling of sympathy with them in their losses.

In Christ's name we ask it. Amen.

Whereas The production sale and distribution of milk and certain milk products in this Commonwealth are attendant with serious conditions affecting milk producers milk dealers and consumers of milk the following legislative findings of fact with respect thereto are hereby made

1 Milk is the most necessary human food vital for promotion of the public health and for development of strength and vigor in the race It is a most fertile field for the growth of bacteria and therefore its production and distribution have been surrounded by more costly sanitary requirements than those of any other commodity in this the third greatest milk producing and consuming State of the nation

2 Milk consumers are not assured of a constant and sufficient supply of pure wholesome milk unless the high cost of maintaining sanitary conditions of production and standards of purity is returned to the producers of milk If this is not done large numbers dispose of their herds or engage in milk strikes and remaining producers supply unhealthful milk or milk lower quality because of financial inability to comply with sanitary requirements and to keep vigilant against contamination Public health is menaced when milk dealers do not or cannot pay a price to producers commensurate with the cost of sanitary production or when consumers are required to pay excessive prices for this necessity of life

3 Milk dealers must handle constant surpluses to meet the emergency requirements of normal variations in fluid consumption and to meet seasonal variations in production which amounts in excess of fluid requirements must find a market in fluid use or in manufacture and tend to demoralize the industry Only one per centum of the milk dealers of the Commonwealth handle over sixty per centum of the milk sold by producers to dealers and persons have often combined privately to establish practices or fix prices to the detriment of producers or consumers

4 Milk producers must make delivery of their highly perishable commodity immediately after it is produced and must generally accept any market at any price Under the utilization method of payment prevailing in the milk industry particularly in cities the value of this market is unknown until the milk dealer sells the fluid milk and uses or disposes of the surplus Furthermore only the dealers have facilities for accurately weighing and testing milk This knowledge of weights tests and uses is in the exclusive possession of the dealer The producers' lack of control over their market is aggravated by the trade custom of dealers in paying weeks after delivery keeping producers obligated to continue delivery in order to receive payment for previous sales and permitting dealers to operate on the producers' capital without giving security therefor Hence milk producers are subject to fraud and imposition and do not possess the freedom of contract necessary for the procuring of cost of production

Whereas public control of the milk industry in recent years is stabilizing the conditions therein and a relaxation of control will cause a return to the unhealthful uneconomic deceptive and destructive practices of the past with respect to this paramount industry upon which the health and welfare of the Commonwealth largely depends and

Whereas It is necessary to preserve and promote the strength and vigor of the inhabitants of this Commonwealth to protect the public health and welfare and to prevent fraud and imposition upon consumers and producers by continuing to treat the production transportation manufacture processing storage distribution and sale of milk in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a business affecting the public health and affected with a public interest

An annual financial statement of receipts and expenditures of any such marketing area committee shall be furnished to each producer in the area, and filed with the commission."

ARTICLE IV

Licenses of Milk Dealers

Section 401 Milk Dealers Required to be Licensed Except as herein otherwise specifically provided a milk dealer as defined in this act shall not buy milk from producers or others within this Commonwealth for storage manufacture processing distribution or sale within or without this Commonwealth or sell or distribute milk within this Commonwealth unless such dealer be duly licensed as herein provided and it shall be unlawful for a milk dealer to buy milk from or sell to a milk dealer who is not either licensed or exempted as herein provided or in any way to deal in or handle milk which he has reason to believe has previously been dealt in or handled in violation of the provisions of this act

Section 402 Milk Dealers Subject to Exemption The commission may by official order exempt from the license requirements provided by this act milk dealers who purchase or handle milk in a total quantity not exceeding one thousand five hundred pounds in any month and milk dealers selling milk in any quantity only in markets of a population of one thousand or less for local consumption The commission may by official order exempt stores or any class thereof from the license requirements provided by this act and shall exempt stores selling milk all of which has been purchased from a licensed milk dealer However milk dealers exempted by this section from the license requirements of this act shall continue to be subject to all the other provisions of this act relating to milk dealers

Section 403 Applications An application for a license to operate as a milk dealer shall be completed and filed by the dealer with the commission within thirty days after this act takes effect or prior to his engaging in business and annually thereafter on or before April fifteenth by mail or otherwise upon a form prescribed by the commission Such application shall be accompanied by the fee required by this act and by a bond when so required by this act in order to be complete The license year shall commence May first shall end April thirtieth following The applicant shall state under oath or affirmation upon a form prescribed by the commission the following

(1) The nature of the business to be conducted

(2) The full name of the person applying for the license If the applicant is a copartnership or association the full name of each member shall be stated If the applicant is a corporation the names and addresses of all officers and directors shall be stated

(3) The city borough incorporated town or township and the street number if any at which the business is to be conducted

(4) The financial condition of the applicant including a comprehensive financial statement of his affairs

(5) Facts showing that the applicant has adequate technical personnel and adequate technical and physical facilities properly to conduct the business of receiving and handling milk that he has complied with all rules regulations and orders of the commission filed or served as required in this act the quantity source and outlet of milk handled within the Commonwealth during the calendar year preceding the period for which the license is desired and such other facts with respect to the applicant's business as may be required by the commission pursuant to this act

Section 404 Grounds for Refusal Suspension or Revocation The commission shall grant a license to an applicant complying with the provisions of this act and the rules regulations and orders issued by the commission pursuant thereto The commission may decline to grant a license to an applicant or may suspend revoke or refuse to transfer a license already granted to a milk dealer or may prohibit a milk dealer exempted from the license requirements of this act from continuing to operate as a milk dealer after determination by the commission that the dealer

(1) Has rejected without reasonable cause any milk purchased from a producer or has rejected without either reasonable cause or reasonable advance notice milk delivered by or on behalf of a producer in ordinary continuance of a previous course of dealing except where the contract has been lawfully terminated Provided however That in the absence of an express or implied fixing of a longer period in the contract "reasonable advance notice" shall not be construed to mean notice of less than one week nor more than two weeks

(2) Has without reasonable cause failed to account and make payment for any milk purchased from a producer

(3) Has committed any act injurious to the public health or public welfare or to trade or commence in demoralization of the price structure of milk to such an extent as to interfere with an ample supply thereof for the inhabitants of the Commonwealth affected by this act It is hereby declared that such demoralization is injurious to the public health public welfare and to trade and commerce and that evidence thereof shall include any course of conduct on the part of the milk dealer in violation of the terms of this act or any valid rules regulations and orders of the commission

(4) Has made a general assignment for the benefit of creditors or has been adjudged a bankrupt or there has been entered against him a judgment upon which an execution remains wholly or partly unsatisfied

(5) Has been a party to a combination to fix prices contrary to law A cooperative agricultural association organized under the laws of this Commonwealth or a similar association or corporation organized under the laws of this or any other state and engaged in making collective sales or marketing for its members or shareholders shall not be deemed or construed to be a conspiracy or combination in restraint of trade or an illegal monopoly nor shall the contracts agreements arrangements or combinations heretofore or hereafter made by such association or corporation or the members officers or directors thereof in making such collective sales and marketing and prescribing the terms and conditions thereof be deemed or construed to be conspiracies or to be injurious to public welfare trade or commerce

(6) Has continued in a course of dealing of such nature as to satisfy the commission of an intent of the milk dealer to deceive or defraud producers or consumers

(7) Has failed either to keep records or to furnish accurately the statements or information required by the commission to be supplied to it or to producers or consumers

(8) Has made any statement upon which the license was issued which statement is found to have been false or misleading in any material particular

(9) Is a partnership or corporation and any individual holding any position owning any substantial interest or having any power of control therein has previously been responsible in whole or in part for any act on account of which a license may be denied suspended or revoked pursuant to the provisions of this act

(10) Has violated any of the provisions of this act or any of the rules regulations or orders of the commission or any stipulation entered into between the said dealer and the commission in the course of any proceeding before the commission

(11) Has violated any provisions of acts repealed hereby or of rules regulations or orders issued thereunder

The issuance or renewal by the commission of a license hereunder shall not preclude the commission from suspending or revoking such license for a violation committed by the licensee prior to the license period unless the commission or its predecessor board had proceeded against the licensee for such violation and any valid order thereon has been complied with by the licensee

Section 405 Hearings and Orders Before refusing to grant or to reissue or before suspending revoking or refusing to transfer a license the commission shall afford the applicant or the licensee respectively an opportunity to be heard It shall direct a citation to such applicant or licensee by registered mail sent to his last known address giving therein at least five days' notice of such hearing and a statement of the matters complained of After such hearing and upon entry of any order thereon the commission shall serve a certified copy of such order upon the applicant or licensee filing at its office the original and a statement in writing of the findings of fact in support thereof

Section 406 Cancellation Where the commission declines to grant a license to an applicant or revokes a license and the dealer appeals therefrom obtaining a supersedeas the reason assigned for declining to grant or for revoking the license shall not be a reason for declining to grant the same dealer a license for a subsequent license period However in the event that the appeal from the order of the commission is dismissed or otherwise terminated favorably to the commission any license issued for such subsequent period shall be automatically cancelled five days after the termination of the appeal unless the commission otherwise orders

Section 407 Transfer Licenses issued under this act may not be assigned Licenses may however be transferred from one person to another provided that the prior written approval of the commission to such transfer is obtained but a receiver an executor or administrator who succeeds to the business of a licensee may continue the business for a period of two weeks if otherwise authorized by law without securing the prior approval of the commission Any change in the membership of a partnership or limited partnership either by the withdrawal or the addition of a partner shall be construed to require a transfer of the license Applications for such transfers shall be filed with the commission at least one week before the transfer is to be made or in the case of a receiver or an executor or administrator within two weeks after he takes possession of the business of the licensee Whenever any license is transferred no license fee shall be required from the person to whom such transfer is made for the balance of the then current license year except the transfer fee of one dollar

Section 408 License Fees Generally The commission shall charge and collect license fees from milk dealers on a yearly basis as follows Where a milk dealer received produced or brought within the Commonwealth during the calendar year preceding the period for which the license is issued a daily average total quantity of milk

Bonds of Milk Dealers

Section 501 Milk Dealers Required to File Bonds It shall be unlawful for a milk dealer to purchase milk from producers unless the milk dealer shall file with the commission a corporate surety individual surety or collateral bond approved by the commission if the milk dealer is delinquent in the payment to producers for milk purchased Except as otherwise herein provided the bond shall be in a sum equal to the highest aggregate amount due in any one month according to lawful prices for milk purchased by the dealer from producers during the preceding calendar year but in any event not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00) The bond shall be upon a form prescribed by the commission conditioned for the payment by the milk dealer of all amounts due including amounts due under this act and the orders of the commission for milk sold by such producers to the milk dealer during the license year upon such terms and conditions as the commission may prescribe

In the case of a milk dealer required to file a bond who pays producers in full each week for milk purchased by him from such producers the bond shall be in a sum equal to fifty per centum of the highest aggregate amount due in any one month according to lawful prices for milk purchased by the dealer from producers during the preceding calendar year but in any event not exceeding fifty thousand dollars ($50,000)

Section 502 Computation of Amount of Certain Bonds Milk purchased by milk dealer from producers outside the Commonwealth and sold by such dealers as fluid milk within Commonwealth shall be included in computing the amount of such bond except where such dealer has filed a bond for the protection of such producers with the state wherein the milk is purchased or with such producers In such computation the amount due for such milk shall be determined according to any applicable official prices or any lawful contract price

A milk dealer required to file a bond purchasing or intending to purchase milk from producers but not so engaged during any month of the preceding calendar year shall file a bond in a reasonable sum to be fixed by the commission

Section 503 Time of Filing A bond when herein required shall be filed by the dealer on order of the commission

Section 504 Requisites of Bonds Substitution A corporate surety bond shall be executed to the Commonwealth by the milk dealer as principal and by a corporate surety company authorized to do business in this Commonwealth as surety An individual surety bond shall be executed to the Commonwealth by the milk dealer as principal and by one or more individuals as surety or sureties who shall have sole title to real estate the assessed valuation of which free and clear or in excess of all encumbrances shall be at least equal to the amount of the bond A collateral bond shall be executed to the Commonwealth by the milk dealer as principal shall set forth therein the collateral posted with said bond and shall have attached thereto the collateral properly assigned and transfered to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania The collateral posted with such bond shall be cash in an amount equal to the amount of the bond or such bond shall be secured by an actual deposit with the commission or with a bank bank and trust company or national bank within the Commonwealth of money to full amount of the bond or by securities to such amount consisting of interest-bearing obligations of the United States government of this Commonwealth or of any political subdivision of this Commonwealth or by any other security or securities approved bythe commission The security or securities deposited therewith shall constitute a trust fund for producers from whom the dealer purchases milk

The commission may likewise grant to any milk dealer the authority to substitute for any bond surety or any collateral another bond surety or other collateral provided that such other bond surety or collateral meets all the requirements of this act

Section 505 Financial Statement A milk dealer shall from time to time when required by the commission make and file with the commission a verified statement of his disbursements or of any other facts in connection with his business during a period to be prescribed by the commission which financial statement shall contain the names of the producers from whom milk was purchased the amount due to the producers and any other relevant facts required by the commision pertinent to the dealer or the dealer's surety or sureties

Section 506 Increase or Decrease of Bond If it shall appear from the dealer's financial statement or from facts otherwise ascertained by the commission that the bond afforded to producers selling milk to such milk dealers does not adequately protect such producers the commission may require such milk dealer to procure an additional surety or to give an additional bond or additional security for the collateral bond in a sum to be determined by the commission which shall not exceed more than fifty per centum of the highest aggregate amount due in any one month according to the applicable prices for milk purchased by the dealer from producers during the preceding or current year and in any event not exceeding fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00) In the case of a milk dealer who pays producers in full each week for milk purchased by him from such producers any increase required hereunder shall not exceed more than twenty-five per centum of such amount and in any event shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000)

The commission may grant a reduction of the bond or the collateral or release an additional surety if it shall appear that owing to a decrease in the milk purchases of the milk dealer or to other causes a bond in a lesser amount or with fewer sureties will protect producers selling milk to such milk dealer

received by the commission from milk dealers pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be transmitted by the commission to the State Treasurer for safe-keeping subject to withdrawal in whole or in part at any time by the commission

Section 508 Interest or Dividends upon Securities The milk dealer shall be entitled to all moneys received by the State Treasurer as interest or dividends upon any security or securities deposited by such milk dealer with the commission and transmitted by the commission to the State Treasurer for safe-keeping in accordance with the provisions of this act Provided however That the milk dealer not shall be entitled to interest or dividends if there is on file with the commission a valid unpaid claim of a producer against the milk dealer based on milk sold by such producer to the milk dealer

Section 509 Suit by Commission The commission shall have the power in its discretion to sue on the bond on behalf of producers Suit may be brought in the name of the Commonwealth upon relation of the commission or of the Attorney General in such manner as debts are now by law recoverable

Section 510 Effect of Order by Commission If by valid formal order refusing suspending or revoking a license after hearing with due notice to all those liable on the bond the commission has found a milk dealer to be indebted thereunder such order shall be conclusive evidence of the amount due under such bond in a suit thereon by the commission unless an appeal therefrom is pending and a supersedeas granted

Section 511 Procedure for Disbursing Proceeds The commission may prescribe the procedure for the payment out of the proceeds of any bond or collateral required by this article of the amounts found due to producers based on sales of milk by them to a milk dealer who has posted a bond or collateral Provided however That if the proceeds of a bond which has been posted by a milk dealer shall be insufficient to pay in full the amounts due to producers who have sold milk to such milk dealer the moneys available shall be divided pro rata among such producers

Section 512 Cooperatives A cooperative agricultural association or corporation organized under the laws of this Commonwealth or a similar association organized under the laws of this or any other state shall be deemed a producer within the provisions of this article and shall be entitled to its benefits Such an association or corporation if operated for the benefit of producers under contract with it and not conducted for profit shall not be required to file a bond under the provisions of this article

Section 513 Subdealers' Bonds It shall be unlawful for a subdealer to buy milk from a milk dealer who purchases milk from producers unless the subdealer shall file with the commission a corporate surety individual surety or collateral bond approved by the commission Such bond shall be executed to the Commonwealth in a sum equal to three hundred dollars ($300.00) for each route owned or operated by the subdealer and shall be conditioned for the payment by the subdealer of all amounts due under this act and the orders of the commission for milk purchased from milk dealer or dealers during the license period subject however to the further condition that if at time of default such milk dealer or dealers are indebted to producers the proceeds thereof shall be held on the account of such dealer or dealers for th benefi of such producers Such bond shall be filed annually with the subdealer's application for a license and shall in all applicable particulars not herein specifically mentioned be subject to terms and conditions such as provided in the other sections of this article for the bonds of other milk dealers and for suits thereon except where the protection of such milk dealers selling to the subdealer or of producers selling to such milk dealers requires the substitution of such dealers and producers in applying such terms and conditions to the bonds of subdealers

Section 903 Supersedeas A special order of court permitting an appeal to act as a supersedeas may be made only after reasonable notice to the commission and shall provide that the appellant file a bond with sufficient sureties in such sum as shall be determined by the court to be necessary for the protection of producers and others during the pendency of the appeal

Section 904 Pleading and Service The appeal provided by this article from action of the commission shall be by petition against the commission officially as defendant alleging therein in brief detail the action and decision complained of and praying for a reversal thereof Such petition shall specify the petitioner's objections to the action and decision of the commission and shall state facts in support of such objections to constitute a prima facie case and any objection not so specified and supported by facts shall not be considered by the court Every such petition reciting facts shall be supported by oath or affirmation and the petition shall include as part thereof under oath or affirmation an averment that the appeal is not filed merely for purposes of delay

Upon service of a summons upon the commission returnable at least ten (10) days frorm the date of service the commission may on or before the return day file a motion to dismiss the appeal raising questions of law or attacking the form or sufficiency of the petition If such motion is not sustained the commission shall be given leave to file an answer within not less than ten (10) days after the order of the court overruling the motion

On or before the return day of such summons served upon the commission or within the time allowed in an order of the court denying a motion to dismiss an appeal the commission shall file an answer which shall deny or admit the allegations of fact in the petition and which may also allege by way of defense the grounds for its action or decision

Upon the filing of an answer by the commission the case shall be at issue without further pleadings and upon application of either party the case shall be advanced and heard without further delay

Section 905 Certification of Record The commission shall on the return day of such summons or within a reasonable time thereafter certify to the court the record of the proceedings to which the petition refers Such record shall include the testimony taken therein the findings of fact of the commission a copy of all orders made by the commission pertaining to the proceedings and a copy of the order action or decision of the commission which the petition calls upon the court to reverse

Section 906 Scope of Inquiry Mere technical irregularities in the proceduce of the commission shall not be the basis of the decision of the court

In an appeal from an order or decision of the commission applying only to the particular person or persons named therein the case shall be heard upon the record certified to the court by the commission Additional testimony shall not be taken before the court but the court may in proper cases remit the record to the commission for the taking of further testimony

In an appeal from any general order of the commission the case shall be heard by the court and testimony may be taken Provided however That nothing herein shall be construed as relieving the appellant from submitting all essential facts in the first instance to the commission at its hearing held prior to the issuance of such order All or any relevant part of the record certified to the court shall be admitted in evidence by order of the court or upon motion of either party Wherever the petition and answer raise questions of fact the petitioner or appellant shall proceed with evidence in support of the facts alleged in his petition The commission shall then present evidence in support of the answer which evidence may consist of or include the record or any part thereof Any part of the record certified to the court which is not based on technical rules of evidence customary in actions at law shall not be disregarded by the court merely because of the violation of such rules

Upon any appeal the court shall determine whether or not the order appealed from is reasonable and in conformity with law The appellant shall have the burden of proving that an order of the commission is unreasonable or illegal If the court shall determine that the order is unreasonable or illegal it shall remit the case to the commission with directions to reform the findings or order or to revoke the order in accordance with the court's opinion

Section 907 Costs The court shall have full power to assess the costs upon either party or to divide them between the parties

Section 908 Jurisdiction of Superior and Supreme Courts From the decision of a court of common pleas upon an appeal from an order of the commission applying only to the particular person or persons named therein an appeal may be taken by either party to the Superior Court of Pennsylvania in the manner provided by law From the decision of a court of common pleas upon an appeal from a general rule regulation or order of the commission an appeal may be taken by either party to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in the manner provided by law

Section 1302 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I think almost every member of this House has respect for the Chair, and has respect for the efforts that the Chair continuously has made to secure order. I have heard you during the last ten minutes on three different occasions asking that the space back of the rail be cleared and that there be some semblance of order. Last week we lost from half to three-quarters of an hour every day trying to secure order in the House, and it does not seem to me that we who are here for the purpose of doing business and who want to do it should be continually delayed by conferences being held back of the rail.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman on his personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal. The Chair wishes to thank the gentleman from Delaware.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the sponsor of the bill, the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Arnold, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ARNOLD. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of the bill how the Milk Control Board is made up under the provisions of this act?

Mr. ARNOLD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as the act now stands, the Milk Control Board consist of three men named by the Governor, to be confirmed by the Senate, one for two years, another for four years and another for six years, and after that they will be named for six year terms.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, what are the qualifications of the members of the board?

Mr. ARNOLD. As to qualifications, Mr. Speaker, I think they remain, as we intended that they should be residents of the United States. There was an amendment put in but I do not think that effected it in that respect other than that.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, was there any other qualification than that?

Mr. ARNOLD. As I understand it, a citizen of the United States.

Mr. TURNER. Not chosen for any particular occupation or qualification, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. ARNOLD. That is naturally presumed, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. That is naturally presumed, but it does not follow that the act sets forth any particular qualification other than being a citizen of the United States and I presume that means of the State of Pennsylvania, is that correct?

Mr. ARNOLD. It is, as I understand it, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. And that, Mr. Speaker, is the same as in the present Milk Control Act?

Mr. ARNOLD. As I understand, the present Milk Control Act, Mr. Speaker, has some further restrictions, that is with reference to being residents of Pennsylvania for some time past. I don't know for how long.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the Chaplain in his opening prayer tonight before the House remarked on the spirit of good feeling that was in the House and also gave thanks for the opportunities we have. Now, I have an opportunity here tonight to demonstrate further the good feeling that exists in the House. One of the officials of the Commonwealth is laid low tonight with an ailment that some of us have had during our youth, and I think that this bill is entirely unfair to him, and in his stricken condition, suffering from the mumps in the executive mansion, I want to take up the cudgels for the Governor tonight. It is a rather peculiar position for me to be in, and one rather hard for you Democrats to recognize, but just the same I want to carry out the injunction of the Chaplain of this House tonight.

There is no provision in this act that the Governor shall be a member of the Board. During the campaign of 1934 when the Governor was a candidate for his present position he said to the people of Pennsylvania on one occasion, "I pledge a new milk control law with teeth in it which will be fair to consumers and milk producers. I propose the creation of a Milk Control Board, on which I will sit, together with one dairy farmer and one consumer." Then again he said, "As Governor and as a member of the Milk Control Board, I will take full responsibility for the handling of the milk problem." Again he said, "I believe the Milk Control Board is so important that the Governor of the State, in person, should act as its chairman. And that one farmer and one consumer should form the remainder of the board. As I see it, the interests of the farmer and the consumer are really identical in the milk situation. The main objective of both groups is to increase the sale of milk." Of course that is rather interesting to me from the standpoint of a consumer. I am on the consumer's side, I am not interested in the increase in the sale of milk, I like to keep it down in my own home. Again "This can be done by lowering the retail price without lowering the farm price."

I appreciate how much the farmers and their representatives on the Democratic side have labored over this situation. It think it was on the first day of the session they started to work on this bill and every day we had an announcement that the sub-Committee of the Committee on Agriculture on the Milk Control bill would meet tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock and at 12:00 noon, when we tried to get into the committee rooms, they were still meeting and considering it, and I know they have labored long on this bill, but it does seem to me unfair,—and I hope none of my Republican friends took part in those considerations and deliberations that excluded the Governor from the Milk Control Board. I understand that he was kept from sitting on the Board in 1935 by a letter from the Attorney General to the effect that the Governor could not sit on the Board. I don't know why Charlie wrote that kind of a letter unless it was to let the Governor out of a hole, but just now, knowing how he is feeling I know how he will be cheered by these words that I am uttering, because I know he wants to get on the Milk Control Board so that he can reduce its price, because he said in 1934 that the retail price of milk would be reduced by one cent a quart to the consumer while the farmer received one cent more per quart from the dealer.

Now, I have made investigation and inquiry and I cannot find that the consumer is getting any lower price. They tell me that in some parts of the state the producer has been benefited somewhat by the Milk Control Act, but as far as the consumer is concerned there has not been any reduction. I feel that if we let the Governor sit on this Board after he gets over the mumps and he can talk again, we can get some action and get a reduction in the price of milk. I think the committee ought to take this bill back again and amend it and put it in form so that the Governor will have an opportunity to sit on this Board. I notice also there is no provision for the consumer to sit on this Board. It all seems to be for the farmers and distributors of milk, but we consumers who are struggling to pay the price that is being charged by these producers and dispensers ought to have some say in the Milk Control Board, or at least we would be happy if the Governor could sit on the Board because I feel that in his present condition he more than likely will need some milk.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1305, as follows:

An Act to amend sections twenty-nine and thirty-one of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws 207) entitled 'An act providing when how upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements for the removal of nuisances and for water rents or rates sewer rates and lighting rates for the procedure upon claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effort of judicial sales of the properties liened the distribution of the proceeds of such sales and the redemption of the property therefrom for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed within six months before the passage of this act and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly" by providing that under certain circumstances a municipality may purchase for the sheriff's costs subject to the lien of taxes and municipal claims property sold to satisfy a judgment on a tax or municipal claim and providing for the management and disposition of said property after said sale

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That sections twenty-nine and thirty-one of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws 207) entitled "An act providing when how upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements for the removal of nuisances and for water rents or rates sewer rates and lighting rates for the procedure upon claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened the distribution of the proceeds of such sales and the redemption of the property therefrom for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed within six months before the passage of this act and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 29 The plaintiff in any judgment recovered on a tax or municipal claim may upon paying the sheriff's costs fix an upset price to be realized at any sale under such judgment sufficient to pay all taxes and municipal claims and all accrued but unfiled taxes and claims in full No sale shall be made on a judgment recovered on a tax or municipal claim except for a sum sufficient to pay all taxes and municipal claims in full except as hereinafter provided and the plaintiff in such judgment may purchase the property at such sale for that sum if no one bids a higher price therefore except when a municipality is the real plaintiff in such judgment and no one else bids a sum sufficient to pay sheriff's costs and all taxes and municipal claims in full said municipality may purchase the property for the sheriff's costs thereon subject to the lien of all taxes and municipal claims

Upon a purchase by a municipality for the sheriff's costs any income received from the property by the municipality in excess of that necessary for the upkeep of said property and the payment of insurance premiums thereon and the cost of improvements thereto shall be applied to the payment of the costs of sale then to payment of all taxes liened and unliened in the order of their priority the oldest being paid first and then to municipal claims in the same order

Section 31 The lien of a tax or a municipal claim shall not be divested by any judicial sale of the property liened where the amount due is indefinite or undetermined or where the same is not due and payable nor shall the lien of a tax or municipal claim be divested by any judicial sale of the property liened as respects so much thereof as the proceeds of such sale may be insufficient to discharge nor except as hereinafter provided shall a judicial sale of the property liened under a judgment obtained on a tax or municipal claim discharge the lien of any other tax or municipal claim than that upon which said sale is had except to the extent that the proceeds realized are sufficient for its payment after paying the costs and expenses of the sale and of the writ upon which it was made and any other prior tax or municipal claims to which the fund may first be applicable. On any such sale being made all tax claims shall be paid out of the proceeds thereof first the oldest tax having priority and municipal claims shall be paid next the oldest in point of lien having priority Mortgages ground-rents and other charges on or estates in the property which were recorded or created where recording is not required before any tax other than for the current year accrue or before the actual doing of the work in front of or upon the particular property for which the municipal claim is filed shall not be disturbed by such sale unless a prior lien is also discharged thereby

In case the property be not sold for a sum sufficient to pay all taxes and municipal claims together with the costs thereon the plaintiff in any such claim may postpone the sale without paymenf of costs and file his petition setting forth that more than one year has elapsed since the filing of his claim that he has exposed the property to sheriff's sale thereunder and was unable to obtain a bid sufficient to pay the upset price in full and if a municipal claimant other than a municipality that he will bid sufficient to pay the upset price and upon the production of searches or a title insurance policy showing the state of the record and the ownership of the property and of all tax and municipal claims mortgages ground-rents or other charges on or estates in the land the court shall grant a rule upon all parties thus shown to be interested to appear and show cause why a decree should not be made that said property be sold freed and cleared of their respective claims mortgages charges and estates Notice to interested parties shall be given as heretofore provided in section eighteen herein and in addition thereto notice shall be sent to any mortgagee residing without this Commonwealth where no personal service has been made and where the address of the mortgagee is given in the mortgage Said notice to be mailed at the time of the first advertisement when advertisement is made as provided in said section eighteen If upon a hearing thereafter the court is satisfied that service has been made of said rule upon the parties respondent in the manner provided and that the facts stated in the petition be true it shall order and decree that said property be sold at a subsequent sheriff's sale day to be fixed by the court without further advertisement to the highest bidder at such sale free and clear of all claims liens mortgages charges and estates [to the highest bidder at such sale] except such tax and municipal claims as the proceeds of the sale may be insufficient to pay the lien of which shall not be divested and the proceeds realized therefrom shall be distributed in accordance with the priority of such claims and the purchaser at such sale shall take and forever thereafter have an absolute title to the property sold free and discharged of all tax and municipal claims liens mortgages charges and estates of whatsoever kind except such tax and municipal claims as are not divested under the provisions of this section subject only to the right of redemption as provided [by law] in section thirty-two herein

Any person interested may at any time before the sale pay the petitioner the whole of his claim with interest and costs whereupon the proceedings on petition shall at once determine

For the purpose of enabling the petitioner in any such proceedings to give the notice required he may take the testimony of the defendant in the claim or of any other person whom he may have reason to believe has knowledge of the whereabouts of any of the parties respondent either by disposition commission or letters rogatory

Any county municipality township or school district being a claimant shall have the right and is hereby empowered to bid and become the purchaser of the property at such sale and while the said property so purchased is held and owned by either a county or a municipality township or school district it shall not be subject to tax claims unless it is redeemed by the former owner or other person having the right to redeem as provided by law If however a county municipality township or school district shall become the purchaser at said sale the former owner or other person desiring to redeem shall pay all taxes and municipal claims accrued and chargeable against the property prior to the sale thereof together with the costs and interest thereon and also all taxes and claims whether filed or not which would have accrued and become chargeable against the property had the same been purchased at the sale by same party other than the county city or other municipal division

Upon the delivery by the sheriff of a deed for any property sold under a tax or municipal claim the judgment upon which such sale was had shall thereupon and forever thereafter be final and conclusive as to all matters of defense which could have been raised in the proceeding including payment and no error or irregularity in obtaining or entering of such judgment shall affect the validity thereof

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of a public hearing.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1474, as follows:

An Act to amend section fifteen of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws 207) entitled "An act providing when how upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements for the removal of nuisances and for water rents or rates sewer rates and lighting rates for the procedure upon claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened the distribution of the proceeds of such sales and the redemption of the property therefrom for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed within six months before the passage of this act and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly" by permitting the revival of other than tax claims by a suggestion of non-payment and averment of default before or after judgment on scire facias

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section fifteen of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws 207) entitled "An act providing when how upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements for the removal of nuisances and for water rents or rates sewer rates and lighting rates for the procedure upon claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened the distribution of the proceeds of such sales and the redemption of the property therefrom for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed within six months before the passage of this act and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 15 Such tax municipal or other claim if filed within the period aforesaid shall remain a lien upon said properties until fully paid and satisfied Provided however That either a suggestion of non-payment and an averment of default in the form hereinafter provided be filed [in cases of tax claims] either before or after judgment on the scire facias [and in cases of other than tax claims after judgment on the scire facias] or else a writ of scire facias in the form herein provided be issued to revive the same within each period of five years following (a) the date on which said claim was filed (b) the date on which a writ of scire facias was issued thereon (c) the date on which any judgment was entered thereon (d) the date on which a previous suggestion of non-payment and default was filed thereon or (e) the date on which a judgment of revival was obtained thereon

The suggestion and averment shall be in the following form under the caption of the claim

And now ..... the claimant by ..... his solictor suggests of record that the above claim is still due and owing to the claimant and avers that the owner is still in default for non-payment thereof The prothonotary is hereby directed to enter this suggestion and averment on the municipal lien or the proper docket of the claim and also to index it upon the judgment index and on the locality index of the court for the purpose of continuing the lien of the claim

Such suggestion and averment must be signed by the solicitor or chief executive officer of the claimant The prothonotary shall docket and index the suggestion and averment directed therein and for such services shall be entitled to a fee of one dollar to be taxed and collected as other costs in the claim The filing and indexing of such suggestion and averment within five years of filing the claim or the issuing of any writ of scire facias thereon or of any judgment thereon or of the filing of any prior suggestion and averment of default shall have the same force and effect for the purposes of continuing and preserving the lien of the claim as though a writ of scire facias had been issued or a judgment of revival had been obtained within such period Provided That no writ of levari facias shall be issued upon a claim for the purpose of exposing the property liened to sheriff's sale except after a judgment shall have been duly obtained upon the claim as provided in this section and such judgment must have been obtained within five years of the issuance of the levari facias Whenever the lien of a claim has been revived and continued by the filing and indexing of a suggestion and averment of default the claimant may at any time within five years therefrom issue a writ of scire facias thereon reciting all suggestion and averment of default filed since the filing of the claim and shall proceed thereon in the manner herein provided subject to the right of the owner to raise any defense arising since the last judgment

If a claim is not filed within the time aforesaid or if it be not prosecuted in the manner and at the time aforesaid its lien on real estate shall be wholly lost

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2200 (Senate Bill No. 425), entitled:

An Act for the protection of the health and welfare of women and minors by regulating under the police power the minimum fair wages which shall be paid by employers providing for wage boards and defining the powers and duties of such boards and of the Department of Labor and Industry imposing duties on employers providing for directory and mandatory orders on employers and the publication of the names of employers who do not comply with such orders and providing penalties

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Factual Background Women and minors are employed in some occupations in trade and industry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for wages unreasonably low and not fairly commensurate with the value of the services rendered Such a condition is contrary to public interest and public policy commands its regulation Women and minors employed in such industries are not as a class on a level of equality in bargaining with their employers in regard to minimum fair wage standards and "freedom of contract" as applied to their relations with their employers is illusory Judged by any reasonable standard wages in such industries are often found to bear no relation to the fair value of the services rendered Women and minors employed for gain in such occupations are peculiarly subject to the overreaching of inefficient harsh or ignorant employers and under unregulated competition where no adequate machinery exists for the effective regulation and maintenance of minimum fair wage standards the standards such as exist tend to be set by the least conscionable employers In the absence of any effective minimum fair wage rates for women and minors the constant lowering of wages by unscrupulous employers constitutes a serious form of unfair competition against other employers reduces the purchasing power of the workers and threatens the stability of industry The evils of oppressive unreasonable and unfair wages as they affect women and minors employed in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are such as to render imperative the exercise of the police power of the Commonwealth for the protection of industry and of the women and minors employed therein and of the public interest of the community at large in their health and well being

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Labor for the purpose of amendment.

On the question,

BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, House Bill No. 500 intends to abolish tax collectors in the various counties of Pennsylvania with the exception of tax collectors in the first class counties. It has one debatable feature or merit to appeal to the members of the House. That merit is that perhaps it might reduce the cost of the collection of taxes in Pennsylvania. However, as I have stated before, that is indeed a debatable question and I do not intend, at the present moment at least, to go into detail relative to that save to say that even though it may reduce the cost of the collection of taxes it will do so at a cost to the efficiency of the collection of the taxes.

I presume that the sponsor of the bill will say that it is an effort to carry out the program of the Democratic party when we pledged ourselves to take care of and reduce the cost of collection of taxes in the State of Pennsylvania and it is on that thought that the sponsor of the bill undoubtedly will ask the members or at least the Democratic members of this House to vote for the bill.

I want at this time to call to the attention of the members of the House the fact that there is at the present time in the Senate on the second reading calendar a bill introduced by Senator Mundy of Luzerne County, Senate Bill No. 566 that undoubtedly goes in a great measure further to carry out the program of the Democratic party than does House Bill No. 500. That bill does not, like this bill endeavor to crucify and destroy the tax collectors in the State of Pennsylvania in order to eliminate and destroy evils existing perhaps in some twenty or thirty communities in the State. That bill endeavors to regulate and reduce the salaries to such a point that the compensation will be in line with the amount of services they render. That bill is well on its way toward this House and before the week is over that bill will be in our possession. We will then be in a position to consider it and give it the proper consideration to which it is entitled, and we will be in a position, Mr. Speaker, to proceed to approach this problem not with the thought of destroying and annihilating, but rather with the thought of doing something constructive that will still be in line with the program of the Democratic party.

It is with that thought in mind, Mr. Speaker, that I now move that House Bill No. 500 be placed on the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I understand by the motion just made by the gentleman from Monroe that it is not permissible to discuss the merits of this bill at this time, but I wish to impress upon the membership of the House the fact that up to the present time we in this House do not have Senate Bill No. 566,—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is out of order. He is debating the motion before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. A motion to lay on the table is not debatable unless the gentleman from Monroe withdraws his motion.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, is Senate Bill No. 566 now in the possession of the House?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is out of order since the question of parliamentary inquiry is in the line of debate.

The SPEAKER. The point of order of the gentleman from Monroe is well taken. There is nothing before the House except the motion of the gentleman from Monroe.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, since the gentleman from Monroe apparently wants to avoid any possibility of debate on Senate Bill No. 566, I am wondering whether he would be willing to withdraw his motion temporarily for the purpose of interrogation.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe, at the request of the gentleman from Franklin, withdraw his motion temporarily?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I will not, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman refuses to withdraw his motion.

Mr. MOOMAW. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. ACHTERMAN and Mr. AUKERMAN.

Mr. PIOLE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schor, vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. SCHOR. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Yourishin, vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SCHOR. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations for the purpose of further study and amendment.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2163 (Senate Bill No. 49), entitled:

An Act to amend clause one of section one of the act, approved the second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 1433), entitled "An act defining the powers of the courts of quarter sessions, the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, and the County or Juvenile Court of Allegheny County, with respect to the care, guidance, control, trial, placement and commitment of delinquent, dependent and neglected children under sixteen years of age and of persons over sixteen years of age contributing to or encouraging the delinquency, neglect and dependency of children; and amending, revising, and consolidating the law relating thereto," defining the Family Court of Phildelphia as a court having jurisdiction with respect to the care, guidance, control, placement and commitment of delinquent, neglected and dependent children under sixteen years of age; and eliminating the Municipal Court in the County of Philadelphia as a court having such jurisdiction.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2164 (Senate Bill No. 58), entitled:

An Act to amend section eleven as amended and to repeal section ten of the act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred eleven) entitled "An act establishing a court for the County of Philadelphia prescribing its jurisdiction and powers providing for the service of its writs process or warrants by the proper officers of the County or City of Philadelphia regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof" taking from said court jurisdiction in civil and criminal actions and in equity.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1200, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation out of the Motor License Fund to the Department of Highways for expenditure in the various second-class townships of the Commonwealth for the maintenance of township roads and bridges during the calendar years one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight and one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine apportioning the funds to the several counties on the basis of the maintenance costs for the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-two permitting the use of any surplus funds for construction and reconstruction and resurfacing of township roads and bridges requiring townships to exclude provision for maintenance of roads and bridges from their annual budget and tax levy for road and street purposes for said years authorizing the Department of Highways to rent road building machinery and equipment belonging to such townships in carrying out the provisions of this act and lapsing the unexpended or unencumbered balance of the appropriation remaining on January first one thousand nine hundred forty

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of eight million five hundred and fifty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to the Department of Highways for the two calendar years beginning January first one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight out of the Motor License Fund for expenditure in the various townships of the second class of the Commonwealth in the amounts upon the terms in the manner and for the purposes hereinafter set forth in this act

Section 2 The moneys hereby appropriated shall be apportioned by the Department of Highways among the several counties of this Commonwealth on the basis of the average per mile cost of maintaining the township roads and bridges in the townships of the second class in each county as reported in the annual financial reports of the boards of supervisors to the Department of Highways for the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-two multiplied by the number of miles of second-class township roads in such county as of January first one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight

Of the amount apportioned to the several counties as hereinbefore provided the Department of Highways shall expend in each of the townships of the second class for the maintenance and repair of township roads and bridges therein not repaired and maintained by the Department of Highways under the provisions of any other law such portion of the amount apportioned to the county as the Secretary of Highways shall deem necessary for the proper maintenance and repair of the township roads and bridges in any such county

Section 3 Any surplus of the funds apportioned to a county under this act over the amount required for maintenance and repair may with the approval of the Secretary of Highways be expended in any such county by the Department of Highways in the construction and reconstruction and resurfacing of any township road or bridge in the townships of the second class which is not maintained by the Department of Highways under the provisions of any other law Nothing herein contained shall prevent the use of any of the aforesaid surplus for Federal projects sponsored by the township supervisors and approved by the Secretary of Highways

Section 4 Nothing in this act shall be construed to relieve any of the second-class townships from any obligation they may have incurred under any contract or agreement entered into prior to January first one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight for the construction or repair of any highway or structure now under their jurisdiction

Section 5 The board of supervisors of townships of the second class shall at the time of the adoption of the annual budget and at the time of fixing the road tax levy for the years one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight and one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine exclude from the said annual budget and tax levy for road and street purposes any provision for the maintenance and repair of the roads and bridges Nothing herein contained shall prevent any township from making proper provisions for interest sinking fund debt repayment charges snow removal resurfacing construction reconstruction obligations incurred under any contract or agreement such other administrative and overhead expenses as may be necessary and for any other purposes other than for maintenance and repair of the roads and bridges

Section 6 The Department of Highways is hereby authorized to rent from the several second-class townships any road building machinery or equipment now or hereafter owned by such municipality for use under the provisions of this act in the maintenance resurfacing reconstruction and construction of any township road or bridge either in or outside of the legal limits of the township owning the equipment at such rentals or rates as the Department of Highways shall deem reasonable The duly elected road supervisors of each township subject to the approval of the Secretary of Highways may be employed by the Department of Highways in the work to be done under the provisions of this act

Section 7 Any balance of the funds appropriated by this act which shall remain unexpended or unencumbered on January first one thousand nine hundred forty shall lapse upon that date and become a part of the Motor License Fund

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, House Bill 1200, before us for action, is one of those bills purporting to benefit Second Class Townships, but in reality is merely a crudely disguised attempt to oust another element of Home Rule Government.

In addition to being ridiculous, the bill is unfair and dangerous. By its terms we are asked to appropriate eight and one-half millions of dollars to the Department of Highways, subject to the restriction that if any of it be expended during the years 1938-1939, such expenditure will be made upon the roads and bridges of the Second Class Townships.

Under existing laws, and unchanged by this bill, locally elected supervisors of those townships are under the responsibility to maintain such roads and bridges, and for failure to do so properly are subject to suit and possible ouster from office.

Yet regardless thereof, and perhaps because of, and without relieving the supervisors of this responsibility, we are asked to contribute eight and one-half millions to a State Department for the same purpose, and with little if any practical limitation upon the amount of the specific objects of its expenditures.

However, under Section V of the bill these supervisors are prohibited from levying local taxes for road or street maintenance during the period of the act. Therefore should the State Department fail to maintain properly the roads and bridges of the many Second Class Townships, then the locally elected officials are left holding the bag, subject to suit and possible ouster for the failure upon the part of a Department over which they exercise no control.

And in view of the many complaints registered as to the failure of that same Department to maintain properly unimproved State Highways last winter, it is very probable that similar failures can be expected if this bill ever becomes the law.

I feel that this bill, even at its best, is but a crude attempt to "blackjack" another group of locally elected and responsible officials out of office.

For the bill does not make mandatory that the Highway Department spend this eight and one-half millions of dollars, nor any part thereof. In fact, it would place a premium upon its non-expenditure. In this particular deck the joker is contained in Section VII which provides—

"That any balance of the funds appropriated by this act which shall remain unexpended or unencumbered on January 1, 1940, shall lapse upon that date and become part of the Motor License Fund."

To realize who gets the trimming in a game played with a joker such as this, remember H. B. 1189 recently passed by this House. That bill repealed an appropriation made by the Legislature in 1935, wherein nine million was appropriated to this same Highway Department for expenditure upon these same roads, but contained therein was the provision that the unexpended portion (estimated by the Governor in his budget as over two and one-half millions of dollars) should be turned over to the supervisors of Second Class Townships for expenditure by them.

In reliance upon, and in anticipation thereof, the supervisors reduced local taxes. After this—we sought to repeal the act and stop the payment. Yes—a clever card shark can do a lot with a joker like this clause.

This bill will accomplish no economy, assures no improvement in the maintenance and repairs of our Second Class Township roads. Under it there will be no general reduction at home.

Supervisors will still continue to levy taxes for any and all purposes other than maintenance and repair, and what lawyer, legislator or engineer can or will properly define where maintenance and repair stop or start.

After the experience of H. B. 1189, and having been once tricked into tax reduction in anticipation of promised funds, later withdrawn, what sane supervisor will play sucker again and once more reduce his taxes in compliance with provisions of a bill like this which leaves uncertain not only the amount that will be expended in his particular township, but also makes extremely doubtful whether any of the money will be so spent.

The proposed economy is ridiculous. The bill merely takes away from the supervisors the maintenance and repair of the roads.

Of all the duties imposed upon township supervisors, this is the one phase of the work in which engineers agree can be done more economically by the supervisors than by the State. Figure it out any way you desire and it still comes back to the one outstanding purpose—"blackjack" local officials out of office, regardless of the cost to the public.

Just a word to you members representing Second Class Townships as to the political significance of this bill. Under its terms your people receive no assurance that any of this appropriation will be expended upon their particular roads or bridges. Instead the spending of this vast amount will be vested in the discretion of the Secretary of Highways. Your wishes, the wishes of your people notwithstanding, subject only to the whim of the Secretary, the money allocated to any county can and may be spent in any one township regardless of the needs and desires of the other townships in that county.

Based on past experience, both you and I know that such allocations would be made more on the basis of political expediency than of need, that it would breed discrimination of the rankest kind, that no township, large or small, can be assured of its right and just share of the tax money it helped contribute.

Well, you are practical politicians. It is your township roads in which your voters are interested, that will be affected by this bill. And if you deem it advisable to subject your roads, your votes to the political mercy of a Secretary of Highways, it is your privilege so to do.

If you favor the political bickering, contention that is bound to occur in these allocations, it is your privilege so to do. It is your people, your citizens, your voters, to whom you must answer in the days to come.

Being of the opinion that the bill is faulty in design, impractical of execution, dangerous in operation, and in violation of fair play to elected officials, I will vote "no".

Mr. HOLSTROM. Mr. Speaker, I will say just one word on this bill, that I have faith in the Secretary of Highways of this Commonwealth and feel confident that in the allocation of funds that he intends to make under this bill the second class roads of this Commonwealth will be amply taken care of and that the Secretary of Highways has started a wonderful program and I cannot see how he would fail the people of this Commonwealth under the provisions of this act.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Perry.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PERRY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman of the opinion that the local taxpayer should continue to maintain our dirt roads through local taxation as has formerly been the plan?

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I did not quite get the question asked by the gentleman.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that the local taxpayer should continue to maintain the roads through property taxation?

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I feel that the supervisors are in better position to maintain the township roads than the State Highway Department is prepared under the terms of this bill, and that they will be better served if the appropriation is made as it was made under the Furman Act rather than as it is proposed in this act; that the supervisors, the locally elected responsible officials of the townships should be vested with that power because if we are dissatisfied with them we can vote them out of office and put the proper men in.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel then that there would be any danger of our local authorities burdening the taxpayer with exceptionally heavy taxes that are not necessary with this enactment that we are now proposing. In other words, does the gentleman think there is going to be imposed additional millage where it is not needed? Does the gentleman think that the taxpayers would permit it? I think the gentleman mentioned a while ago that they could levy any millage they proposed to levy.

Mr. PERRY. My statement, Mr. Speaker, was that they were prohibited under this bill from levying any tax during the period of the act for maintenance, but are not restricted as to improvements on their improved highways.

Mr. WESTRICK. That is right, Mr. Speaker, but does not the gentleman suppose that the local authorities are going to be governed by the reaction of the citizens of that community.

Mr. PERRY. I cannot tell, Mr. Speaker, without going into that particular community, their reaction to it.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, Didn't the gentleman say a while ago that he expected the local authorities to react to the sentiment of that particular community.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer the question as to the reaction that we could expect in the particular district. My statement was that this is under the guise of tax reduction for the local community. This act is ridiculous in the manner in which it attempts to accomplish any reduction in taxes.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that it is fair that each mile of highway should receive the same allotment from our State Highway fund?

Mr. PERRY. I haven't made such statement, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, under the Furman Act is that not the case? Did not each mile of highways receive the same allotment?

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I wouldn't say that was the entire test of that act. The part that I mentioned of the Furman Act was that that act after a specific understanding and agreement between that Department and officials was to the effect that the unexpended portion after a certain date was to be turned over to the supervisors so that they might comply with the duties of their office and based on the honor and integrity of that appropriation they have reduced their local taxes and therefore eliminated a portion of the revenue necessary to carry on their duties and responsibilities.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that each mile of township highway requires the same allotment of funds to carry on and maintain that mile of highway in a decent condition.

Mr. PERRY. Not being an engineer, Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer the question that each mile of highway would necessarily receive exactly the same appropriation as another mile of highway, because certain factors and certain elements enter into the cost of the construction, the maintenance, the policing, and so forth of that particular mileage and I can readily imagine that there are some miles which require much more expenditure than would other miles.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, I am glad the gentleman appreciates that fact. Then doesn't he think that if the State Highway Department were to handle these funds that that money would be appropriated to the miles needing the funds.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I am not so optimistic in my view of appropriations made to an individual, vesting in that individual the discretion to spend eight and a half million dollars with no practical limitations or restrictions on it. I am not so optimistic as to hope that that individual can do just as fair a piece of work as the duly elected officials in the townships of the Commonwealth. I feel that the appropriation puts a premium upon distribution according to political expediency and upon vote getting ability rather than upon the needs of the highways themselves.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman mean to tell this House that our township roads under the local proposition or the local supervisors have always been kept in good shape?

I believe he made a statement like that a while ago.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I would not say that they have always been in good shape, but I would go a step further and say that they have been in as good shape as some of the State highways over the past winter.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman state the percentage?

Mr. PERRY. I cannot tell you that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, what percentage of the roads have been kept in good shape?

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I would rather not give an estimate because it would be from pure guess work at the present moment.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2157 (Senate Bill No. 638), as follows:

An Act to further amend section four of the act approved the eighteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws 498) entitled "An act defining consolidation of schools providing for the establishment and regulation of consolidated schools and providing for the transportation of pupils to and from consolidated schools" by making certain changes in the provisions for reimbursements by the Commonwealth

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the second and third paragraphs of section four of the act approved the eighteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws 498) entitled "An act defining consolidation of schools providing for the establishment and regulation of consolidated schools and providing for the transportation of pupils to and from consolidated schools" as last amended by section four of the act approved on the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws 634) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 The Commonwealth in order to encourage the establishment and maintenance of approved consolidated elementary schools or approved consolidated junior high schools or approved joint consolidated schools shall as provided in this act pay annually from the treasury to school districts and unions of school districts maintaining or transporting pupils to and from such schools an amount determined by (a) the true valuation per teacher per district as provided by law and (b) a given per centum of the sum which has been expended during the previous school year by such a school district or union of school districts for transporting pupils of said schools to and from said schools as follows

The amount paid by the Commonwealth to a school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or less shall be seventy-five (75%) per centum more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) to one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) sixty (60%) per centum and more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) fifty (50%) per centum After the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine if the Department of Public Instruction approves the transportation as to methods and means and the contracts provided therefor the Commonwealth will pay annually to the school district furnishing such transportation according to the following schedule of reimbursement Provided That in case any of said school district or union of said school districts has purchased or shall hereafter purchase an approved conveyance which is used exclusively for the transportation of school children to and from said schools said sum may include a reasonable charge for depreciation and repairs not to exceed in any year fifteen (15%) per centum of the cost of said approved school conveyance Provided That the State's share of depreciation and repairs shall not exceed two hundred dollars ($200) [one hundred dollars ($100)] per vehicle per year Provided further That the State's share for transportation shall not exceed one dollar ($1.00) per day per pupil for the actual number of days such pupil is transported to and from school Provided further That districts receiving reimbursement on the basis of seventy-five (75%) per centum and sixty (60%) per centum shall not receive more than four thousand dollars ($4,000) in any one school year from the State for transportation Provided further That districts receiving reimbursement on the basis of fifty (50%) per centum shall not receive more than three thousand dollars ($3,000) in any one year from the State for transportation

After the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine the provision heretofore limiting reimbursement for transportation to a maximum of four thousand dollars ($4,000) in districts reimbursed on the basis of seventy-five per centum (75%) and sixty per centum (60%) and three thousand dollars ($3,000) in districts reimbursed on the basis of fifty per centum (50%) shall no longer apply but no district shall receive from the Commonwealth in any one year more than eight thousand dollars ($8,000) as reimbursement for transportation

The State Council of Education may for cause specified by it direct the withholding of such reimbursement in any given case permanently or until the school district has complied with the law or regulations of the State Council of Education

It shall be unlawful for any driver or owner of a vehicle transporting pupils under a contract with a school district or for any member of or board of school directors to demand request or accept any compensation for transporting pupils other than the compensation stipulated in the contract filed with and approved by the Department of Public Instruction

Section 2 Except as hereinbefore otherwise provided the provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven

NAYS—3

Lopresti,	O'Connor,	Serrill,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2152 (Senate Bill No. 558), as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by changing the method of computing reimbursement to be made to school districts for the payment of high school tuition

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one thousand seven hundred and eleven-A of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as last amended by section thirty-eight of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws 243) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1711-A The Commonwealth shall reimburse a school district with a true valuation of assessable property per teacher of less than one hundred thousand dollars for high school tuition when such district is required to pay tuition for pupils attending high school in another district Provided That the percentage of the minimum salaries of teachers paid by the Commonwealth is higher in the school district where the pupils reside than in the district where they attend high school The amount of State reimbursement for high school tuition shall be the percentage of such tuition as is equal to the excess in the percentage of teachers salaries paid by the Commonwealth in the district where the pupils reside over the percentage of teachers salaries paid by the Commonwealth in the district where the pupils attend Provided That the amount paid by the Commonwealth to a school district for the tuition of any high school pupil shall not exceed twenty dollars ($20.00) a year

After the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine the provisions of the first paragraph of this section shall no longer apply but the Commonwealth shall reimburse each school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) or less sixty per centum (60%) of the expenditure for high school tuition each school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) but not more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) fifty-five per centum (55%) of the expenditure for high school tuition each school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than fifty thousand ($50,000) but not more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) fifty per centum (50%) of the expenditure for high school tuition each school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) but not more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) forty-five per centum (45%) of the expenditure for high school tuition each school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) but not more than one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) forty per centum (40%) of the expenditure for high school tuition each school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than one hundred fifty thousnd dollars ($150,000) but not more than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) thirty-five per centum (35%) of the expenditure for high school tuition and each school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) but not more than two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) thirty per centum (30%) of the expenditure for high school tuition

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 608, as follows:

An Act abolishing capital punishment and providing for the substitution of a life sentence in lieu thereof repealing inconsistent legislation and providing that this act shall not apply to any case in which it shall appear that the said crime was committed prior to the date of the approval of this act

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That on and after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful for any court judge jury body or person to impose a sentence under which any person is to suffer death by electrocution hanging or any other means

Section 2 Where any statute now provides that a death sentence shall be imposed the court shall impose a life sentence in lieu thereof

Section 3 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed Provided however That the provisions of this act shall not apply to any case in which it shall appear that the said crime was committed prior to the date of the approval of this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHOR. Mr. Speaker, it is with some regret that I take this opportunity to urge upon the members of this House the passage of this bill. This feeling of regret is based on the fact that for years Pennsylvania has lagged behind other states which have seen fit to take a step forward in the progress of civilization and of modern penology. The principal contention of those who have long advocated capital punishment is that capital punishment acts as a deterrent.

In the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania over a period of a few years we had five hundred fifty cases of homocide. Of those there were one hundred fifty arrests and the total number executed was five. At the public hearing which was held on this bill we had numerous proponents appear. There was only one solitary letter of objection to the passage of this bill, although the fact that a public hearing would be held on so vital a subject had been well advertised throughout the entire Commonwealth.

Those proponents included district attorneys, members of social agencies, psychiatrists and others well qualified to speak on the development of modern penology. The district attorneys who appeared said that the bill which permitted capital punishment was self defeating in that juries refused to bring in verdicts of guilty and that as a result many a guilty person escaped any penalty at all because of the severity of the law.

Historically it is well established that capital punishment never deterred crime. If you will bear with me, during the reign of Henry IV in England there were two hundred and fifty capital offenses—even the stealing of a handkerchief was a capital offense, yet during his reign we had the most lawless period during English history. Similarly those states which have abolished capital punishment have had no increases at all in the number of homocides committed within their jurisdictions, whereas states which have maintained capital punishment have had increases.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I think this is the maiden speech of the gentleman from Philadelphia and I do think we ought to have order. The Democrats back of the rail persist in holding caucuses, conversations and conferences, and the Chair has asked them three times to desist. I suggest that they be put out of the Hall of the House so that the gentleman may proceed.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Delaware.

Mr. SCHOR. Mr. Speaker, I contend that capital punishment never acted as a deterrent. It further seems that there was a humanitarian argument for the abolition of capital punishment, and that the idea of vengence is something we have inherited from a more primitive form of society and it seems to me if our civilization is to advance that that idea must be stamped out. To those who say that we are being sentimental and soft-hearted let me say, in turn, that in England where crime is almost at a minimum as far as it is humanly possible for crime to be at a minimum that the secret of England's success in the treatment of crime is the certainty of punishment rather than the severity of punishment. If we had a strict enforcement of the laws on our statute books the criminal would be much more fearful of our laws and we would not have the terrific crime wave that we do have at the present time.

There is the third argument which seems to be based on the fact that we are taking a human life because another human life has been taken, and that we could well remove from society in a great many cases an individual who can be salvaged and rehabilitated in society, and that we are again resorting to the old law of an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth, whereas our civilization has long outgrown such a rule. I therefore advocate and urge upon you that you vote in the affirmative on this bill.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be re-referred to the Committee on Judiciary General for further study.

On the question,

Wil the House agree to the motion?

Mr. FALKENSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Aukerman,

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AUKERMAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FALKENSTIEN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman if he has any amendments to this bill.

Mr. AUKERMAN. I have not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FALKENSTIEN. Mr. Speaker, this bill lay in the Committee on Judiciary General for three and a half months. They had a public hearing and every one who offered any amendments whatever to this bill I was willing to acept and place in the bill. I refused no amendments whatsoever. Therefore, I think it is unfair after such a length of time of having a bill in committee and accepting all amendments that were offered, to have this bill reported back to the committee for the purpose of amendment. So, therefore, I asked the members of this House to vote "no" on the motion to recommit.

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Aukerman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AUKERMAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman inform me to which committee he asked to have this bill referred?

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I asked to have it referred to to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, could I add an amendment to that and ask that it be re-referred to the Committee on Aviation and Aeronautics, where I am sure it would be given every consideration?

Mr. AUKERMAN. I refuse to accept the amendment, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kilroy, wish to amend the motion of the gentleman from Blair.

Mr. KILROY. No. Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHOR. Mr. Speaker, may I add to the remarks of the gentleman form Philadelphia, Mr. Falkenstein, the fact that the Committee on Judiciary General gave this bill a great deal of study, that it was unanimously reported out of committee, and that this is really a dilatory motion and I urge you to vote the motion down.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to lend what support I can to the two Democrats who have objected to the motion to recommit this bill. I attended the hearing on this bill, and I think this bill was pretty thoroughly gone over and I see no reason why this House should not vote on this bill tonight because tonight is just as good as any other night. I urge my colleagues to vote against this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask consent to make a statement to the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the gentleman to make a statement?

Mr. AUKERMAN. I object, Mr. Speaker.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I have stated before this evening that the proceedings of the House have been interrupted by conditions existing back of the rail. I know that at times it may seem to some like a fight here, but the horse racing bill has not passed, and I do not know why there are so many birds hanging on the rail.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman from Delaware under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

Mr. FALKENSTEIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I know it is late and therefore I am not going to hold you here longer this evening. What I have to say on behalf of this bill I will file with the clerk. However, I want to leave one thought in your minds when you vote on this bill: ask yourselves this question, are we in America really the Christians we profess ourselves to be? If so, where do we get the right to give the power of God to man to take human life? I ask you to give your full consideration to this bill.

REMARKS OF MR. FALKENSTEIN EXTENDED ON JOURNAL

Mr. FALKENSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, The Fifth Commandment is, "Thou shalt not kill". There is no Christian argument for Capital Punishment. We allocate to men the power that belongs to God alone.

For nineteen hundred years we have pretended to be Christians, but we have not yet yielded our right to kill. What hypocrites we are who persecute men for doubting Christianity and redicule men for practicing it! Are we not civilized enough, socially organized enough, morally developed enough, to let violence disappear from our law as it is disappearing from our religion and our lives? It is not true that crime at present time is greater than before; it is less. Granted that we would run some risk in daring this new advance; but, if we are brave enough to scale the highest mountain tops, and outsoar the eagle, and ride in the depths of the sea, shall we lack courage to be lenient to our enemies?

After all these dreary years of legalized murders, marking indelibly with a murder's guilt all those many officials who have had part in them, the sum and substance of it all is: We still have crimes, more crimes, and more revolting brutal outrages than ever before.

Thus it is that if any fact condemns capital punishment, it is that of its wretched failure as a deterrent of murder, it can be charged to the institution of legal killing, that through the sensational and large-scale publicity which has accompanied it, there has been set a fearful example, which has contributed to the debasement and degradation of the finer and nobler human qualities.

The case against legalized murder is one of many aspects, not the least of which is this brutalizing advertisement of all the stages of trial, conviction and the death-chamber act. Such publicity has fostered crime, rather than discouraged. It has been a party to the act of setting a bad example. And just so long as the powerful State (which is only you and I,) continues to set the public example, so long must the spirit of hate and evil, be kept alive in the world.

Capital punishment should be condemned and swept aside because the death-chamber act is irrevocable. There have been proven cases of execution of innocent men. Reasonable doubt of guilt has arisen in the cases of others who were executed. Again, legalized life-taking should be condemned because of the shame and suffering it has caused the innocent relatives and the condemned. What can be the attitude toward society on the part of sons and daughters whose parents may have been put to death by the powerful State? This penalizing of the innocent family and relative is a result quite conveniently overlooked by the great State and its officials, who kill with unpassioned, easy deliberation.

For thousands of years the State has killed its murderers. For what object? To reform the killer who is about to be killed? No, the object of the State in legally killing, is not to reform the killer. The object of the State is to show people how wrong it is to kill! The State thinks, that if it kills one killer, then nobody else in that State will ever kill anybody else again! How splendidly it has worked out! The reasoning was, that all future persons who contemplated killing someone else, would remember what the State had done on that occassion, and from that example, desist from any killing plans!

The powerful State, does not, of course, engage in the disreputable business of inflicting legal murder upon the defenseless criminal from the viewpoint of vengence. All enlightened states long ago decided that vengeance was wrong, and ours, of course, is an enlightened State! But at one time the State did kill for vengeance. It frankly said, "We hang men because it is a comfortable sight to the friends and relatives of the deceased." Meaning that it was done in pure, unabashed vengeance.

But today, while the State is ashamed to kill for vengeance, it is not at all ashamed of carrying out its disgraceful act of execution as Tolstoy once said: "Just as if Christ had never been born" the State has kept up the practice, but has devised a new excuse. They substituted electrocution for hanging. A refinment perhaps, over the grizzly, medievel ax-swinging horror made legal in Hitler's insane Nazi-land. And the modern State explains with many apologies, that it is not killing, but electrocuting, and that therefore no persons or officials are responsible for an execution. The State creates this illusion, further, by splitting the distasteful job into piece-work among many officials, grand jurors, petit jurors, guards, wardens, prosecutors, bailiffs, executioners and judges, so that none may be said to be directly responsible.

If there is any difference between the crime of the criminal, and the execution of the State through its horde of directly responsible officials, the difference lies in favor of that committed by the criminal. For however revolting the deed committed by the criminal, it could under no circumstances have been committed with half the calm, leisurely deliberation employed by the State in planning to destroy the criminal. A mind that is not sophisticated by legal distinctions and definitions will conclude that deliberate killing is wrong, no matter by whom committed, or under what circumstances. And that the best example for the State to set, if it wishes to discourage killing, is to set the example of not killing itself. No one knows whether punishment by death is punishment or not. If people guilty of a great crime are so afraid of death, why do they so very often kill themselves if they get an opportunity?

For thousands of years the State has not taught that human life is sacred. The example it has set has been a bad one, an example to its people to kill, whether it be a mob wishing to lynch someone, or an individual thinking of killing another, the mob or the individual, concludes from this example that a circumstance has arisen under which it is proper to kill.

Thus, the debasing influence of the horrible deed of legalized killing will always keep alive the spirit of taking life, marking the State with disgrace, and with a murder's guilt all those who have had part in them. Far from ever having asked itself the sincere question as to why crime waves persistently grow worse, and what might be done about them in the way of correcting the reasons, the State has blundered on its course, clinging to the barbarous practice of execution in black superstition and ignorance and apologized for by many office holders, bigots and hypocrites, and of course, the unspeakable executioner. thus, the obligation of all those oposed to capital punishment is clear.

Once a hundred crimes were punished with death; then fifty; then twenty; now one. Let us make the record clean. Let us complete this moral evolution, and climb another step to civilization. Let us rid our souls of this last vestige of cannibalism. Let us take our lives in our hands, and gamble on the wisdom of Christ.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

Nothing in this act shall be construed to abridge or restrict or in any way impair the right of any city of the first class to create indebtedness in accordance with existing laws

Section 2 Whenever any city of the first class shall issue such non-debt revenue bonds the authorities thereof may sell the same or any portion thereof at private sale to the United States of America or any agency instrumentality or corporation thereof or to the sinking fund of the city Any bonds not so sold shall be sold to the highest responsible bidder after public notice by advertisement once a week for three weeks in at least one newspaper of general circulation published in the city No bid for such bonds at less than par value shall be accepted When bonds shall be advertised for sale as herein provided and no bids have been received then it shall be lawful for the city to sell the same at private sale for not less than par value and accrued interest

All such bonds shall be payable in not more than thirty years from the date of their issue shall be issued in series payable in annual installments as may be determined by the city and shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum

"Said Bonds shall have all the qualities of negotiable instruments under the law merchant and the negotiable instruments law of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Any city may enter into any deeds of trust indentures or other agreements with any bank or trust company or other person or persons in the United States having power to enter into the same, including any Federal agency as security for such bonds, and may assign and pledge all or any of the revenues or receipts of the sewer system or sewage treatment works thereunder. Such deed of trust indenture or other agreement may contain such provisions as may be customary in such instruments or as the city may authorize, including (but without limitation) provisions as to (1) the construction, improvement, operation, maintenance and repair of any sewer system or sewage treatment works and the duties of the city with reference thereto; (2) the application of funds and the safe-guarding of funds on hand or on deposit; (3) the rights and remedies of said trustee and the holders of the bonds (which may include restrictions upon the individual right of action of such bondholders); and (4) the terms and provisions of the bonds or the resolutions authorizing the issuance of the same."

"Section 3. The rights and the remedies herein conferred upon or granted to the bondholders shall be in addition to and not in limitation of any rights and remedies lawfully granted to such bondholders by the resolution or resolutions, or ordinance or ordinances, providing for the issuance of bonds or by any deed of trust indenture or other agreement under which the same may be issued. In the event that the city shall default in the payment of principal of or interest on any of the bonds after the said principal or interest shall become due, whether at maturity or upon call for redemption, and such default shall continue for a period of thirty days, or in the event that the city shall fail or refuse to comply with the provisions of this act or shall default in any agreement made with the holders of the bonds, the holders of twenty-five per centum in aggregate principal amount of the bonds then outstanding by instrument or instruments filed in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county and proved or acknowledged in the same manner as a deed to be recorded, may appoint a trustee to represent the bondholders for the purposes herein provided. Such trustee and any trustee under any deed of trust indenture or other agreement may, and upon written request of the holders of twenty-five per centum (or such other percentage as may be specified in any deed of trust indenture or other agreement aforesaid), in principal amount of the bonds then outstanding, shall, in his or its own name:

(a) By mandamus or other suit, action or proceeding at law or in equity, enforce all rights of the bondholders including the right to require the city to collect rates, rentals and other charges adequate to carry out any agreement as to or pledge of the revenues or receipts of the sewer system or sewage treatment works, and to require the city to carry out any other agreements with, or for the benefit of, the bondholders, and to perform its and their duties under this act;

(b) Bring suit upon the bonds;

(c) By action or suit in equity, require the city to account as if it were the trustee of an express trust for the bondholders;

(d) By action or suit in equity, enjoin and acts or things which may be unlawful or in violation of the rights of the bondholders;

(e) By notice in writing to the city, declare all bonds due and payable, and if all defaults shall be made good, then with the consent of the holders of twenty-five per centum (or such other percentage as may be specified in any deed of trust indenture or other agreement aforesaid) of the principal amount of the bonds then outstanding to annul such declaration and its consequences.

The court of common pleas of the county shall have jurisdiction of any suit, action or proceedings by the trustee on behalf of the bondholders. Any trustee, whether appointed as aforesaid or acting under a deed of trust indenture or other agreement, and whether or not all bonds have been declared due and payable, shall be entitled as of right to the appointment of a receiver who may enter and take possession of the sewer system or sewage treatment works or any part or parts thereof, the revenues or receipts from which are or may be applicable to the payment of the bonds so in default, and operate and maintain the same and collect and receive all rentals and other revenues thereafter arising therefrom in the same manner as the city, and shall deposit all such moneys in a separate account and apply the same in such manner as the court shall direct. In any suit, action or proceeding by the trustee, the fees, counsel fees and expenses of the trustee and of the receiver if any, and all costs and disbursements allowed by th court shall be a first charge on any revenues and receipts derived from the sewer system or sewage treatment works, the revenues or receipts from which are or may be applicable to the payment of the bonds so in default. Said trustee shall, in addition to the foregoing, have and possess all of the powers necessary or appropriate for the exercise of any functions specifically set forth herein or incident to the general representation of the bondholders in the enforcement and protection of their rights."

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2112, entitled:

An Act relating to political subdivisions requiring political subdivisions against which civil suits are brought to notify owners or occupants of real property who are personally liable thereon on pain of losing the right to indemnity

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McDevitt.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McDEVITT. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McDevitt, in case the owner of the property is a minor or a person non composmentis upon whom would service be made under this bill.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, I say in the first place that if the person is non composmentis probably there is a commission or someone already acting for him. I think there might possibly be a responsibility on the city in the event a minor was the owner of the property in his own name, to take steps to have a guardian ad litem appointed. I think perhaps, though, that neither one of those situations would arise in one case out of a thousand.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McDevitt, whether or not it is the policy generally, in keeping with Legislative enactment, where notice is to be given to a minor or a person not sui juris that the proceedure generally followed, that the proceedure set up is that notice is given in the particular act of Assembly.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, if I understand the gentleman's statement, and if I heard the gentleman's statement correctly, I believe he is correct.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, if that is correct I should like to ask the gentleman whether or not it would not be better to provide some way in this bill so that service may be given to those persons who under the law are incapable of accepting service.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, I don't understand the law to be that a minor is incapable of accepting service. The usual proceedure is to sue the minor and then having a guardian ad litem appointed.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman whether or not it would be possible for the city to set up a committee for a lunatic within the space of time given in this bill, having in mind the crowded calendars in the Cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh and the way notice is now required under the act and the way hearings have to be held to appoint such committees.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's question, I would state that I believe it would be impossible, or certainly impracticable to try to write an act of this character to fit a need of that kind, which I doubt would arise more than once in several years. I believe if such a situation should arise it could be taken care of. I know it has been the practice of our courts to act very quickly and I think the office of the City Solicitor would act very quickly also.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McDevitt, further whether or not an absentee owner with the property unoccupied would come under the provisions of this act.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, I fail to see where that point is at all material. The proposed act provides for a notice either personally or by registered mail. I take it that there are very few properties that do not have a registered owner, and I believe if there is a property that does not have a registered owner, that there is probably some address where he could be served with notice.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, suppose the absentee owner's address is not known and the property is not occupied, then to whom shall notice be given under this act?

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, I must say that if there is a property where there is an owner and the owner's address or whereabouts are unknown, I will say that there is no provision here for service on him, and I should think that probably the only cure for that situation would be advertising or else leaving notice at the property which would be tantamount to giving no notice whatever.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, then does the gentleman from Philadelphia not think that the bill should be amended to provide for that situation?

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, I would say to the gentleman from Allegheny that it might be a good idea to have some further provision in the bill. It is, however, unfortunate at this late time in the session that the bill should be moved back to second reading and the amendments made. I would suggest if the bill does have merit that I and the other sponsors of the bill get together on it and endeavor to arrive at amendments that could be inserted in the Senate. I am very anxious that there should be some action on the bill at this time in order to get it on its way.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2196, (Senate Bill No. 916), entitled:

An Act increasing the number of courts of common pleas in the County of Philadelphia establishing therein a distinct and separate court of common pleas designated court of common pleas number seven and providing for the election and appointment of judges for said court.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OMINSKY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the situation there have been a number of bills introduced dealing with the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, the ultimate effect of which would be to rip out that court, and if I understand this bill correctly it provides one of the substitutes, namely a No. 7 Court. I therefore, ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky, if he can give the House just what the general plan would be, particularly as far as the No. 7 Court is concerned, which would probably be a constitutional court, even though the Municipal Court rippers were declared illegal and unconstitutional.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, inanswer to the question propounded by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McDevitt, I might refer him to our debate of, I believe, April 14, at which time, in the debate on House Bill No. 108, we elaborately set forth our plan, which was this, that in lieu of eleven judges that we have in Philadelphia in our Municipal Court it is our intention to establish a Family Court consisting of four judges, and an additional Common Pleas Court No. 7 consisting of three judges, making a total of seven instead of eleven judges, at a saving of twelve thousand five hundred dollars to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We also at that time told the House that there is no fear that it would cost the Commonwealth more money, because there were two ways of eliminating or doing away with the salaries of the judges of the Municipal Court. In the first place it is our intention, as I said at that time, to have a recall of the judges by both Houses, and the more effective way of not making any appropriation for the judges of the Municipal Court, and since the Commonwealth is a sovereign power, there will be no comeback against the Commonwealth for the salaries which may be due in the event the other plan should fail.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, I would like further to ask the gentleman just what the procedure will be in appointing the No. 7 Court judges. In other words, will the legality of the so-called Municipal Court ripper and the setting up of the Family Court first be determined.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answer to the question of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McDevitt, I might say it is the intention to place all these bills pertaining to the change in the Municipal Court setup and the setting up of the Family Court together with Common Pleas Court No. 7 on the Governor's desk and it will be up to the Governor and the Attorney General's office to decide the proceedure thereafter.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, in other words do I understand the gentleman that he states correctly that the Governor might in his descretion or at his discretion sign the No. 7 Court bill and make the three appointments before the legality or constitutionality of the other acts are determined.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I believe this House has enough confidence in the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth to know that he will do what is best for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. McDEVITT. In other words, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman does not intend to make a direct answer?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I do not intend to evade, but I can not say what the Governor will do after the bill reaches his desk.

Mr. McDEVITT. So it is possible, Mr. Speaker, that we will have a No. 7 Court and we will also have the Municipal Court judges.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that will occur. I believe that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McDevitt, is alarmed about something that will not happen.

Mr. McDEVITT. But it is within the realm of possibility at least, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. OMINSKY. Well, it may be possible, Mr. Speaker, but not probably.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 752, Printer's No. 665, was passed over at the request of Mr. PRESTON.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2175 (Senate Bill No. 372), entitled:

An Act to amend section two hundred fourteen section two hundred sixteen as amended and section two hundred seventeen of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" authorizing the Governor in certain cases to fill vacancies in boards of school directors in districts of the fourth class in counties of the fourth class

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KLINE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to protest against the pasage of this bill, Senate Bill No. 372, on account of its being special or class legislation; class legislation in that it pertains only to fourth class school districts in fourth class counties, special in that it has been referred to the Committee on Elections instead of to the Committee on Education which committee usually receives educational bills.

From the fact that this bill has been presented to the Committee on Elections it leads me to believe that its presentation was caused by a condition existing in a fourth class school district in one of our fourth class counties, namely, the school district of Branch township whose school directors have been charged with irregularities in office and against whom charges are now being prepared in the courts of Schuylkill County. In these charges, ouster charges, charging irregularities, a number of the teachers have testified that they have been assessed for political purposes and also that building materials have been ordered and paid for by the school district which were in fact delivered and use on the property of the political boss of that district.

This bill would take the appointive power away from the courts and give it to the Governor. It is an utter impossibility for any Governor properly to appoint from his own knowledge any of these people. He unfortunately has to resort to help from the political boss in that district. In order to retain the good of the educational work especially in those communities, the appointive powers should never be taken away from those persons who are naturally in close contact and know the existing conditions. I therefore ask the members of this House to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that some details of this bill were discussed last week when the bill was on second reading. The gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Kline, endeavored to go into the political situation of one particular township in Schuylkill County. I shall refrain from doing that, though I could stand here tonight for some time and go into the political history of not only this one particular township, but many,—there would be several townships,—but it is not my intention to do so.

The bill simply transfers the power of appointing school directors from the court to the Governor, and only then when an entire board is ousted or removed, or in case of a tie where the board fails to fill the vacancy within thirty days. The statement that the Governor would not be able properly to fill this position is not exactly correct, because I feel that the Governor is as well qualified as the court. The recommendations received by the Governor would naturally come from the Department of Public Instruction. If the argument presented by Mr. Kline, of Schuylkill would be true, the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania would not appoint justices of the peace in all the townships of our State; he would appoint no county officers in case of vacancies, because on the same grounds the local authorities would be better qualified. But I feel, disregarding the political situation connected with any case,—and there is not only one township in Schuylkill County that has a school board case before the courts, —there are several of them, why they should say that this bill pertains only to that township. This bill simply transfers the powers of appointment from the court to the Governor, and I feel that the Governor should have the same right of appointment to fill vacancies as he has in the matter of justices of the peace. Remember, that where there is a vacancy on the school board in a fourth class district of a fourth class county, under this bill the board continues to fill all vacancies except where they cannot agree within thirty days or where there is a vacancy of the entire board. I ask the members to support this bill.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the reason why the Governor is given the power of appointment in the case of justices of the peace is because the justice of the peace is a constitutional officer, and where we have constitutional officers it is the custom and has been under our law to have appointments made by the Governor. The reason why this question is raised as to this particular bill as applying to this particular township lies in the statement made by the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Schrope himself upon the floor of this House last week.

This bill is an insult to the members of this Legislature. Because of its political nature it puts the Democratic members of the House in the dilemma of deciding between their oath of office and their spirit of party loyalty. The bill is clearly unconstitutional. It has for its sole purpose the retention of control of the appointment of School Directors in Branch Township of Schuylkill County and the domination of that Board by the political organization that has caused these disgraceful conditions.

The School Directors of that Township are now before the Court of Schuylkill County charged not only with the collection from teachers of campaign funds for the Democratic party, but also with increasing the teachers salaries at the expense of taxpayers to cover the amount which the teachers were coerced into paying. This was substantiated by the testimony of a large number of teachers. Further the evidence before the Court shows that lumber purchased and paid for by the School District was delivered to the swimming pool and beer hall owned by Senator Joseph P. Dando, and that school busses were used at public expense to transport faithful Democrats to political meetings.

Vacancies in School Boards are now filled under the Law by the Court. To pass this Bill taking that power from the Courts and placing it in the Governor can have but one objective, to wit: to enable the Democratic organization that has instigated these unlawful acts to continue its henchmen in control of the Board.

Nothing so scandalous has ever been proposed to this Legislature. Nothing so outrageous has ever been brought before this House.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I do not think the gentleman from Delaware is discussing the merits of the bill at all; he is make a statement.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the bill before the House.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, for the past several years the Democratic organization in this State, through the public press and through its publication, has charged the Republican party with all manner of misconduct. Every Republican charged with any misconduct was caricatured, libeled, defamed, cussed and discussed. The Democratic Party has placed on its breast the badge of honesty in public affairs and asked the people to accept it at its face value. If the Democratic leadership now permits this Bill to become a Law it will have approved that Party's boss of Branch Township and will have condoned the misconduct of the School Directors. What then can be said of the high sounding Democratic phrases? The effect of this will be to make School Directors the creatures of whatever political boss happen to be for the moment dominant and to force school teachers to give of their small earnings towards the support of the political machine whether they be in sympathy therewith or not.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I again rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware is not discussing the bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the bill before the House.

Mr. TURNER. If you pass this Bill you will pave the way for the political macing of school teachers throughout Pennsylvania, and the wholesale looting of school funds by unscrupulous politicians wherever conditions approach those in Branch Township.

For the information of those not fully familiar with this case, let me outline a few of the facts:—

Conditions in Branch Township school affairs became so bad that citizens of the district petitioned the Courts for the removal of the Directors.

The testimony reveals that Senator Dando, previous to the last campaign, went before a meeting of these teachers and demanded that they contribute of their salaries to the Democratic Campaign Fund. The amount fixed was 5 per cent for the year. The teachers were told not to worry about the amount they were to pay because their salaries would be increased to reimburse them, and according to the testimony of the teachers this was done. To enforce his outrageous demands that the teachers contribute to the slush fund for his election, Senator Dando is quoted in court testimony as having said to them, "and don't let anybody double cross me, for if you do I will meet you at the cross-roads." Then according to the testimony to prevent the teachers reneging, their contracts were held up until after election.

Further it was testified that school busses were used to transport political workers over the county; the gas and oil being charged up to the taxpayers; and that lumber purchased on School Board orders was used for the improvement of Senator Dando's beer hall and swimming pool.

Now by this Bill they in effect say that they feel the Courts will not appoint School Directors who will do what they desire and so they hope to get the appointment in the hands of the Governor in the hope that he will accept the recommendations of the Democratic machine and put their friends back in control of school affairs in that Township.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I again rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not discussing the merits of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has asked the gentleman to confine his remarks to the bill before the House and the Chair again requests the gentleman to speak upon the bill.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. I am stating as I see it, not only the bill but that which gave rise to the bill, which is in effect the bill. I am also now stating the effect of the bill, which I think is a discussion of the bill. I therefore ask the Chair to rule.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will be permitted to discuss what in his opinion would be the effect of the passage of this bill, and the Chair asks the gentleman to confine his remarks to the merits of the bill and what in his opinion would be the effects of the bill.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, if this bill goes into effect what will become of the school teachers who were compelled by subpoena to appear in court and tell the truth? What relief will there be for the taxpayers of that township?

But as bad as would be the direct result to the taxpayers and teachers, the effect will be far worse in the precedent that is established.

The other day I warned my Democratic colleagues in this House that the "Ripper Legislation" and the many bills that transferred appointive power from one officer to another to secure political advantage would come back to haunt them. It has arrived quicker than I anticipated. This is the natural result of such a course. It is the extreme to which power will lead men who do not have the capacity or the stamina to govern.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I again rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I do not like to interrupt the gentleman from Delaware, but certainly he is not talking on the merits of the bill at all.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is discussing other legislation that has been before the House. The Chair again asks the gentleman to confine his remarks only to Senate Bill No. 372, which is the bill before the House.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, if you can take the appointive power away from one official in Philadelphia and give it to another to insure Democratic appointments, why not do so in a fourth class school district to protect a political organization that is in difficulty by reason of its own acts. Let us break the chain here.

In the name of decency this bill should not pass.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that the gentleman from Delaware seems to know quite a great deal about the affairs of the township of Schuylkill County I would like to ask him when the petition was filed with the court to remove the Branch Township school board.

Mr. TURNER. I cannot tell that, Mr. Speaker. I read all the newspaper clippings that I could find over the week-end—I have them in my brief case, but I do not remember that it stated in any instance when the petition was filed.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, it possibly would be interesting to the gentleman to know that the petition was filed in January, one petition in 1931 when the Branch Township School Board was a Republican School Board and the township was a Republican township with less than one hundred Democratic voters, and the Court of Schuylkill County was a Republican court. Now, in 1935 or 1936, the Branch Township School Board, or the same school board became a Democratic school board and the township is a Democratic township. Naturally the court is a Republican court, and the Branch Township School Board was brought into court. Now in January, 1931, a petition was filed and the court refused the petition at that time on similar charges or on some of the same charges that are used now.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Schrope.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Schuylkill what did he draw from the statement he just made under the guise of interrogation.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, I should presume that the gentleman from Delaware should draw his own conclusions from my statement.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I am not accustomed to drawing conclusions under those circumstances. I am asking the gentleman what is the inference to be drawn from his statement.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, from the floor of the House I would not care to talk about even the courts in Schuylkill County in the same manner in which the gentleman from Delaware spoke about the Senator from Schuylkill County.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is not a pleasant task to stand here and say things as sharp as I have had to say, but I want to say to my friends on the other side of the House that I served notice on the gentleman from Schuylkill that since this bill was brought up there was nothing left for me to do but attack it. If there was a Republican school board in the County of Schuylkill that was guilty of the same kind of act, I would not be standing here defending them, and I know of no bill brought in during the sessions that I have been in the Legislature to enable any school district of Branch Township or any other school district in the State to escape the penalty that would be inflicted by their ouster. If a Republican school board was guilty, I would have no defense I have continually said to my colleagues on this side of the House and I say to you now that I stand here fearlessly and say that no two wrongs make a right at any time. If the Republicans were wrong they should be censured and I have no defense of that, but I again repeat that I think to bring this bill before this House and to place the Democratic members of this House in a position in which they are placed by this bill, in the position where they naturally dislike to vote against their colleague, where they are bound by party loyalty, as we all are—I think it is shameful and that they should never be placed in such a position. Whatever was done in the past, the clear record is there in every newspaper in Schuylkill County. The testimony was by thirty school teachers from this school district as to what happened, and as I read the testimony as given in the newspapers every teacher testified to the same facts, and those facts are incontrovertible. Those facts can lead you to no other conclusion than that if we put the stamp of approval upon them by saying to the political organization in Branch Township that they will be permitted to come down to the Governor here and appeal to him for party reasons or for other reasons and say, "Appoint our crowd in Branch Township," then you are going to put your stamp of approval upon this condition, whether it be a Republican school board or a Democratic school board, and it is reprehensible and something that should not be tolerated in the State of Pennsylvania to mulct school teachers. We passed the Tenure Bill in order to protect school teachers. To mulct school teachers five per cent of their pay is bad enough, but to turn around and increase their pay and thereby charge the taxpayers of the township for the expenses of a Democratic campaign, that is something that I cannot believe the members of this House will stand for.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I am not interested in the politics of Schuylkill County. In my own personal opinion I do not think that this is the place to launder the wash of Schuylkill County nor any district of Schuylkill County or any other county. The question to me here is whether in fourth class school districts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania we are going to transfer under certain conditions the right to appoint our school directors by the Governor. Here again we are taking away from our own people at home the right to fill vacancies in our districts, districts which we are supporting with the money of our taxpayers, schools that are ours, and if there are one or two or three or a half dozen districts that have taken advantage politically of their school teachers or of the conditions there that is their business, the taxpayers and the voters of that particular township should clean house and put in honorable and good men and not make legislation here that affects every fourth class school district in Pennsylvania. I appeal to you men from the fourth class school districts of this Commonwealth to vote "no" on this bill and permit Branch Township or whatever township Mr. Schrope has in mind to go home and clean their own house. It is not the business of this Legislature to legislate especially for one township in any case, and I say to you of the fourth class school districts, are you going to transfer another item of home rule to Harrisburg. I don't believe you are.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. HARKINS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny what is the purpose of reconsidering this bill at this time?

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to answer the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, by stating that the purpose is to withdraw the amendments because we have discovered that the amendments had already been included when the bill was reported from committee.

Mr. TURNER. Is it true, Mr. Speaker, that the gentleman from Allegheny has said that he is the great amender in this House?

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I decline the honor which has been suggested by some of my Republican colleagues of whom I have been very fond until I found out that they have been talking to Mr. Turner.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker in view of the fact that the gentleman is now trying to withdraw the amendments the amendments having been already in the bill, the Republicans have asked me to withdraw the nom de plume that they have given to the gentleman from Allegheny as the great amender of the House.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would let the gentleman have the nom de plume that he speaks of and I will return it to him with my compliments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed second reading as amended be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the title and the various sections were agreed to be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTE TO MEET

Miss BRANCATO asked permission for the Committee on Cities to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker I would like to interrogate the lady from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the lady from Philadelphia permit herself to be interrogated?

Miss BRANCATO. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, can't the lady have the meeting after the House adjourns.

Miss BRANCATO. Mr. Speaker, positively not. This is an important measure and I want it to go through tonight.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, does the lady want to report it out tonight?

Miss BRANCATO. Yes indeed, Mr. Speaker. Does the gentleman have objection?

Mr. TURNER. What is the bill, Mr. Speaker?

Miss BRANCATO. The City Consolidation Bill, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Go ahead.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its permission? The Chair hears no objection and permission is granted.

RESOLUTION

BIRTHDAY CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. BLANK offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 26, 1937.

Whereas It is proper that this august Body do pause in its deliberations for the purpose of expressing its felicitations on proper occasions, and

Whereas It is believed that such occasion does present itself, and

Whereas This is the natal day of the Honorable James A. Smith, a member of this House as well as the Democratic City Committeemen representing the Fortieth Ward of the City of Philadelphia, and

Whereas The Honorable James A. Smith has done yoeman work as a member of the House during the Session; now therefore be it

Resolved That the House of Representatives do extend its felicitations and best wishes to the Honorable James A. Smith as well as to his family and wish him a full portion of health, happiness, prosperity, and good luck in the years to come, and be it further Resolved That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Honorable James A. Smith by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

REMARKS BY MR. JAMES A. SMITH

Mr. JAMES A. SMITH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to thank my colleague from West Philadelphia, Mr. Blank for his happy expressions and felicitations on my birthday. I noticed in coming up today that a number of members seemed to be having a birthday party and it seemed to me that perhaps my Democratic brothers and myself could arrange to have our next birthdays all at the same time.

STATEMENT BY MR. TURNER

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House the other day it was the pleasure of the members of the Senate and of the House to present to the Honorable John H. Fertig a watch as a token of esteem from the members. Mr. Fertig has written this letter, addressed to me, in which he says:

Hon. Ellwood J. Turner,
House of Representatives,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Mr. Turner:

Will you kindly act as my spokesman and convey to the Members of the House, including yourself, my sincere thanks for the beautiful watch which you presented to me the other day in their behalf. It brings to me the realization that the members of the Legislature do understand that the position I have occupied for so many years requires the expenditure of a great deal of energy. May I say to the Legislators, that my one regret in the performance of the work is that the speed with which measures must be prepared, precludes the perfection and freedom from error which would follow a more leisurely procedure, permitting time for reflection. May I say for all those engaged in the enactment of the laws of this Commonwealth, that we do surprisingly well under the circumstances.

I sincerely appreciate this gift for the personal sentiment which is attached to it, and I am proud to display it on the slightest provocation.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN H. FERTIG

26 April, 1937

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the letter be spread upon the Journal.

The SPEAKER. The letter will be spread upon the Journal.

RESOLUTION

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

RESOLUTION No. 17

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 17, Printer's No. 116.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 8, 1937.

Whereas, The Triangle of the City of Pittsburgh, has been flooded several times during the past years as a result of the river overflowing its banks; and

Whereas, On each occasion of the flood waters coming into the Triangle District, great property damages were suffered by the citizens of Pittsburgh; and

Whereas, Engineering authorities have expressed the opinion that by the construction of flood walls along the river at this point, future floods could be prevented; and

Whereas, Not only could future floods be thus prevented, but the flood walls could be so constructed as to encase the railroad tracks along the river and carry along the top thereof a beautiful boulevard, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That a joint legislative committee is hereby created composed of three members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker of the House, and two members of the Senate appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, whose duty it shall be to make a broad investigation to determine the feasibility and desirability of constructing flood walls to protect the Triangle of the City of Pittsburgh and to ascertain the approximate cost thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That said joint committee shall make a report to the General Assembly at this or the next regular session of the Legislature as early as possible with such recommendations as are deemed appropriate.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

STATEMENT EXTENDED ON JOURNAL

Mr. OSTROFF asked and obtained permission to extend on the Journal a statement made by Walter B. Gibbons of the Philadelphia Bar as follows:

The first definite attempt to integrate the Pennsylvania Bar through the medium of a legislative Act is embodied in House Bill No. 1753—the proposed State Bar Act.

No definite action has heretofore been tawen in this State for organizing the bar through Supreme Court authority or through legislative enactment.

The proposed State Bar Act is patterned after the Washington State Bar Act but, unlike the latter, it omits provisions with respect to supervision by the Supreme Court.

After creating the State Bar as an agency of the State for the purpose of organizing and governing persons who practice law and regulating practice, it includes as the first members all persons entitled to practice law before any court of record in the State, provides for the admission of new members to such agency and provides for local bar units in each judicial district of the Commonwealth, with a right to such local bar units to select their own officers and Board of Governors for the management and conduct of their local affairs and to perform such duties as may be delegated to them by the Governors of the State Bar.

Each local bar unit is authorized to elect one delegate for each one hundred members or fractions thereof, to constitute a Council of Delegates and the council elects from its membership a board of twelve governors, which board is to govern the State Bar.

By section 8 of the proposed act, certain powers and duties are given to the State Bar, including the right to prescribe qualifications for membership and make classifications thereof, including active and inactive, and to determine the privilege and preogatives of the members of each class.

Dues are limited to five dollars per year, unless increased by resolution adopted by at least three fourths of the members of the Board of Governors.

Also included in the powers is that of redistricting the State for the purpose of organizing other bar units; to appoint boards or committees to examine applicants for admission to the State Bare respecting their learning, charatcer and fitness; to adopt and enforce codes of ethics, provide for expulsion, discipline and suspension of members for cause; to investigate professional conduct and initiate disciplinary proceedings before such tribunals of the State Bar or local bar units established for the purpose; to establish appellate tribunals in all cases of admission, explusion, suspension, discipline or reinstatement, and the right to make rules to carry out the purposes of the act, subject to the powers of the majority of the active members of the State Bar to modify or rescind any such rules, and new rules may be adopted by such majority of members, under the supervision of the Board of Governors. And generally, all matters affecting the organization, functioning and jurisdiction of the State Bare are vested in this agency.

Subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses before the investigating bodies and tribunals are issued upon application to the court of common pleas.

Only active members are permitted to practice law. Unlawful practice is made a misdemeanor.

An appeal upon certiorari may be taken to the Supreme Court, upon final decision of the Board of Governors, on proceedings involving admission, explusion, discipline or reinstatement of any member of the State Bar.

The act deserves the serious consideration of every members of the bar, as it is a definite departure from the present system in effect in this State. It attempts to solve the question of whether the courts or the legislature have the right to control those who practice law by placing that control in the bar itself through legislative fiat only.

This question has confronted the movement to integrate the bar in each State where intergration has been attempted or effected. Among the score of States which now have integration, some are so constituted by the legislature and some by rule of court. Perhaps the best example of the former is California and of the latter, Missouri.

The Missouri Supreme Court adopted rules creating a committee in each of its thirty-eight districts to deal with unlawful practice by laymen and complaints against lawyers. A State Manager, who is chraiman of a General Administrative Committee of five lawyers, devotes his entire time to supervising this work. Under court rule a fee of three dollars is paid every year by every practitioner; the canons of ethics are adpoted as part of its rules; provision is made for curbing lay encroachments and large powers are given to local grievance committees.

In each of the States where integration of the bar has been effected with either means, satisfaction has been expressed by the bar and improvement has been noted in the general tone of the members, the administration of discipline, and the advancement of the public interest.

However desirable integration of the bar, either by legislatie act or judicial rule, may be, we are still confronted with the question as to the location of the power to control the bar in Pennsylvania.

In considering this question, we are reminded that in England the barristers were at common law and are now wholly a self-governing body. They are called to the bar by the benches, and the discretion of the benchers for admitting barristers is understood to be uncontrollable. King v. Benchers of Lincoln's Inn, 4 B. & C. 866. From the barristers can be derived a commentary, running through a period of half a dozen or more centuries, upon the proposition that the qualifications of counsel can be wisely ascertained through self-government. The attorneys at law in England are also regulated by the incorporated law societies, self-governed, but admission is under the control of the courts since the passage of the Act of 4 Hen. IV, c. 18, which is the original enrollment statute.

Since the founding of the Province of Pennsylvania, the functions of attorneys and barristers have been alike performed by the members of the Bar of Pennsylvania. No provision is made for their appearance under the frame of government of Pennsylvania of 1682, agreed upon in England, although provisions is there made for litigants to appear "by their friends". By the Act of February 26, 1710 (Law Book A, vol. 1, p. 235), provision is made for appearance of litigants by attorneys before the justices, mayor, and recorder, the act providing that upon the misbehavior of such attorneys the said tribunals may suspend or prohibit their pleading in any of the said courts.

This act was followed by the Act of May 28, 1715 (Law Book A, vol. 2, p. 112), authorizing the admission by the justices of attorneys to practice and providing for their suspension upon misbehavior. This act was lost in councils and was followed by the Act of May 22, 1722 (Law Book A, vol. 2, p. 297), which provided:

"That there may be a competent number of persons of an honest disposition and learned in the law, admitted by the Justices of the. . . Courts to practice as attorneys there; who shall behave themselves justly and faithfully in their practice: and if they misbehave themselves therein, they shall suffer such penalties and suspensions as attorneys at law in Great Britain are liable to in such cases."

This act was in effect at the time of the Declaration of Independence and the adoption of the Constitution of Pennsylvania of 1776.

By section 24 of the Constitution of 1776, there is vested in the Supreme Court and the several courts of common pleas of the Commonwealth "powers usually exercised by such courts", and similar vestings are contained in each of the succeeding constitutions adopted in Pennsylvania.

The Act of 1722 continued in effect until the passage of the Act of April 14, 1834, P. L. 341, which is the Judiciary General Act. By section 68 of that act, it is provided that:

"Judges of the several courts of record of this Commonwealth shall respectively have power to admit a competent number of persons of an honest disposition and learned in the law to practice as attorneys in their respective courts."

It would seem, there fore, that since the founding of Pennsylvaua the right to control admission and disbarment has been vested in the courts and that by the Constitution of 1776 that power was definitely deposited in the judiciary as one of the "powers usually exercised by such Courts".

In referring to acts of the legislature pertaining to admission of attorneys to practice before the courts, Mr. Chief Justice Moschzisker, in Olmsted's Case, 292 Pa. 96, 103, said:

"Of course, one admitted to the bar has a public office conferred on him . . . and the people as a whole are interested in all who shall occupy such offices, but the power to regulate that matter, for their benefit, belongs in Pennsylvania to the judicial department of government . . . not to the legislative; and the various statutes dealing with admissions to the bar which have been passed from time to time . . . involve a judicial, rather than a legislative, subject matter."

He then states the rule with respect to the construction of legislative pronouncements pertaining to the bar, as follows:

"The true rule is as follows: Statutes dealing with admissions to the bar will be judicially recognized as valid, so far as, but no further than, the legislation involved does not encroach on the right of the courts to say who shall be privileged to practice before them, and under what circumstances persons shall be admitted to that privilege. Acts of this kind have been construed in the past in such a way as to bring them within this rule, rather than as being unconstitutional. We shall not discuss in detail the various statutes referred to above; for none of them can control the courts in performing the purely judicial act of deciding who shall enjoy the privilege of practicing before them."

As early as 1814 the Supreme Court decided (Commonwealth v. The Judge, 1 S. & R. 187) that the admission of an attorney to a court is a judicial and not a ministerial act.

It is clear, therefore, that the courts have full and exclusive control of the admission of attorneys to practice before them and to remove them should they prove unworthy, and the legislature is without power to interfere with the rights of the courts in that regard.

Aside from the right of the court to admit, control, and disbar a lawyer in the exercise of his functions as an officer of the court, consideration must be given to the question of the control of lawyers in the practice of their profession in its other phases.

Mr. Justice Fields in Ex Parte Garland, 4 Wall. 333, 379, in referring to this phase of the practice of law said:

"The legislature may undoubtedly prescribe qualifications for the office, to which he must conform, as it may, where it has exclusive jurisdiction, prescribe qualifications for the pursuit of any of the ordinary avocations of life."

It seems, therefore, that there are two functions of the bar, one of which is within the exclusive control of the courts, and the other is within the exclusive control of the legislature.

When a lawyer faces a court and appears on behalf of a litigant, he is acting as an officer of that court, siding in the dispensation of justice and assisting in the administration of a public function and, as such officer of the court, he is under the exclusive control of the judiciary. When he faces the public and holds himself out as one being qualified to advise citizens with respect to their rights under the law and as being competent to perform the usual office duties of a lawyer, he is under the control of the legislature, in much the same manner as is the physician, the dentist or others.

It may be conceded that it is desirable to terminate "dual sovereignity" by consolidating all power over the bar in the Judiciary, and an act of the legislature delegating to the courts the right to control the bar in all of its functions would undoubtedly meet with uniform approval.

The proposed act has been drawn with the apparent intention of avoiding any challenge to the court's prerogative in controlling adimssions and disbarments to the courts. There is no provisions in the act relating to admission or disbarment of an attorney to any court or with respect to his functions as an officer of the courts. It merely restricts the right to practice law to those wha have been admitted to the State Bar, as an agency of the State, and admission to the State Bar is not tantamount to admission to a court. Thus, under the proposed act, a lawyer might be admitted to the State Bar and yet be refused admission to a court. His admission to the court would still require his admission to the State Bar, before he could hold himself out to the public as being authorized to practice law. His membership in the State Bar, on the other hand, would not entitle him to appear in any court to which he had not been admitted by such court nor is there any power vested in the State agency to require any particular court to admit him. He might, however, appeal to the Supreme Court on the refusal of the State Bar to admit him to membership.

The effect of the act is to require all practicing lawyers to belong to a single association, which is self-governing.

A limitation on the number of governors, from any county, to two at any one time would obviate the control of the proposed State Bar by the large citeis and would probably satisfy the objections from the smaller counties on that score.

There are other changes that should be made in the act, if its passage should be deemed desirable. Thus, section 11, providing that:

"No person shall practice law in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or be admitted to the bar of any court subsequent to the first meeting of the State Bar unless he shall be an active member thereof", is ambiguous and requires clarification.

There should also be a provision to the effect that no one should be placed on the inactive list on the basis of age—assuming that this be a necessary restriction to a self-governing bar group.

The purposes of integration have been fully discussed in various legal publications in the past fifteen years, and a fair consideration of the movement is contained in the address of Carl V. Essery, Esq., printed in the Annual Report of the Pennsylvania Bar Association for 1935, p. 328.

Hon. Arthur T. Vanderbilt, president-designate of the American Bar Association, in an address delivered at the convention of the American Bar Association held at Boston in August of 1936, lists a number of causes for the present disintegrated condition of the bar, and particularly stresses the encroachment of corporations and other lay agencies upon the domain of the lawyer. He lists the collection agencies, adjustment bureaus, automobile associations, hospital councils, title companies, trust companies, and incorporation companies as requiring much activity on the part of committees on unauthorized practice. He might have included undertakers, constables, independent adjusters, and realtors. Indeed, there has been persented to the legislature House Bill No. 1757, which forbids anyone but a real estate broker from drawing deeds, mortgages, agreements of sale, etc.!

Other than the voluntary bar associations, comprising only a fraction of the bar, who is there to turn a hand to prevent such intrusions upon the practice of the law?

Mr. Vanderbilt traces, in his address, the causes which produced the "Golden Age of the American Bar", when lawyers bound together by tradition and training, by common ties of patriotism and public service, labored to improve the administration of justice and to adopt their government to the new ideals of society then current. He sketches the disintegrating forces of the Nineteenth Century and concludes:

"What are the lessons? Manifestly there can be no turning back to the old system any more than we could now have a city governed by town-meeting methods. But we can substitute for a hit-or-miss method of bar associations a representative system of bar organization which will give us a self-governing institution directed by the men most capable in the judgment of their fellows of governing their profession. This is the method of the integrated bar and . . . where it has been tried it has been sucessful . . . We must make every lawyer realize his individual responsibility to his profession, to the bar as an institution. In no other way can the dignity of our calling be safeguarded."

The success of bar integration is attested by the various States in which it has been in operation. President R. L. Hamberlen, in his address to the Washington State Bar, assembled for its 1936 meeting, said:

"The integrated bar has been functioning now for three years and I can say, without fear of contradiction, that it is accomplishing all that was promised for it by those supporters who worked so diligently for the passage of the act creating it."

He expresses his belief that the time will come when inclusive organization and self-governing powers will be exercised by the profession in every State.

Mr. Charles A. Beardsley, former president of the California State Bar, in referring to the effects of integration, says:

"And, through the instrumentality of the integrated bar, the lawyers of California have made the bar more worthy of respect and therefore more respected; they improved the quality of the service that they render to the members of society; and they have thereby increased the public demand for that service.

"They are serving the public better, and they are thereby fulfilling the primary purpose of the integrated bar. And at the same time, and by the same means, they are greatly enriching the legal profession, without impoverishing any other group, or any individual. The change in the public attitude toward the bar is evidenced in many ways.

"It is evidenced by the disposition of the legislature to accept, and to act favorably upon, the recommendations of the State Bar, on legislation relating to the bar, to the courts and to the administration of justice. It is evidenced by the disinclination of the banks, and of the other potential lay encroachers, to take issue with the State Bar on any matter relating to their respective fields of activity. And it is evidenced most conspicuously by the attitude of the press, which almost uniformly is generous and out-spoken in its support and it its praise. Typical of the attitude of the press is an editorial comment of the work of the State Bar in the Hanford Daily Sentinel:

"There are signs of a new life in the California Bar. It appears that the law fraternity has received a new vision of its responsibilities, new faith in its inherent goodness, renewed courage to attack its problems. It is the most hopeful sign that has come into the life of the State in over half a century".

From Alabama, the earliest fully organized bar, comes the statement by its president, Douglas Arant, in support of the benefits of integration:

"In a comparatively short time the results of the administration of the self-governing bar have fully justified its existence. The lawyers as a whole believe in the system Its functioning has aroused their general interest in the profession. They are beginning to feel that through an effective organization the bar can accomplish a great deal in the public welfare and in the interest of the profession. So also there is a feeling on the part of the people of the State generally that the bar is awakening to its duty to the public. They believe that an honest effort is being made to exclude from the bar unworthy members and to exercise greater care to prevent the admission of those who are unfit. Likewise a notion is beginning to develope that the bar may extend its influence and discharge its larger responsibility to the public in the field of sound legislation and in the administration of justice. These good results, I believe, are due largely to the specific legal obligations and definite professional powers conferred by the statute providing for the organization of the bar."

Assuming that the present act has imperfections to be corrected, the matter of integration of the bar is a subject which should be given careful and temperate consideration.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. OMINSKY, from the Comimttee on Cities, reported as committed, House Bill No. 2169, (Senate Bill No. 831), entitled:

Thou movest in Mysterious way,
Thy wonders to perform;
Thou plantest Thy footsteps on the sea,
And ridest upon the storm.

Yet "God is in His heaven—and all is right with the world."

We know not the baffling ways of nature, yet forgive us if we discern not in a universe of law some hidden meaning in punitive purpose in disaster. Mediate to our hearts a composure of abiding faith. If we find Thee not in wind or earth; quake or fire, sensitize our hearts to Thy still, small voice; to Thy challenge to pity and sympathy; to rescue and rehabilitation. In mercy, transform the structures of society and state into ministries of beneficience; and may we not grow weary in well-doing. May the grace of Thy wisdom rest upon this body. Amen.

Mr. EROE, from the Committee on Federal Relations, reported as committed, the following resolution, which was laid on the table:

CONGRESS TO REVISE TARIFF LAWS TO INCREASE DUTY ON CEMENT IMPORTED FROM FOREIGN COUNTRIES

In the House of Representatives, February 9, 1937.

Cement produced in foreign countries by cheap labor [and the employment of women to perform work for which they are not physically fitted] has already to a large degree supplanted the American product on the markets of the seaboard cities of the United States and is increasing at the rate which will in a very short time compel domestic producers to entirely discontinue their operations

This condition most vitally affects the public intrests of this Commonwealth and particularly of the Lehigh Valley Not only does it consign to the ranks of the unemployed great numbers of workmen already receiving but moderate compensation for their labor but the shutdown or reduced operation of a cement mill means also the cessation or decrease of its purchases of coal fuel oil cloth and paper sacks wire lubricants explosives fire brick gypsum machinery and a great many other industrial products of this Commonwealth therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to revise the tariff laws so as to increase the duty on cement imported from foreign countries to an extent necessary in order to permit domestic cement to compete with the foreign product and be it further

Resolved that copies of this resolution be sent by the Chief Clerk to the House of Representatives to each House of Congress and to each United Sates Senator and Representative in Congress from this Commonwealth

Also from the Committee on Federal Relations, reported as committed, the following resolution, which was laid on the table:

CONGRESS PETITIONED TO PROTEST THE RATIFICATION OF THE ARGENTINE SANITARY CONVENTION

In the House of Representatives, February 17, 1937.

Whereas, It is indicated that there is a determination on the part of certain officials of the Federal Government to secure a ratification of the Argentine Sanitary Convention; and

Whereas, Any attempt to raise the embargo on animal products from Argentine or any province thereof would subject the livestock and wild animal life of the United States to a constant menace of foot and mouth disease; and

Whereas, Foot and mouth disease manifested itself in Pennsylvania in 1914 and ultimately spread into thirty-four of the sixty-seven counties, infecting 858 different herds, and costing the Commonwealth hundreds of thousands of dollars to eradicate; and

Whereas, Past experience shows that outbreaks caused by such importations have caused millions of dollars of damage and consequent depletion of livestock and game, and have been a source of great economic loss; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully petitions the Congress of the United States to protest the ratification of the Argentine Sanitary Convention, and urges the members thereof to work for the continuance of the present embargo against every country where the disease is known to exist in order that there shall be no experimentation at the expense of the health and safety of our livestock and wild animal life.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the President of the United States, to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States, and to each Senator and Representative in Congress of the United States from this State, by the Chief Clerk of this House.

Mr. EROE, from the Committee on Federal Relations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 875, entitled:

JOINT COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE ADVISABILITY OF CONSTRUCTING FLOOD WALLS TO PROTECT TRIANGLE OF CITY OF PITTSBURGH

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of House resolution No. 17.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 8, 1937.

Whereas, The Triangle of the City of Pittsburgh has been flooded several times during the past years as a result of the river overflowing its banks and

Whereas, On each occasion of the flood waters coming into the Triangle District great property damages were suffered by the citizens of Pittsburgh and

Whereas, Engineering authorities have expressed the opinion that by the construction of flood walls along the river at this point future floods could be prevented and

Whereas, Not only could future floods be thus prevented but the flood walls could be so constructed as to encase the railroad tracks along the river and carry along the top thereof a beautiful boulevard therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That a joint legislative committee is hereby created composed of three members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker of the House and two members of the Senate appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate whose duty it shall be to make a broad investigation to determine the feasibility and desirability of constructing flood walls to protect the Triangle of the City of Pittsburgh and to ascertain the approximate cost thereof and be it further

Resolved, That said joint committee shall make a report to the General Assembly at this or the next regular session of the Legislature as early as possible with such recommendations as are deemed appropriate

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Harvey Huffman) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. McCREESH read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1084, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsection (k) of section one thousand three hundred and four of the act approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by further defining the duties of advisory committees.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. McCREESH read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1085, entitled:

An Act providing for fixing minimum compensation for barber service in the several counties of this Commonwealth; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Public Instruction; and prescribing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Boards.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING CERTAIN INFORMATION FROM THE STATE EMERGENCY RELIEF BOARD

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. OWLETT offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate, April 27, 1937.

Resolved, That the State Emergency Relief Board shall furnish to the Senate not later than May 15, 1937, a detailed statement showing the names and addresses of and the compensation paid to all the employes of said board as of January 1, 1937 and as of April 1, 1937.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the State Emergency Relief Board by the Chief Clerk of the Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I object.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, if the resolution also includes persons employed by the Boards in the County?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, this resolution includes all the employees of the State Emergency Relief Board.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, the purpose of this resolution.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the purpose of this resolution is with the thought in mind that we have coming before us bills setting up a new relief system, and it seems to me, before we can intelligently act on these bills, we ought to have all the information with reference to the cost of administering relief in this State, and, I know of no other way to get it.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, did the Senator from Tioga attempt to get the information?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I have been a member of this Senate for five years and I have been on any number of committees, and I think there is no one in this Senate but that will agree with me that any individual trying to get any information from Dr. de Schweinitz, or the Relief Board, finds it a hopeless task in this State. The only way you can get information from these people is by passing a resolution in the Senate.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, has the Senator from Tioga made any effort to obtain this information.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, if the Senator is asking when I made an effort, I made any number of efforts to get this information but I have not made any recently.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I can throw light on the subject from the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan. The Senate Appropriations Committee, or the sub-committee appointed by the Senate Appropriations Committee, did endeavor to get that information, but we have not gotten a complete picture up to the present time.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I withdraw my objection.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Adams, Mr. Rice, withdraws his objection.

Is there any further objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. JACOBS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 911, on third reading, entitled:

An Act providing for the payment into the State Treasury without escheat of certain moneys and property subject to escheat under existing law namely unclaimed dividends and profits debts and interest on debts proceeds of policies of insurance stock and customers deposits held by certain limited partnerships and unincorporated associations joint stock associations companies and corporations doing business under the laws of this Commonwealth declaring the legislative intent with respect to such payments requiring reports of such money and property by and imposing other duties upon such partnerships associations and corporations conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers boards and departments providing for jurisdiction of courts and for proceedings for the recovery of such moneys and property by the Attorney General at the suggestion of the Department of Revenue providing for refunds of such moneys and property and prescribing penalties go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 9, entitled:

An Act creating a Safety Commission as an Independent Administrative Commission of the Commonwealth and defining its powers and duties

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, I want to put into the record at this time the 1935 and 1936 records of accidents and deaths in the United States, 211,000 in the two years. With the United States at peace 111,000 Americans met violent deaths in accidents last year. The auto's death toll was 38,500; it was 37,000 the year before. Other public accidents caused 19,000 fatalities; 18.000 the year before. Home accidents—and few realize this, I believe—caused 500 more deaths last year than motor crashes, 39,000, and increase of 7,500 over the 1935 record of 31,500. Traffic fatalities, of course, are only a part of the human toll in motor accident. In addition to the 38,000 reported killed last year 110,000 received permanent disabling injuries.

Accidents can be reduced. I remember a few years ago, in my home city, in the shops it was a common thing to have the ambulance standing by, but industry has reduced accidents, and if industry can reduce accidents, they can be reduced in homes and on the highways. The fact that six states have within the past four years reduced their accidents on highways goes to show that accidents can be reduced in all of the states. Now, these six states that have established that record for reducing accidents on the highways have set up a Safety Commission whose sole duty is to reduce accidents. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, Senate Bill No. 9 is an effort to reduce the accidents in Pennsylvania.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Law.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 20, entitled:

An Act to prohibit certain advertising of intoxicating liquors and intoxicating beverages and providing penalties and for the revocation of licenses and permits

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, this bill is far reaching in its effects. It affects industry that employs many people and in which there is invested many hundreds of thousands of dollars. I feel that possibly some good purpose could be accomplished by a regulation of outdoor advertiving insofar as it affects liquor and alcoholic beverages but this bill goes away beyond that regulation and in fact means confiscation. I am going to ask the members of this Senate to support my motion to have the bill recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of allowing the people whose business is affected by this bill, so that they can be heard, and for the purpose of giving time for a little more study, and so that it will be in good order for final passage.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, I move that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of further study.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

The PRESIDENT, Senate Bill No. 158, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," by providing for health rooms providing for enumeration of minors in certain cases; requiring enumeration of illiterate children and alien residents; providing for home and school visitors in lieu of or in addition to, other attendance officers and for their compensation; providing for the education of physically and mentally handicapped children and for the care of uneducable children; authorizing school districts to provide care and treatment of defective ears of pupils; and authorizing school districts of the fourth class to provide medical inspection at their own expense.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, on the vote just past, I would like to be permitted to make a statement. This resolution was reported out by the Committee on Constitutional Changes. That means that the Committee was in favor of reporting that resolution out for a vote of this Senate. I wish to call your attention that there are seventeen members on the Committee on Constitutional Changes, and the roll just had, shows that only two members of that Committee, voted in favor of the resolution, and in the Committee all of the members voted "Yes," except nine of them. They voted against the resolution which shows that the Committee was fair in reporting a resolution of that kind to the Senate floor to give this Senate an opportunity to demonstrate the courage of their own convictions and publicly vote against a resolution that they might not like, and I trust that the other Committees of this Senate will look at some of the bills that they have in their Committees along the same line. We have bills in committees that are very controversial, and there are members in this Senate who are waiting for these bills to be put on the Senate floor, so that they might have an opportunity to vote for or against these bills. I trust that this vote just taken has illustrated the principle that we all ought to follow, to bring bills that are of interest, out on the floor of the Senate, so that the members of the committees may vote either for or against those bills here on the floor, and permit others who want to vote for the bills and be publicly recorded on the bill by a vote on the Senate floor.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, is it possible to make a statement in addition to that of the Chairman of the committee.

The PRESIDENT. Make it short Senator.

Mr. WOODWARD .Mr. President, I will make it very short, so that the members may have the information, there are two rival bills, Senator Cavalcante's and my own, and I admit freely that the Senator's bill is better than mine, but the time-lock is not unlocked, and there will be nothing doing on Senator Cavalcante's bill, and the Woodward bill was already passed in 1935 and I think that needs serious consideration. A time-lock amendment may fail and we will be left in the lurch.

The PRESIDENT. I do not see why the Senator from Philadelphia should complain on the floor, when he does not vote for his own bill.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 464, (House Bill No. 565), entitled:

An Act prohibiting the use of the designation of "college" by any institution not conforming to the standards of a college prescribed by the State Council of Education and providing for injunctions and penalties

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 492, (House Bill No. 390), entitled:

An Act relating to the performance of industrial work in homes, regulating and in certain cases prohibiting industrial homework imposing duties restrictions and liabilities on industrial homeworkers and on persons partnerships associations and corporations directly or indirectly furnishing materials and articles to home-workers for manufacture or work thereon requiring permits and homeworkers' certificates and prescribing the fees therefor conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Labor and Industry and prescribing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I am surprised that this bill has reached the position of final passage on this calendar and I am unable to see how any thoughtful Senator can support it. This bill prohibits the manufacture in the homes, of certain articles given by the employer to be made in the homes. Among these enumerated articles are toys and dolls, but the bill permits the Department of Labor and Industry to prescribe rules and regulations which will undoubtedly prevent the manufacture of other articles. The extent to which this legislation was intended to go is shown by the fact that the bill when it passed the House prohibited the manufacture in the home of articles of wearing apparel for children ten years of age or younger.

I received letters from a number of people in my district, a rural district in the western part of Pennsylvania, letters from ladies who said that they are engaged in such work as crocheting, knitting and other work upon dresses and garments which they are advised that they cannot do if this bill is passed. One of these ladies states that she is a cripple, that she is afflicted with infantile paralysis, and she is obliged to sit in an arm chair, but that the work which she has been given to do helps provide for her support and keeps her mind off her physical disability.

Now it is supposed that the passage of this bill will raise the price somewhat, to be paid in factories, of employees there; but where is all this regimentation to lead to? The Federal Government started in with the limitation of the number of acres which were to be planted to wheat, and they extended that to cotton, and the people who took their cotton acreage out of production turned to potatoes and tobacco, with the result that the Government then tried to limit the production of potatoes; and I am told that a bill has been reported out of committee in the House, and perhaps has already been passed, which would limit the production of tobacco in this State. Are we going to destroy completely all initiative and individual self determination? Are we to regiment and control all the acts of our citizens as though they have no wills of their own? What is to become of all these persons who are doing this class of work? They will be forced to go on relief. I would like to know what would be gained in the end by this? This country is now flooded with toys, novelties, garments and other articles of many descriptions which are made in homes in Europe, Japan and elsewhere; and to pass a bill of this kind will simply permit the country to be flooded more and more with that class of articles. Why do we not let our people work, as that will keep them off relief rolls, keep up their morale and permit them to be self-reliant? Cut out this enormous tax burden for relief. It is about time we again returned to sanity in government. And in addition to this, this bill, in my opinion, is unconstitutional. I ask this Senate to vote down the bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Cavalcante,	Heyburn,	Law,	Ruth,
Dent,	Howell,	McCreesh,	Sipe,

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interroga. the sponsor of this bill the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Frey.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Frey, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I wish the sponsor, Mr. Frey, would tell us why certain theatrical and entertainment producers should have special exemptions from other classes of labor.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I did not understand that feature entered into this bill. This bill is directed at unscrupulous entertainment producers with whom the Department has had trouble. At the present time these booking agencies claim exemption from licensure, stating that they are theatrical contractors and not booking agents.

These so called entertainment contractors, booking shows, are in no sense of the word engaging talent for their own use. The performers obtaining engagements through them may be registered with any number of contractors and subject to call at any time. Many of the theatrical booking agents are taking advantage of the entertainers and charging them exorbitant fees for obtaining engagements for them, and in some instances send them to places where jobs do not exist. This bill will undoubtedly place all theatrical booking agents under the provisions of the Act and will enable the Department to prosecute those agents who continue to operate in an unscrupulous manner. The primary objectives of the amendments are to bring under the provision of the Act theatrical booking agents who confine their business almost in its entirety to assigning entertainers to tap rooms, night clubs and road houses.

The amendments will also give more protection to the entertainer who in most instances is not protected and must resort to booking agents for employment.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. EPHRAIM Z. GALLAHER, offered the following prayer:

Bless Jehovah. All that is in us bless His Holy name. He gives us the sunshine and the rain. He painted the rainbow on the clouds. He maketh the world beautiful. He restoreth our strength when our body is tired and our heart is heavy. He watches over at night-time when we sleep. So may we not be ashamed to pause together and utter sincere praise unto our heavenly Father.

And our heavenly Father we are requested to mention unto Thee that one member of this body, Arthur R. Schor, has been called home because of sickness in family. We pray Thy blessing upon Mr. Schor and family. May they know through Thee, that all members are interested in their welfare.

In Christ's name.—Amen.

An Act to prohibit the recruiting or the securing or offering to secure employment for persons to take places of employes where a labor strike is pending or a lockout exists

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it shall be unlawful for any person for himself or as agent or servant of any firm or corporation to recruit any person or persons for employment or to secure or offer to secure for any person or persons any employment when the purpose of such recruiting securing or offering to secure employment is to have such persons take the place of employment of employes in an industry where a labor strike is then pending or a lockout exists

Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or to suffer imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or both at the discretion of the court

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 875, (Senate Bill No. 6), as follows:

An Act relating to employes and organizations thereof defining labor disputes prescribing the procedure by which and the conditions under which injunctions may be granted in such disputes and the scope thereof declaring certain undertakings and promises between employers and employes contrary to public policy and void prescribing the nature of proof necessary in actions arising out of labor disputes against persons or associations prescribing the terms and conditions for bonds to be furnished prior to the issuance of injunctions prescribing the procedure in case of appeal from granting injunctions limiting the duration of temporary and permanent injunctions in case of labor disputes and providing for the payment of costs and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith

The first section was read as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same as follows Section 1 This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Labor Anti-Injunction Act"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of amendment.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1839, entitled:

An Act to limit the power of the Supreme and Superior Courts in declaring laws enacted by the General Assembly to be unconstitutional

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That hereafter neither the Supreme Court nor the Superior Court of this Commonwealth shall have any power or jurisdiction to declare invalid as offending any provision of the Constitution of this Commonwealth or any law or part thereof heretofore or hereafter enacted by the General Assembly of this Commonwealth unless five judges of said court shall concur in the decision holding such law or part thereof unconstitutional

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 1, page 1, line 11, by striking out the word: "five" and inserting in lieu thereof: "six"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I object to the amendment.

The SPEAKER. The question before the House is will the House agree to the amendment.

Mr. TURNER. I say, Mr. Speaker, I object, to the amendment, and I ask for a roll call. Mr. Speaker, I understand the bill at the present time provides for a five to two decision by the Supreme Court on constitutional questions, and that this amendment would make it six to one. Am I correct in that assumption?

Mr. MARINO. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. I think, Mr. Speaker, that five to two is bad enough, but six to one is infinitely worse. Therefore I am opposed to it and ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TURNER and Mr. HABBYSHAW.

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

YEAS—78

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of a hearing.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, under the rules, a member is only permitted to vote when he is within the hall of the House. Will the Speaker be good enough to explain what is defined as the hall of the House? Does it include the cigar stand on the other side, the Governor's office, the Senate, or the restaurant downstairs, or is it confined to this room?

The SPEAKER. The floor of the House is defined as that space included within the four walls of this room and the floor thereof. It does not include the lobby.

Mr. TURNER. It does not include, Mr. Speaker, the lobby and the hall outside of the doors of this House?

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

BILL PASSED OVER

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I ask that House Bill No. 2172, Senate Bill No. 639, Printer's No. 332, be passed over in its order.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Weiss.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Allegheny Mr. Weiss as to why he wants the bill to go over in its order.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, the Legislative Reference Bureau have been preparing amendments so as to have this bill conform in some respects with the Federal Wagner Labor Relations Act. I have just had a call from Mr. Fertig and he says that he has not yet had time to finish the preparation of those amendments as he did not have a reprint of the Labor Bill as it was reported out of the Labor Committee of the House last night. The amendments will be over in a few minutes and I wish the Chairman of the Committee on Labor would permit this bill to go over in its order.

Mr. YOURISHIN. I will, Mr. Speaker, but I want to see those amendments.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. The gentleman will see the amendments as soon as they come over here.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection and the bill will be passed over in its order.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2173, (Senate Bill No. 640), as follows:

An Act to encourage the making and maintaining of agreements concerning wages hours and conditions of employment between employers and employes by their representatives and the settlement of controversies concerning the same by mediation and voluntary arbitration conferring powers of mediation and arbitration of such controversies on the Department of Labor and Industry

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That

Section 1 This act shall be known and may be cited as "Pennsylvania Labor Mediation Act"

Section 2 It is the public policy of the Commonwealth to encourage employers and employes by their representatives to make and maintain agreements concerning wages hours and conditions of employment and to settle all controversies arising out of the application of such agreements

Section 3 When used in this act

(a) The term "department" shall mean the Department of Labor and Industry

(b) The term "employer" includes an employer and any person acting directly or indirectly on behalf of or in the interest of an employer with the employer's knowledge or ratification but a labor organization or any officer or any officer or agent thereof shall be considered an employer only with respect to individuals employed by such organization

(c) The term "employe" shall include any employe and shall not be limited to the employes of a particular employer unless the act explicitly states otherwise and shall include any individual whose work has ceased as a consequence of or in connection with any current labor dispute or because of any unfair labor practice as provided in the Act of 1937 entitled "Pennsylvania Labor Relations Act" This term however shall not include any individual taking the place of any employe whose work has ceased as aforesaid nor shall it include any individual employed by his parent or spouse or in the domestic service of any person in the home of the employer

(d) The term "representatives" is not limited to individuals but shall include labor organizations and individual representatives need not themselves be employed by and a labor organization serving as a representative need not be limited in membership to employes of the employer whose employes are represented

Section 4 The parties or either party to a controversy between employers and employes may invoke the services of the department or the department may proffer its services in a controversy over the making maintaining or the application of an agreement between employers and employes concerning wages hours or conditions of employment Whenever the services of the department have been invoked by any party to a controversy or when the department has proffered its services the department shall promptly put itself in communication with the parties to such controversy and shall use its best efforts by mediation through a representative of the Bureau of Mediation and Arbitration in the Department to bring them in agreement

Section 5 For the further purpose of carry out the provisions of this act the Department at the request of both the employer and the employes may set up a commission or panel whose members shall serve in such controversy without pay

Section 6 Whenever a controversy shall arise between an employer and his employes which is not settled either in conference between representatives of the parties or through mediation in the manner provided in the preceding sections such controversy may by agreement of the parties be submitted to arbitration one person to be selected by the employer one person to be selected by the employes and a third to be selected by the representatives of the employer and employes and in the event of any such appointment or selection not being made upon the request of the parties in the controversy the Department may select the third person to arbitrate the matter submitted provided however that the failure or refusal of either party to submit a controversy to arbitration shall not be construed as a violation of the policy or purpose of this Act or of any provision thereof nor shall failure or refusal to arbitrate constitute a basis for any action at law or suit in equity

Section 7 Nothing in this act shall be construed so as to interfere with impede or diminish in any way the right of employes to strike or engage in other concerted activities

Section 8 If any clause sentence paragraph or part of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances shall for any reason be adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid such judgment shall not affect impair or invalidate the remainder of this act and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances but shall be confined in its operation to the clause sentence paragraph or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered and to the person or circumstances involved It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such invalid provisions not been included herein

Section 9 All acts or parts of acts whether general special or local inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed Provided that this act shall not apply to any controversy involving unfair labor practices or the selection of collective bargaining representatives provided for in the act of 1937 entitled "Pennsylvania Labor Relations Act"

Section 10 This act shall take effect immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RESTORED TO CALENDAR

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that Rule 50 of this House be suspended for the specific purpose of restoring House Bill No. 250, Printer's No. 489, entitled "An act authorizing cities, boroughs and towns to construct, acquire, own, operate and control waterworks and electric plants and appurtenances thereto, and to sell and purchase water and electrical energy both within and without their corporate limits; conferring the power of eminent domain; conferring certain powers and imposing certain duties on such municipalities and the controller or auditors thereof; providing for the incorporation and election of a board of directors to operate and manage such works, and defining its powers and duties; and prescribing penalties" to the House calendar which was dropped from the third reading postponed calendar by reason of not having been called up within the five-day period required under the rules of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MORAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny whether he droped this bill intentionally from the calendar, Mr Speaker, allowing the five days to elapse".

Mr. MORAN. I did not, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

On a rising vote, one hundred and nine members, or more than a majority, having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

TIME EXTENDED ON BILL

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the time on this bill be extended five days.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 752, entitled:

An Act regulating the removal of sand, gravel and coal from the beds of streams, lakes and other bodies of water, wholly or partly within, or forming part of the boundary of this Commonwealth and providing for the imposition, collection and lien of charges for such materials taken, removed or dredged from such waters title to which is in whole or in part in the Commonwealth, requiring persons, associations, copartnerships and corporations to secure permits from the Water and Power Resources Board and to file bonds with the Department of Revenue; providing for appeals and providing penalties and refunds.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. PRESTON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 5 of title, by striking out the word "charges" and inserting in lieu thereof: "royalties"

Amend sec. 3, page 4, line 17, by inserting after the word "ton" the following: "of two thousand pounds"

Amend sec. 3, page 4, line 28, by striking out the words "charge of" and inserting in lieu thereof: "royalty to be fixed by the board as above provided, not however exceeding"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 2073, Printer's No. 596 was passed over at the request of Mr. OMINSKY.

There being no objection House Bill No. 2039, Printer's No. 653 was passed over at the request of Mr. McELROY.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1568, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws six hundred eighty-two) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws" by adding thereto sections four hundred and twenty B (420B) four hundred and twenty C (420C) and four hundred and twenty D (420D) defining industrial insurance and providing uniform policy provisions and prohibited policy provisions for industrial insurance contracts

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws six hundred eighty-two) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws" is hereby amended by adding thereto sections four hundred and twenty B (420B) four hundred and twenty C (420C) and four hundred and twenty D (420D) to read as follows

Section 420B Definition of Industrial Insurance Industrial life or industrial endowment insurance is hereby declared to be that form of insurance either

(1) Under which premiums are payable weekly or

(2) Under which premiums are payable monthly or oftener but other than weekly if the face amount of insurance provided in the policy is less than one thousand dollars and the words "Industrial Policy" are printed upon the face of the policy

In all such policies as above defined in subdivision one (1) the words "industrial policy" must be printed upon the policy as a part of the descriptive matter

Section 420C Uniform Industrial Policy Provisions From and after the first day of January nineteen hundred and thirty-eight no policy of Industrial Insurance shall be issued or delivered to take effect in this Commonwealth or be issued by a life insurance company organized under the laws of this Commonwealth unless the same shall contain in substance the following provisions

(a) A provision that the insured is entitled to a grace of four (4) weeks within which the payment of any premium after the first may be made except that where premiums are payable monthly the insured shall be entitled to a grace of one month or 30 days During such period of grace the policy shall continue in full force but in case the policy becomes a claim during said grace period before the overdue premiums are paid the amount of overdue premiums may be deducted in any settlement under the policy

(b) A provision that the policy shall constitute the entire contract between the parties but if the company desires to make the application a part of the contract it may do so provided a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued and in such case the policy shall contain a provision that the policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties

(c) A provision that the policy shall be incontestable after it has been in force during the life-time of the insured two years from its date of issue except for nonpayment of premium and except for violation of the conditions of the policy relating to naval or military service in time of war and except as to provisions and conditions relating to benefits in the event of total and permanent disability and those granting additional insurance specifically against death by accident

(d) A provision that if the age of the insured has been misstated the amount payable under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age

(e) A provision that the policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and that the company will annually determine the portion of any divisible surplus accruing on the policy and indicating the conditions under which the company shall apportion such dividends to the policyholder

(f) A provision that in event of default in premium payments after premiums have been paid for three full years there shall be available a stipulated form of insurance effective from the due date of the defaulted premium the net value of which stipulated form of insurance shall not be less than the reserve on the policy (exclusive of reserves if any for provisions relating to benefits in the event of specific types of disability or provisions granting additional insurance specifically against death by accident and for provisions granting benefits in addition to life insurance) at the end of the last completed quarter of the policy year for which premiums have been paid and on any dividend additions thereto if any (the policy to specify the mortality table and rate of interest and also the method of valuation if other than net level premium adopted for computing such reserve) less a specified maximum percentage (not more than two and one-half) of the maximum face amount insured by the policy and of dividend additions thereto if any and less any existing indebtedness to the company on or secured by the policy provided however that the said percentage or other rule of calculation so stated as to permit determination of the values shall be specified for each year for which required values are not included in the policy and provided a company may in lieu of the provision herein permitted for the deduction from the reserve of a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the maximum face amount insured by the policy and of any dividend additions thereto insert in the policy a provision that a deduction of one-fifth of said reserve may be made or said two and one-half per centum of the maximum face amount insured or one-fifth of said reserve at the option of the company Provided further that after premiums have been paid for five full years the policy may be surrendered to the company at its home office within four weeks of the due date of the defaulted premium for a specific cash value at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of insurance as aforesaid and provided further that the company may defer payment of such cash value for not more than six months after application therefor is made In the event that such cash or other non-forfeiture value is not requested within the required period it shall be provided that a stipulated form of insurance shall automatically become effective

(g) A table showing in figures the non-forfeiture options available under the policy at the end of each year upon default in premium payments during the premium payment period but not to exceed the first twenty (20) years of the policy such table to begin with the year in which such values become available and providing that the company will furnish upon request an extension of such table beyond the years shown in the policy

(h) A provision that the policy if not surrendered for its cash value or if the period of extended insurance has not expired may be reinstated within one year from the date of default in payment of premiums upon payment of all overdue premiums and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon said policy and at the option of the company interest thereon at a rate not to exceed six per centum per annum and upon the presentation of evidence satisfactory to the company of the insurability of the insured

(i) A provision that when a policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured settlement shall be made upon receipt of due proof of death

(j) A form number and title on the face of the policy clearly and correctly describing its form

Any such policy may be issued or delivered in this Commonwealth which in the opinion of the Insurance Commissioner contains provisions on any one or more of the several foregoing requirements more favorable to the policyholder than hereinbefore required The policies of an insurance company organized under the laws of any other State or foreign government may contain when issued in this Commonwealth any provision which may be prescribed by the laws of the State or government under which the company is organized not contrary to the provisions heretofore prescribed and the policies of a life insurance company organized under the laws of this Commonwealth when issued in any other State territory or foreign country may contain any provision required by the laws of such State territory or foreign country to be contained in the policies issued therein

Any of the foregoing provisions or parts thereof not applicable to non-participating or term policies shall to that extent not be incorporated therein and the provisions of this section shall not apply to policies issued or granted pursuant to the non-forfeiture provisions prescribed in sub-section (f) of this section

Section 420D Prohibited Industrial Policy Provisions From and after the first day of January nineteen hundred and thirty-eight no policy of industrial life or industrial endowment insurance shall be issued or delivered to take effect in this Commonwealth or be issued by a life insurance company organized under the laws of this Commonwealth if it contains any of the following provisions

(a) A provision limiting the time within which any action at law or in equity may be commenced to less than two years after the cause of action shall accrue

(b) A provision by which the settlement on the maturity of any policy shall be of less value than the amount promised on the face of the policy plus dividend additions if any less any indebtedness to the company on or secured by the policy and less any premiums that may be the terms of the policy be deducted payments to be made in accordance with the terms of the policy

(c) A provision to the effect that the agent soliciting the insurance is the agent of the person insured under said policy or making the acts or representations of such agent binding upon the person so insured under said policy

(d) A provision by which the company may pay the proceeds of the policy at the death of the insured to any person other than the beneficiary designated in the policy except that the policy may provide that if the beneficiary does not within the period stated therein which shall not be less than thirty (30) days after the death of the insured submit proof of claim in the manner and form required by this policy or if there is no beneficiary designated in the policy other than the estate of the insured or if the beneficiary is a minor or is not legally qualified to give a valid release or dies before the insured then in any such case the company may pay the proceeds of the policy to the executor or administrator of the insured or to any relative by blood or connection by marriage of the insured appearing to the company to be equitably entitled to the same

(e) A provision by which the company may deny liability under the policy for the reason that the insured has previously obtained other insurance from the same company

Baker, F. T.,	McKinney,	Muir,	Wall,
Longaker,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 120, entitled:

An Act providing that when judgment is recovered against any insurance company for money due and owing under the terms of a policy issued by such insurance company an attorney's fee for the plaintiff shall be included in the costs of suit and paid in the same manner as other costs

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Hirsch.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HIRSCH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Hirsch, whether or not this is a lawyer's bill?

Mr. HIRSCH. I do not think it is, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, if this bill is not a lawyer's bill I would like to inquire whether or not it is an insurance bill.

Mr. HIRSCH. Mr. Speaker, this bill is to protect small policy holders in case there is litigation, to take care of the plaintiff's costs, and the bill is self-explanatory. I think that the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Harkins, has enough intelligence to interpret the bill without asking me about it.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to thank the gentleman from Schuylkill for his evidently high opinion of my intelligence. I supposed he was more familiar with the bill inasmuch as he was the sponsor of the bill, feeling that his intelligence was greater, that he could give me more than I could get from a slight perusal of it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTIONS

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1130 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. SIEGEL offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, April 27, 1937.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 1130, Printer's No. 643, entitled "An Act to amend sections fifty and seventy-two as amended sub-section (b) of section one hundred ninety-one sections two hundred twenty and two hundred twenty-six as amended sections two hundred twenty-eight and two hundred fifty-six and section two hundred eighty-five as amended of and to add section two hundred eighty-two and two hundred eighty-three of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred forty-eight) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" further regulating the taking of fish changing certain penalties and providing new penalties requiring certain persons to possess fishing licenses providing for and regulating the revocation of fishing licenses providing for the payment over of fines collected and the return of fines erroneously collected vesting certain additional powers in the Board of Fish Commissioners eliminating certain restrictions on the use of license fees and regulating closed seasons on boundary lakes be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. ALLEN offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. HAYS offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 27, 1937.

On Wednesday, April 21, 1937, Clarion County and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania lost one of its most distinguished citizens by the death of William L. Sansom at his home in Clarion, at the age of eighty-three years.

Mr. Sansom was a life long resident of Pennsylvania, an upright, honorable, Christian Gentleman, a civic leader, a veteran newspaper publisher, and a valued employe of the Commonwealth at the time of his passing.

He was editor and publisher of the Clarion Democrat, a weekly newspaper for almost half a Century, and for the past eighteen months, was Assistant Director of the State Library.

He will be mourned and missed by his family and many close friends, leaving a void in the County and State that cannot be entirely filled.

Therefore Be It Resolved, that the House of Representatives by this action go on record as deeply regretting the loss to the County of Clarion and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in the death of William L. Sansom and extend its sympathies to his family and friends.

Resolved, that a copy of this Resolution be sent to the family of the deceased by the Chief Clerk of this House.

Mr. PRESTON offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 528 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. BOLTZ offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, April 27, 1937.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 528, Printer's No. 91, entitled "An act authorizing the Secretary of Property and Supplies to sell and convey a certain lot of ground in Jackson Township Lebanon County", be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

TEMPORARY FLOOD CONTROL

Mr. LOPRESTI offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 27, 1937.

Whereas, the people of the City of Johnstown, during the March floods of 1936, suffered damage to the extent of approximately $40,000,000, about one-fifth of the total loss suffered in the entire Commonwealth during said flood period; and

Whereas, the residents of Johnstown were advised at five o'clock yesterday morning that another flood menaced the city; and

Whereas, while said flood fortunately will not be as severe as the flood of 1936, nevertheless, it has resulted in a considerable amount of property damage, and necessitated merchants moving their stocks of goods and residents moving their furniture as a precautionary measure; and

Whereas, the water-shed in the vicinity of Johnstown appears to have the heaviest rainfall annually within this Commonwealth, and this city is the one most frequently visited by disastrous floods; and

Whereas, flood stages at Johnstown are a continual menace to regions between said city and the City of Pittsburgh, and also to this latter city; therefore be it

Resolved, that the House of Representatives urges the Power and Water Resources Board, in the exercise of its flood control powers, to inaugurate, in and about Johnstown, as soon as the same can be done, a system of temporary flood control projects, such as stream channel improvements, the elimination of water obstructions etc., as may decrease the hazards of flood until such time as permanent flood control works may be constructed, and further urges said board to commence its permanent program of flood control works on said water-shed because it constitutes the most dangerous condition in the State;

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Water and Power Resources Board by the Chief Clerk of this House.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. HIRSCH, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported as amended, House Bill No. 121, entitled:

An Act imposing a state emergency tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on fuel oil used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth; providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof; requiring such distributors to secure permits to give security to file reports and to retain certain records; imposing duties on retail dealers, common carriers and such distributors; providing for rewards; imposing certain costs on counties; conferring powers and imposing duties on certain state officers and departments; providing for refunds; imposing penalties; and making an appropriation.

Mr. BLANK, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, House Bill No. 717, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause (a) of section two of the act, approved the seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 388), entitled "An act relating to the jurisdiction, powers, and procedure of the orphans' court and the court of common pleas as to sales, mortgages, conveyances on ground-rent leases, extinguishment of ground-rents, partition, exchange, squaring and adjusting of lines between adjoining owners, consolidation and combination of mining lands and the leasing thereof, the joining by owners of undivided interests in making and taking conveyances in order to change the route or location of any right of way or passage over adjoining or other lands, and the subdivision of premises so as to command the highest price or greatest rents, and, for such purpose, the laying out or dedication of roads, streets, and alleys, or the vacation of such as have not been accepted by the public authorities, where the court shall be of opinion that such decree will be to the interest and advantage of all those interested; and where the legal title is held by minors, lunatics, habitual drunkards, or weak-minded persons, a married person whose spouse is a lunatic, or has abandoned him or her for one year or has been absent and unheard of for seven years; by corporations having no capacity to convey or by any unincorporated association, by any religious, beneficial, or charitable society or association, incorporated or unincorporated, and the title is subject to forfeiture if real estate is held in excess of the amount prescribed by its charter or by law; by a corporation, or individual or individuals, and is subject to a trust of any description whatever; by any person as to whom a presumption of death may have arisen, or any interest wherein is held by any person under legal disability to dispose thereof; where the legal title is an estate tail or is subject to the lien of debts of a decendent not of record, contingent remainders, executory devises, or remainders to a class, some or all of whom may not be in being or ascertained; where estates shall have been devised or granted for special or limited purposes, where there is a power of sale but the time may have arrived for its exercise, any preliminary act may not have been done to bring it into exercise, the time limited for its exercise may have expired, or any one or more persons required to consent or join in its exercise may be non compos mentis, have removed out of the State, have died, refuse to act, unreasonably withhold consent, or be absent and unheard of, where there has been or shall be a defective appointment in any deed or will, and the necessary power is not given to the executor, devisee, or appointee to make sale and conveyance; where a trust has been created, and no power conferred on the trustee to do any of the acts which the court is hereby empowered to authorize or confirm; and to the effects of such decree," extending the provisions of said act to cases where real estate is held by entireties and the one spouse has been absent and unheard from for seven years under those circumstances from which the law would presume his or her decease.

Mr. ACHTERMAN, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1879, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act, approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. SENATE MESSAGES

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 17

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 8, 1937.

Whereas, The Triangle of the City of Pittsburgh, has been flooded several times during the past years as a result of the river overflowing its banks; and

Whereas, On each occasion of the flood waters coming into the Triangle District, great property damages were suffered by the citizens of Pittsburgh; and

Whereas, Engineering authorities have expressed the opinion that by the construction of flood walls along the river at this point, future floods could be prevented; and

Whereas, Not only could future floods be thus prevented, but the flood walls could be so constructed as to encase the railroad tracks along the river and carry along the top thereof a beautiful boulevard, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That a joint legislative committee is hereby created composed of three members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker of the House, and two members of the Senate appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, whose duty it shall be to make a broad investigation to determine the feasibility and desirability of constructing flood walls to protect the Triangle of the City of Pittsburgh and to ascertain the approximate cost thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That said joint committee shall make a report to the General Assembly at this or the next regular session of the Legislature as early as possible with such recommendations as are deemed appropriate.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1937. 132d of the General Assembly.

Vol. 21. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 28, 1937. No. 50.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, April 28, 1937.

The Senate met at 12 o'clock noon.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Harvey Huffman) in the Chair.

Our Father, we lift our hearts in praise to the giver of every good gift, source of life and light and every joy. When we consider Thy Heavens, the work of Thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which Thou hast ordained, we ask, "What is man, that Thou art mindful of him; and the son of man, that Thou visitest him?" Thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast crowned him with glory and honor. Sunshine and rain Thou hast given to the evil and to the good.

Help us to be worthy of Thy goodness; to walk as made in Thy image; to live lives of service; to discover a debt of love in every gift of grace.

Wherefore, let the words of our mouths and the meditations of our hearts be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, our strength and our redeemer. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. KAHLE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Whereas The production sale and distribution of milk and certain milk products in this Commonwealth are attendant with serious conditions affecting milk producers milk dealers and consumers of milk the following legislative findings of fact with respect thereto are hereby made

1 Milk is the most necessary human food vital for promotion of the public health and for development of strength and vigor in the race It is a most fertile field for the growth of bacteria and therefore its production and distribution have been surrounded by more costly sanitary requirements than those of any other commodity in this the third greatest milk producing and consuming State of the nation

2 Milk consumers are not assured of a constant and sufficient supply of pure wholesome milk unless the high cost of maintaining sanitary conditions of production and strandards of purity is returned to the producers of milk If this is not done large numbers dispose of their herds or engage in milk strikes and remaining producers supply unhealthful milk or milk lower quality because of financial inability to comply with sanitary requirements and to keep vigilant against contamination Public health is menaced when milk dealers do not or cannot pay a price to producers commensurate with the cost of sanitary production or when consumers are required to pay excessive prices for this necessity of life

3 Milk dealers must handle constant surpluses to meet the emergency requirements of normal variations in fluid consumption and to meet seasonal variations in production which amounts in excess of fluid requirements must find a market in fluid use or in manufacture and tend to demoralize the industry Only one per centum of the milk dealers of the Commonwealth handle over sixty per centum of the milk sold by producers to dealers and persons have often combined privately to establish practices or fix prices to the detriment of producers or consumers

4 Milk producers must make delivery of their highly perishable commodity immediately after it is produced and must generally accept any market at any price Under the utilization method of payment prevailing in the milk industry particularly in cities the value of this market is unknown until the milk dealer sells the fluid milk and uses or disposes of the surplus Furthermore only the dealers have facilities for accurately weighing and testing milk This knowledge of weights tests and uses is in the exclusive possession of the dealers The producers' lack of control over their market is aggravated by the trade custom of dealers in paying weeks after delivery keeping producers obligated to continue delivery in order to receive payment for previous sales and permitting dealers to operate on the producers' capital without giving security therefore Hence milk producers are subject to fraud and imposition and do not possess the freedom of contract necessary for the procuring of cost of production

Whereas public control of the milk industry in recent years is stabilizing the conditions therein and a relaxation of control will cause a return to the unhealthful uneconomic deceptive and destructive practices of the past with respect to this paramount industry upon which the health and welfare of the Commonwealth largely depends and

Whereas It is necessary to preserve and promote the strength and vigor of the inhabitants of this Commonwealth to protect the public health and welfare and to prevent fraud and imposition upon consumers and producers by continuing to treat the production transportation manufacture processing storage distribution and sale of milk in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a business affecting the public health and affected with a public interest

(19) Exceeding one million (1,000,000) pounds a license fee of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00)

The commission shall charge and collect license fees from subdealers on a yearly basis of fifteen dollars ($15.00) for each route owned or operated at the commencement of the licenses period

Except as otherwise expressly provided by this act the license fee fixed by this section shall be paid before any license fee or any renewal thereof is issued Where a license is applied for by a milk dealer and the commission declines to grant a license to the applicant the license fee shall be charged and retained by the commission only pro rata for so much of the license year as expired prior to the issuance of the order refusing the license

Section 409 License Fees of Certain Milk Dealers Milk dealers who are not engaged in the milk business at the commencement of the license period shall pay a proportionate amount of the annual fee as follows

(1) For a license issued on or after August first but prior to November first three-fourth of the annual fee

(2) For a license issued on or after November first but prior to February first of the succeeding year one-half of the annual fee

(3) For a license issued on or after February first but prior to May first one-fourth of the annual fee

Milk dealers not engaged in the milk business during any month preceding calendar year shall submit with their application a license fee in the sum of one dollar ($1.00) and in addition thereto at such time or times as the commision may fix but not more than four months after the granting of the license shall pay an additional sum based upon the daily average total quantity of milk received produced or brought within the Commonwealth by such dealer during any of such months in the proportionate amount above stated

Section 410 Computation of License Fees Milk sold and distributed out side of this Commonwealth in any state which charges milk dealers a license fee may be deducted in the determination of the amount of the license fee required by this act Provided That such quantity of milk is actually computed in determining the amount of such license fee in such other state In computing the license fee to be charged by the commission the fluid milk equivalent of milk other than fluid milk shall be ascertained and fixed in such manner as the commision shall prescribe Nothing herein is to be construed as requiring in the computation of the license fee the inclusion of milk which is received by the applicant milk dealer from another milk dealer subject to license hereunder which milk has been included in the computation of such other dealer's fee or milk which is produced by the applicant dealer and not sold by him to stores or consumers Applicant milk dealers other than sub-dealers receiving their entire supply from milk dealers who have paid a license fee thereon to this commission shall pay the license fee of ten dollars ($10.00)

Section 411 Classification of Licenses The commission may classify licenses and may issue licenses to any milk dealer to operate as a milk dealer in a particular municipality only or in a particular market or markets in the Commonwealth only but no milk dealer shall if granted a license under this act at all be prohibited from acting as a milk dealer in any municipality or in any market in which he was operating upon January second one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four

Section 412 Other Licenses The licenses required by this act shall be in addition to any other licenses which are now or may hereafter be required by law

ARTICLE V

Bonds of Milk Dealers

Section 501 Milk Dealers Required to File Bonds It shall be unlawful for a milk dealer to purchase milk from producers unless the milk dealer shall file with the commission a corporate surety individual surety or collateral bond approved by the commission Except as otherwise herein provided the bond shall be in a sum equal to the value ofthe highest aggregate amount of milk purchased by the dealer from producers in any one month during the preceding calendar year which value shall be computed according to lawful prices and shall not in any event exceed one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00) The bond shall be upon a form prescribed by the commission sonditioned for the payment by the milk dealer of all amounts due including amounts due under this act and the orders of the commission for milk sold by such producers to the milk dealer during the license year upon such terms and conditions as the commission may prescribe

In the case of a milk dealer who pays producers in full each week for milk purcased by him from such producers the bond shall be in a sum equal to fifty per centum of the value of the highest aggregate amount of milk purchased by the dealer from producers in any one month during the preceding calendar year which value shall be computed according to lawful prices and shall not in any event exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000)

Section 502 Computation of Amount of Certain Bonds Milk purchased by milk dealer from producers outside the Commonwealth and sold by such dealers as fluid milk

within Commonwealth shall be included in computing the amount of such bond except where such dealer has filed a bond for the protection of such producers with the state wherein the milk is purchased or with such producers In such computation the amount due for such milk shall be determined according to any applicable official prices or any lawful contract price

A milk dealer purchasing or intending to purchase milk from producers but not so engaged during any month of the preceding calendar year shall file a bond in a reasonable sum to be fixed by the commission

Section 503 Time of Filing The bond herein required shall be filed with the dealers application for a license and shall be filed within the time for filing such application

Section 504 Requisites of Bonds Substitution A corporate surety bond shall be executed to the Commonwealth by the milk dealer as principal and by a corporate surety company authorized to do business in this Commonwealth as surety An individual surety bond shall be executed to the Commonwealth by the milk dealer as principal and by one or more individuals as surety or sureties who shall have sole title to real estate the fair valuation of which free and clear or in excess of all encumbrances shall be at least equal to the amount of the bond A collateral bond shall be executed to the Commonwealth by the milk dealer as principal shall set forth therein the collateral posted with such bond and shall have attached thereto the collateral properly assigned and transfered to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania The collateral posted with such bond shall be cash in an amount equal to the amount of the bond or such bond shall be secured by an actual deposit with the commission or with a bank bank and trust company or national bank within the Commonwealth of money to full amount of the bond or by securities to such amount consisting of interest-bearing obligations of the United States government of this Commonwealth or of any political subdivision of this Commonwealth or by any other security or securities approved bythe commission The security or securities deposited therewith shall constitute a trust fund for producers from whom the dealer purchases milk

The commission may likewise grant to any milk dealer the authority to substitute for any bond surety or any collateral another bond surety or other collateral provided that such other bond surety or collateral meets all the requirements of this act

Section 505 Financial Statement A milk dealer shall from time to time when required by the commission make and file with the commission a verified statement of his disbursements or of any other facts in connection with his business during a period to be prescribed by the commission which financial statement shall contain the names of the producers from whom milk was purchased the amount due to the producers and any other relevant facts required by the commision pertinent to the dealer or the dealer's surety or sureties

Section 506 Increase or Decrease of Bond If it shall appear from the dealer's financial statement or from facts otherwise ascertained by the commission that the bond afforded to producers selling milk to such milk dealers does not adequately protect such producers the commission may require such milk dealer to procure an additional surety or to give an additional bond or additional security for the collateral bond in a sum to be determined by the commission which shall not exceed more than fifty per centum of the value of the highest aggregate amount of milk purchased by the dealer from producers in any one month during the preceding or current year which value shall be computed according to the prices applicable and shall not in any event exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) In the case of a milk dealer who pays producers in full each week for milk purchased by him from such producers any increase required hereunder shall not exceed more than twenty-five per centum of such value and in any event shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000)

The commission may grant a reduction of the bond or the collateral or release an additional surety if it shall appear that owing to a decrease in the milk purchases of the milk dealer or to other causes a bond in a lesser amount or with fewer sureties will protect producers selling milk to such milk dealer

Section 507 Duty of State Treasurer All bonds together with any moneys or securities given as collateral therefor received by the commission from milk dealers pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be transmitted by the commission to the State Treasurer for safe-keeping subject to withdrawal in whole or in part at any time by the commission

Section 508 Interest or Dividends upon Securities The milk dealer shall be entitled to all moneys received by the State Treasurer as interest or dividends upon any security or securities deposited by such milk dealer with the commission and transmitted by the commission to the State Treasurer for safe-keeping in accordance with the provisions of this act Provided however That the milk dealer not shall be entitled to interest or dividends if there is on file with the commission a valid unpaid claim of a producer against the milk dealer based on milk sold by such producer to the milk dealer

Section 509 Suit by Commission The commission shall have the power in its discretion to sue on the bond on behalf of producers Suit may be brought in the name of the Commonwealth upon relation of the commission or of the Attorney General in such manner as debts are now by law recoverable

Section 510 Effect of Order by Commission If by valid formal order refusing suspending or revoking a license after hearing with due notice to all those liable on the bond the commission has found a milk dealer to be indebted thereunder such order shall be conclusive evidence of the amount due under such bond in a suit thereon by the commission unless an appeal therefrom is pending and a supersedeas granted

Section 511 Procedure for Disbursing Proceeds The commission may prescribe the procedure for the payment out of the proceeds of any bond or collateral required by this article of the amounts found due to producers based on sales of milk by them to a milk dealer who has posted a bond or collateral Provided however That if the proceeds of a bond or of collateral which has been posted by a milk dealer shall be insufficient to pay in full the amounts due to producers who have sold milk to such milk dealer the moneys available shall be divided pro rata among such producers

Section 512 Cooperatives A cooperative agricultural association or corporation organized under the laws of this Commonwealth or a similar association organized under the laws of this or any other state shall be deemed a producer within the provisions of this article and shall be entitled to its benefits Such an association or corporation if operated for the benefit of producers under contract with it and not conducted for profit shall not be required to file a bond under the provisions of this article

Section 513 Subdealers' Bonds It shall be unlawful for a subdealer to buy milk from a milk dealer who purchases milk from producers unless the subdealer shall file with the commission a corporate surety individual surety or collateral bond approved by the commission Such bond shall be executed to the Commonwealth in a sum equal to three hundred dollars ($300.00) for each route owned or operated by the subdealer and shall be conditioned for the payment by the subdealer of all amounts due under this act and the orders of the commission for milk purchased from milk dealer or dealers during the license year subject however to the further condition that if at time of default such milk dealer or dealers are indebted to producers the proceeds thereof shall be held on the account of such dealer or dealers for th benefi of such producers Such bond shall be filed annually with the subdealer's application for a license and shall in all applicable particulars not herein specifically mentioned be subject to terms and conditions such as provided in the other sections of this article for the bonds of other milk dealers and for suits thereon except where the protection of such milk dealers selling to the subdealer or of producers selling to such milk dealers requires the substitution of such dealers and producers in applying such terms and conditions to the bonds of subdealers

ARTICLS VI

Weighing and Testing

Section 601 Weighing or Measuring Permits It shall be unlawful for any milk dealer to buy or receive milk from producers at any plant station creamery factory or other place within the Commonwealth where such milk is weighed or measured or to sell or deliver milk to stores or consumers unless the milk dealer holds a permit for each place of weighing or measuring such milk issued by the commission as herein provided

The weighing or measuring permit shall be issued by the commission for each such place upon application therefor by the milk dealer on a form prescribed by the commission furnishing information including that pertaining to the apparatus and methods used and persons engaged in weighing or measuring the milk The application shall be accompanied by a fee of five dollars ($5.00) and shall be filed before commencing to weigh or measure milk and annually thereafter on or before December first

Each weighing or measuring permit shall be issued hereunder for the term of one calendar year and shall be posted and kept in plain view of persons delivering milk at the place for which it is issued

Section 602 Certified Testers It shall be unlawful for any milk dealer to buy or receive milk from producers or to sell or deliver milk to stores or consumers on the basis of or with reference to the amount of butterfat contained in such milk unless the butterfat test thereof is conducted by a tester certified by the commission

The certified tester shall keep an accurate record of all tests made and copies of such record shall be kept for a period of two (2) years by him and by the milk dealer

Any person who upon the effective date of this act is the holder of a certificate of proficiency for milk testing issued after examination conducted by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture shall upon application to the commission on a form prescribed by the commission furnishing information including that pertaining to good character and to the apparatus and methods used in testing be issued a certificate and be designated therein as a certified tester

Any person who is not the holder of such certificate of proficiency upon the effective date of this act shall prior to applying for a tester's certificate apply to the commission for a certificate of proficiency Such application shall be accompanied by a fee of three dollars ($3.00) The applicant shall be required to pass an examination in milk testing reasonably prescribed and conducted by the commission and upon approval of the application shall be issued a certificate of proficiency Thereupon and annually thereafter without such examination the person so certified may apply for a tester's certificate as herein prescribed

The application for a tester's certificate accompanied by a fee of three dollars ($3.00) shall be filed upon a form prescribed by the commission before commencing to test milk and annually thereafter on or before December first

The tester's certificate issued hereunder shall be for the term of one calendar year and shall be posted and kept in plain view in the plant in which the certified tester is employed

Section 603 Certified Weighers and Samplers It shall be unlawful for any milk dealer to buy or receive milk from producers or to sell or deliver milk to stores or consumers on the basis of or with reference to the amount of butterfat contained in such milk unless the samples taken for testing purposes shall be made by a certified tester or certified weigher and sampler and according to the method prescribed in this act

Any person who upon the effective date of this act is the holder of a certificate of proficiency for milk weighing and sampling issued after examination conducted by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture shall upon application to the commission on a form prescribed by the commission furnishing information including that pertaining to good character and to apparatus and methods used in weighing and sampling be issued a certificate and be designated therein as a certified weigher and sampler

Any person who is not the holder of such certificate of proficiency upon the effective date of this act shall prior to applying for a weighing and sampling certificate apply to the commission for a certificate of proficiency Such application shall be accompanied by a fee of three dollars ($3.00) The applicant shall be required to pass an examination in weighing and sampling milk reasonably prescribed and conducted by the commission and upon approval of the application shall be issued a certificate of proficiency Thereupon and annually thereafter without such examination the person so certified may apply for a certificate as a certified weigher and sampler The application for such weighing and sampling certificate accompanied by a fee of three dollars ($3.00) shall be filed upon a form prescribed by the commission before commencing to sample milk and annually thereafter on or before December first

The weighing and sampling certificate issued hereunder shall be for the term of one calendar year and shall be posted and kept in plain view in the room in which the certified weigher and sampler is employed

Section 604 Refusal Suspension and Revocation of Permits and Certificates The commission may decline to grant or may suspend or revoke a weighing or measuring permit a tester's certificate or a weighing and sampling certificate where the applicant therefor or holder thereof has violated any provision of this act for the weighing measuring testing or sampling of milk or has violated any rules regulations or orders of the commission respecting the weighing measuring testing or sampling of milk or has engaged in any practice with respect thereto which causes milk producers to be underpaid for their milk or which causes stores or consumers to overpay for such milk or which otherwise defrauds or tends to defraud milk producers stores or milk consumers

The procedure before the commission and of the commission with respect to the refusal suspension or revocation provided for herein and the procedure governing appeals from such action of the commission shall be as that prescribed in this act with respect to milk dealers' licenses issued hereunder

Licenses permits and certificates heretofore issued by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture under acts repealed hereby and which are in force upon the effective date of this act shall be deemed permits and certificates issued by the commission hereunder until the expiration dates thereof and the holders shall be subject to all applicable provisions of this act

Section 605 Transfer The permits and certificates herein provided for may not be assigned or transferred

Section 606 Samples Check Tests Milk dealers buying or receiving milk from producers on the basis of or with reference to the amount or percentage of butterfat contained in such milk as determined by the method commonly known as the "Babcock Test" shall make such test at least once every sixteen (16) days The milk from each producer shall be represented by a composite sample taken from the entire delivery of each of the several lots of milk bought or received from said person and shall cover a period of not more than sixteen (16) days The composite sample to which a suitable preservative has been added shall be made up of aliquot parts taken from each of the several lots of milk from each producer concerned and composite samples of all producers concerned shall cover the same period of time

Any person taking a sample or samples of milk either from the aliquot part of each lot of milk sampled or from the composite lot of milk sampled shall thoroughly stir or mix the contents of each and every container immediately before such sample or samples are taken in such manner that the milk is thoroughly mixed in each container before the sample is taken No weigh tank or container from which the aliquot part is taken for composite samples shall have any partition division or strainer which will prevent such thorough stirring or mixing Each composite sample shall be held in an airtight bottle such bottle being plainly showing the name or number of the producer whose milk the composite sample represents and the rack or container where the samples are held shall be plainly labeled showing the date of the first and last day of the period covered by the said composite samples

The commission may require that the composite samples be tested on the premises where they are taken After such samples have been tested their residues shall be held intact and in condition suitable to test on the premises where they are tested for a further period of not less than ten (10) days after the rendering of a statement to the producer for milk delivered during such period in order to make possible a check test

Every milk dealer affected by the provisions of this act shall within two (2) days after the day on which the test herein provided for has been made notify the producer or his agent of the result of such test stating the period of time during which said composite samples were taken Notice under this section shall be given by posting of the results of said tests continuously for ten (10) days in a conspicuous place in the plant or receiving station or in writing delivered to the producer or his agent Where a daily test is made on milk and the average of these several tests is used as a basis of settlement there shall also be a composite sample taken covering the period of the first half of the month and a composite sample taken covering the period of the last half of the month and such samples shall be held intact on the premises for a period of not less than ten (10) days after the rendering of a statement to the producers for milk delivered during each such period in order to make possible a check test

The commission shall make check tests and other reasonable tests whenever in its judgment such tests are advisable for the public welfare and may also require additional samples or additional composite samples from time to time

Section 607 Violations It shall be unlawful for any milk dealer or other person engaged or employed in the business of buying or receiving milk from producers or selling or delivering milk to stores or consumers on the basis of or with reference to the amount or percentage of butterfat contained therein to take collect or use for testing purposes an unfair or inaccurate sample or to underread overread or erroneously manipulate the "Babcock Test" used for determining the amount or percentage of butterfat in such milk or to falsify the record thereof or to make the "Babcock" reading except when the fat has a temperature of one hundred thirty-five degrees (135°) to one hundred forty-five degrees (145°) Fahrenheit or to use for such test quantities other than seventeen and six-tenths (17.6) cubic centimeters in the case of milk and nine (9) grams or eighteen (18) grams in the case of cream In all tests of cream the cream shall be weighed and not measured into the test bottle

It shall also be unlawful for such milk dealer or other person so engaged or employed to ascertain the "Babcock Test" of the milk by use of any glassware except standard "Babcock Test" glassware and weights which have been previously inspected and approved by the Department of Internal Affairs If the amount or percentage of butterfat is determined by any method other than the "Babcock Test" no utensil or instrument shall be used in such determination until it has been inspected and approved by the commission

Section 608 Payment for Milk Statement Milk dealers shall determine weight measure and butterfat content of milk as provided in this act or in rules regulations or orders of the commission pertaining thereto and consistent with this act Payment for milk shall be made either upon the basis of weight measure or butterfat content or any combination thereof as the rules regulations or orders of the commission may require

Milk dealers buying or receiving milk from producers shall furnish to each producer or his agent a written statement showing the amount of milk delivered daily during the period for which payment is made and unless the commission otherwise provides the average butterfat test of the milk delivered for such period Such statement shall set forth such information as may be required by the commission shall be furnished periodically at the time of payment prescribed by the commission and in no event less often than monthly Provided however That a written statement of weights may be given daily to the producer or his agent in lieu of such periodic statement of the amount of milk delivered unless the commission otherwise provides

It shall be unlawful to use as the basis of payment for milk any amount or percentage of butterfat therein which has been ascertained from a sample containing milk that has been so treated as to cause it to test lower or higher than the milk from which it was taken

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I call up at this time for consideration, House Bill No. 1574, Senate Bill No. 1066, page 13 of the calendar.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, Mr. Heyburn.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. Heyburn, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr .HEYBURN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator if this is not the bill known as the Milk Control Bill.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, that is right.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Delaware, who is Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, whether this bill has been in his committee.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, no, it has not.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, can the Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, inform the Senate why this bill was not sent to that committee.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, no, I cannot understand that, because they always referred it to that committee.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, is it not a fact that this bill never was in your committee?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette. Mr. Cavalcante will state his point of order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the only thing before the Senate at this time is the bill on final passage.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture further questions. I would like to ask the Senator from Delaware, Mr. Heyburn, if it is not a fact that there has been no hearing on this bill before the Senate Committee on Agriculture.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, that is right.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, is advised that the matter before the Senate is the consideration of the bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Chairman of the Agriculture Committee - - - -

The PRESIDENT. If it has to do with the merits of this bill, all right, otherwise the Senator from Tioga is out of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture if it is not a fact that there has been no hearing on this bill.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga is out of order, as there is nothing before the Senate except the merits of the bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to say that the farmers throughout the State are asking for a hearing on this bill and - - - -

The PRESIDENT. I would like to inform the Senator from Tioga that the only matter we have before the Senate is the consideration of the bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, this bill is known as the Milk Control Bill. I understand that the members of the House committee when they had this bill under consideration, spent many weeks in the study of it, and after weeks of intensive study, amendments were made to the bill. The bill was brought here to this Senate yesterday, and for some unknown reason it was not referred to the Committee on Agriculture, which is the logical committee to which it should have been referred, a committee composed of men who understand the problems of the dairy farmer; but for some reason this bill was shunted to another committee when it came to the Senate and in a closed session yesterday all of the amendments put into the bill by the House, were taken out. Certainly those of us, and there are a great many of us here who are vitally interested in the interests of the dairy farmer and we had a right to expect that bill when it came to this Senate would go to a committee that handles the problems of the farmer - -

The PRESIDENT. Again, may I remind the Senator from Tioga that he is not talking on the question before the Senate, and either he must confine himself to that matter, or he will have to take his seat.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I am talking - - -

The PRESIDENT. You are talking about procedure in the Senate and not on the bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I merely want to say that the amendments made to this bill by the committee in this Senate were made without an opportunity of a hearing of the dairy interests of this State, and I am informed by the Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture that thousands of them asked for a hearing Now, I do not see how we can be asked today to vote on this bill without having any opportunity to study these hastily made amendments in a committee that none of us ever dreamed would have this bill, until it was suddenly referred to it, and, consequently, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that this bill go over in its order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I object.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, State Boards is the correct place for this bill.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I withdraw my request and move that this bill be re-committed to the Committee on Agriculture for further study and a hearing?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Tioga, if the Milk Control Board is not a State Board?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not know, I have heard so many definitions of the Milk Control Board that it is hard to say what it is.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, gladly.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Tioga, if we do not have a Committee on State Boards.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not believe that we ever had a Committee on State Boards, but I think the present Committee on State Boards was appointed so that there would be sufficient number of committees appointed in order that every member of the majority party in the Senate could be appointed as Chairman of a committee.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I think that the motion made by the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, should be defeated.

The PRESIDENT. May I remind the Senate that the motion has not been seconded?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I cannot see how men of ordinary intelligence who sit in this Senate cannot view with alarm the statements made by the Senator from Tioga; the statements are alarming because they show such an absurd lack of intelligence or ignorance as to the functioning of this Senate, that they are alarming when they come from a gentleman like the Senator from Tioga who has sat in this Senate for many years and who now gets up to complain because a bill under consideration is not in the proper committee. Where has the Senator from Tioga been all the time that this bill was in the hands of the Committee of the Senate, and does not the Senator know that the committee that the bill has been lying in, why has not the Senator from Tioga made some effort to contact the Chairman of the Committee on State Boards?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, a motion to recommit is not debatable.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is sustained. The matter before the Senate is the question of recommitting the bill.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I expect to vote for this Milk Control Bill, as I understand we must have it by the end of this month, April 30th, therefore, time is of the essence now, but I would like to correct the statement of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, when he said this bill has been lying in committee, it was lying there only twenty-four hours; and speaking of lying, somebody told me this morning that the Chairman of the Milk Board never thought of the Governor at all to get his approval of the amendments which he inserted, because the Chairman of the Milk Control Board never had the mumps, and he could not get in.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BUCKMAN and Mr. OWLETT and were as follows, viz:

Present and not voting: Heyburn.

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I voted to recommit this particular bill because in my county there is a rather large group of small milk dealers. Now, this bill was amended in the House, they worked on it, as I understand it, rather conscientiously and faithfully, and a group of amendments were prepared and accepted by the Committee on Agriculture in the House, then within fifteen minutes after it came to the Senate the Senate Committee ripped out every amendment that was placed in it by the House. Now, I do not know what they have done to this bill. As I understand, it is the original bill put in the House by the Milk Control Board. There is a feature in there where the dealer has to put up a collateral bond. The small milk dealer cannot do that, and it is monopolistic in its purpose; it means the big dealer is going to monopolize the business and the small milk dealer is going to be crowded out of business. There are different things in this bill that ought to be studied by the Senate. I know we are cramped for time and that the bill must be passed by the thirtieth of this month, but no one wants to see a break-down in the milk control in Pennsylvania, but I do not want to vote for anything when I do not know what is in the bill. I have people in my county, constituents of mine — — I think a few of them voted for me — — who desire this bill in the form as it came from the House.

In fact I have not had one request other than that the bill be passed as it come from the House.

If the members of the State Board know what Committee the amendments were that ripped out of the bill, I would like to have them discuss it on the floor and tell me why they were ripped out after the House put them in. The bill as it stands now is an example of how bills can be passed and at which you are not allowed to look.

I believe this bill deserves more consideration from the Senate of Pennsylvania, and I feel that the motion to recommit this bill to the Committee on Agriculture is a good motion and it should have been supported. However, as it stands now we are in the position of hoping and depending and praying that the Governor in his good judgment will look over the bill before he signs it.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I judge that the ripping performed by the Senate Committee was the only piece of independence that our Democratic friends in the Senate have shown this session. The Senator from Fayette tells us that we have had the bill here two weeks and that we could have found out what committee it was in, and studied the bill. I find on the House calendar of April 26th, the state of the bill; it was on the special order of business in the House for third reading two days ago, that is, April 26th, at 9:30 p. m., and it is not mentioned at all in the Senate history of bills. We certainly are demonstrating here today that this Senate is not giving proper consideration to legislation for the welfare of the people of this State, when we with one full swoop attempt to undue thirty days' diligent work on the part of the House members in the Committee on Agriculture. This bill while in the House was in the hands of real dirt farmers who are interested in the problem. In the Senate it was sent to a committee which has in its membership, I think, perhaps one person who is acquainted with farming, certainly not more than two, and I doubt very much that there was any thought by the members of this committee to consider the bill on its merits. As the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, said it was simply a ripper, and somebody else suggested carrying out the instructions - - not of the Governor himself, but somebody of the administration, and I think that a bill of this importance should at least be given some consideration by this body, and the only reason that I will vote "Aye" for it, if it does not go back to committee, is because I hope the members of the House will insist on their amendments, and will insist on the bill as it was sent to us, and send it in to a Committee of Conference.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, the bill after coming to the Senate was referred to my committee without any knowledge on my part that there was any premeditated diabolical act to select me as the proper custodian of the bill. I assume it came into the Committee on State Boards because I further assume that the Milk Control Board is a State Board. If it is not a State Board, I should like to be informed to the contrary with some very convincing evidence, because I do not lik eto come to the conclusion without concrete evidence that it was based on some agreement.

I am strongly for bonding these milk dealers, I live in a farming community, I was born on a farm, and I operate a farm from which I have sold milk for a number of years. I have seen too many of the farmers thrown down the river by "jipping' milk dealers. The farmer who sells milk is selling a product that he must get out of his hands very quickly; he cannot store it in the cellar indefinitely waiting for a purchaser and, as a class, the farmers do not know much about Dunn and Bradstreet, they do not have much time to look up the financial standing of dealers, and so for their protection I am strongly in favor for bonding the milk dealers. If the Senators will look into the provisions of the bill in that respect, they will find that this bond, instead of being a large capital outlay is only a minor outlay that a man will have to make if he goes into the business of buying and selling milk; it is very small, very reasonable, especially to these dealers who have a system of paying twice a month - - they would hardly be put to any expense for the bond.

I do not know why the bill was so long in the House, but that was the business of the House. I frankly admit that when it came over here, we members thought we did not have a great deal of time to consider it, but the thought that was foremost in my mind, the thought that spoke almost with the solemnity of the thunder of the apocalypse, was the thought that we would have to get the milk bill through before the end of this month if we are going to save the Milk Control Board, and save chaos in the milk industry and to the farmers, which will result if the Milk Board falls. And then, I am agreeably informed, that the Legislature will be in session for a short time, and if there are any impelling momentous amendments that need be put into the bill, I am frank to say that can be done, but the first and foremost thing now is to get the milk bill out summarily before the Milk Board falls.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I do complain most seriously about the fact that this bill was not sent to the Senate until within the last three days. The blame for that lies in the fact that the bill was not introduced in the House soon enough. I predict now that we will face another emergency and probably it will not take two years. I also understand that about a million and a half dollars in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is due the farmers in back payments. This bill provides that those dealers shall be bonded and that has not been enforced. I hope a new bill will be better enforced than the old one. I was in favor of re-enacting the old one and enforcing it.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, it will not be the first time in the history of the Milk Board that the sky fell on the Board. There was a lapse between the time the old bill was in operation and the new bill took effect. If there were a twenty-four or forty-eight hour delay in the framing of this bill, I think it is far more important that the dairy interests of Pennsylvania have a proper bill than it is if we pass this particular bill in the Legislature simply to save the salaries of the gentlemen on the Milk Board.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, it is true that it will not be the first time, but when it did happen, it happened because of the malingering of the majority group in this Senate at the time, which consisted of Republicans, and we are interested in seeing at this time that the same thing does not happen to this Commonwealth while the majority in the Senate is Democratic, who have done the limit to represent the interest of the people, and we are not malingering with this bill; we are not going to let the sky fall—we are not going to let it happen the first time under a Democratic administration.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I have always taken a great deal of interest in this milk legislation. In the session of 1931, when the Commission was created, I had the honor of being Chairman of the Committee that made the investigation, and in 1933, I sponsored the first Milk Control Bill which Pennsylvania ever had. I also had a vital interest in it in 1935, and I want to say for the benefit of the Senator from Fayette County, Mr. Cavalcante, that there is liable to be a little hiatus here before this new Board must function unless confirmed today because they cannot get on the payroll until they are confirmed by this Senate, so I would not say a great rush in forcing this legislation is necessary, denying farmers and other agricultural interests the right of a hearing, especially in view of the fact that when it was having hearings in the House, and as a result of those hearings the House paid attention to their requests and inserted numerous important amendments in the bill, and, as it has been said, it came over to the Senate here and with one full swoop of the pen these amendments were all stricken out, without a hearing and without practically any consideration except orders from the Chairman or some one else; and I, therefore think that the majority of this Senate should reconsider its decision not to give a hearing on this bill for its own sake, for the sake of the farmers, and for the sake of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It is not going to save time by passing this bill, because I have been given to understand if I understand correctly, that the House is going to non-concur and throw it into conference, and besides, as I have said the Milk Board will have a little hiatus unless it is confirmed by the Senate today.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I want to correct an impression given here that the Senate did not have an opportunity to give any consideration to this bill. It is true that the bill came into the possession of the Senate on Monday night. However, there was a public hearing that was to be held in the House, if my memory serves me right, and there was an announcement made in the Senate and the members of the Senate including the members of the Committee were invited to attend the hearing. I attended the hearing and I know of a number of other members that attended that hearing and the motive behind that was to save the farmers, the dealers and the consumers, the expense and time of coming to two public hearings when one would suffice and in addition to that the Committee on State Boards, when it met yesterday invited all who requested it, to appear before that Committee and they were given an opportunity to express their views. After they had done so the Committee then considered the bill and it was reported out as it is on the calendar.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Adams. Mr. Rice.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Adams, Mr. Rice, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. M. President, I woud like to ask the Senator from Adams, Mr. Rice if it was not the Committee on Agriculture that was invited to sit in on the Hearing in the House, and not the Committee on State Boards?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I am not certain as to the Committee, whether there was an official invitation extended to the Committee on Agriculture or to any special Committee; however, I do recall that announcement was made here in the Senate that a hearing would be held and the members of the Senate interested in the Milk bill were invited to attend.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I ask the Senator from Adams, Mr. Rice, whether it is not a fact that as a result of that hearing in the House these numerous amendments were inserted in the bill by the House Committee.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I do not know if it was the result of the hearing but I do know that the amendments were inserted in the bill before it was passed.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, and they were all stricken out by the Senate Committee, were they not?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, practically.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, a question.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. Heyburn permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture if it is not a fact that it was the Committee on Agriculture that was invited to attend this joint hearing.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes again to say to the Senator from Tioga that the matter before the Senate, is the merits of the bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the majority floor leader raised the question of the joint hearing.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is advising the Senator from Tioga of the situation if he has anything to say on the merits of the bill, he may proceed.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, do I understand that the Chair rules I may not discussing the statement made by the floor leader of the majority, Senator Rice?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has made no such ruling.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, then I merely want to say that the floor leader of the majority of this Senate has just made the statement that a committee was invited to sit in the joint hearing in the House and we now learn from the Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture that it was his Committee that was invited over there.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware answer the question?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, yes, I was invited over as Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, to the joint hearing, and I invited the other members of the Committee. After that hearing those amendments were inserted as the result of that hearing.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, there is one thing further in this discussion, those of us who represent a dairy section of this State are confronted today with the necessity of either voting for a bill we know nothing about or else voting against this bill and having no milk control board. As the Senator from Susquehanna so well pointed out, the amendments put in the bill in the House were put in by men who have made a study of the problems of the dairy farmer and have worked night and day for weeks on this bill. I would be more impressed by the Statement of the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe, as to his interest in the dairy farmer, did I not remember that it was only a few short weeks ago that he voted in favor of the sit-down strike that the farmers at Hershey solved. I want to say that I am going to vote for this bill but I am doing it reluctingly, I am doing it with the full knowledge that it has been rushed through without proper consideration and with the knowledge that the amendments put in this bill after careful study by the House were taken out on orders from the Administration.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I voted neither for nor against this administration I might say that I yesterday went into the Committee on State Boards and every person representing dairy interests, farmers or any other group interested in this bill, ready to hear all who desire to come here, so there has been no disposition on my part to shut out any person. and while it is true, that no doubt representatives in the House, in touch with farmers, have made a very careful study of this bill, we will have to assume that the Administration and the Milk control board know something about the milk question also, and probably it will not be too much to say that the Governor of Pennsylvania, and the Milk Control Board, and the administration have made as careful study as anyone else.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, ——

The PRESIDENT. The Chair does not desire to shut off discussion of this bill on its merits; if the Senator from Westmoreland has something to say on the merits, he may proceed.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on State Boards, Senator Sipe.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, from your statement I take it that any and every member in the Senate who desires legislation as long as the Committee says it is allright, there is no necessity for his studying the bill.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I made no such implication. I simply made the statement that I assumed that our state government knows something about the problem.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Armstrong, whether it is not true that the bill in its original form was introduced by the Milk Control Board.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I do not think that it is.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am going to take the position that this bill is wrong or right. However, I do take the position that if Committees of this Legislature are going to invite people down here for Public hearing and after public hearing they find that certain changes are necessary in legislation regardless of who sponsors the bill, it ought to be given more serious consideration by the body of the legislature when it arrives at the point where they are studying that piece of legislation. I, like the Senator from Tioga, after the discussion I heard, am going to vote on this bill, and vote in favor of it, but I predict right now that any amendments offered by any members of the Senate later on, after the bill is passed, will be very handily taken care of.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, there is just one question. I would like some constitutional lawyer if we have any here, to advise me on this question. As I recall, the Milk Control Act was held constitutional as an emergency health measure, and it was enacted for a period of two years. Are we not admitting that there is no emergency now, and re-enacting permanently an entirely new act, a permanent measure? Will not this bill be unconstitutional and will not farmers be without any milk control board whatever?

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 558, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by changing the method of computing reimbursement to be made to school districts for the payment of high school tuition

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one thousand seven hundred and eleven-A of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violations thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith as last amended by section thirty-eight of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 243) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1711-A The Commonwealth shall reimburse a school district with a true valuation of assessable property per teacher of less than one hundred thousand dollars for high school tuition when such district is required to pay tuition for pupils attending high school in another district Provided That the percentage of the minimum salaries of teachers paid by the Commonwealth is higher in the school district where the pupils reside than in the districts where they attend high school The amount of State reimbursement for high school tuition shall be the percentage of such tuition as is equal to the excess in the percentage of teachers salaries paid by the Commonwealth in the district where the pupils reside over the percentage of teachers salaries paid by the Commonwealth in the district where the pupils attend Provided That the amount paid by the Commonwealth to a school district for the tuition of any high school pupil shall not exceed twenty dollars ($20.00) a year

After the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine the provisions of the first paragraph of this section shall no longer apply but the Commonwealth shall reimburse each school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) or less sixty per centum (60%) of the expenditure for high school tuition each school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) but not more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) fifty-five per centum (55%) of the expenditure for high school tuition each school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) but not more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) fifty per centum (50%) of the expenditure for high school tuition each school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) but not more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) forty-five per centum (45%) of the expenditure for high school tuition each school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) but not more than one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) forty per centum (40%) of the expenditure for high school tuition each school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) but not more than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) thirty-five per centum (35%) of the expenditure for high school tuition and each school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) but not more than two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) thirty per centum (30%) of the expenditure for high school tuition

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Sponsor of this bill.

Mr. PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Berks, Mr. Ruth, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Sponsor of this bill if he will make a brief statement of the purpose of the bill, as well as the purpose of Senate Bill No. 638?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 558 seems to be the States contribution for High School tuition. Under the present law there is a maxium of $20.00 a year for pupils for high school tuition. Under this bill it changes that to a percentage basis, paying more money to the district that sends pupils from the district to a neighboring district, to high school. Under the present law they cannot get over twenty dollars per year per pupil. If this bill passes they will agree on a percentage basis as enumerated in the bill for high school tuition to a district that has no high school.

Senate Bill No. 638 pertains only to transportation.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 559, as follows:

An Act to amend Article ten of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by requiring the Superintendent of Public Instruction to withhold appropriations from school districts until all reports required by law are filed and making permissive the withholding of appropriations from school districts failing to comply with health and safety regulations

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That Article ten of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 235,, (House Bill No. 50), as follows:

An Act to amend Article twenty-four of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred six) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" providing for and regulating the issuance of non-debt revenue bonds to finance sewer improvements

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That Article twenty-four of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred six) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" is hereby amended by adding thereto a new subdivision to read as follows

(h) Non-debt Revenue Sewer Bonds

Section 2445 Sewer Bonds For the purpose of financing the cost or expense or its share of the cost or expense of constructing or acquiring a sewer sewer system or sewage treatment works either singly or jointly with other municipalities or townships or both any township may issue non-debt revenue bonds secured solely by a pledge in whole or in part of the annual rental or charges for the use of such sewer sewer system or sewage treatment works Said bonds shall not pledge the credit nor create any debt nor be a charge against the general revenues nor be a lien against any property of the township but shall be a lien upon and payable solely from the annual rentals or charges for the use of said sewer sewer system or sewage treatment works

Whenever any township has enacted an ordinance or resolution imposing a sewer rental or charge upon properties to be served by such sewer system or sewage treatment works when the same is completed and has pledged sufficient of the revenues to be derived therefrom for the payment of the interest and sinking fund charges on such non-debt revenue bonds it shall have power to authorize the issue and sale of such non-debt revenue bonds from time to time as the work of construction proceeds and sufficient additional non-debt revenue bonds as may be necessary may be issued and sold to provide for the interest and sinking fund charges accruing thereon until said sewer system or sewage treatment works has been completed and has been in operation for not exceeding one year in order to provide sufficient revenues until such time as sewer rentals or charges may be collected from the owners of properties being served

Nothing in this section shall be construed to abridge or restrict or in any way impair the right of any township to create indebtedness in accordance with existing laws

Section 2446 Issuance and Sale of Bonds Maturity Negotiability When any township shall issue such non-debt revenue bonds the authorities thereof may sell the same or any portion thereof at private sale to the United States of America or any agency instrumentality or corporation thereof or to the sinking fund of the township Any bonds not so sold shall be sold to the highest responsible bidder after public notice by advertisement once a week for three weeks in at least one newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which such township is situated No bid for such bonds at less than par value shall be accepted Where bonds shall be advertised for sale as herein provided and no bids have been received then it shall be lawful for such township to sell the same at private sale for not less than par value and accrued interest

All such bonds shall be payable in not more than thirty years from the date of their issue shall be issued in series payable in such annual installments as may be determined by the township and bear interest at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum

Such bonds shall have all the quality of negotiable instruments under the law merchant and the negotiable instruments law of this Commonwealth.

Any township may enter into any deeds of trust indentures or other agreements with any bank or trust company or other person or persons in the United States having power to enter into the same including any Federal agency as security for such bonds and may assign and pledge all or any of the revenues or receipts of the sewer system or sewage treatment works thereunder Such deed of trust indenture or other agreement may contain such provisions as may be customary in such instruments or as the township may authorize including (but without limitation) provisions as to (1) the construction improvement operation maintenance and repair of any sewer system or sewage treatment works and the duties of the township with reference thereto (2) the application of funds and the safeguarding of funds on hand or on deposit (3) the rights and remedies of said trustee and the holders of the bonds (which may include restrictions upon the individual right of action of such bondholders) and (4) the terms and provisions of the bonds or the resolutions authorizing the issuance of the same

Section 2447 Remedies of Bondholders The rights and the remedies herein conferred upon or granted to the bond holders shall be in addition to and not in limitation of any rights and remedies lawfully granted to such bondholders by the resolution or resolutions or ordinance or ordinances providing for the issuance of bonds or by any deed of trust indenture or other agreement under which the same may be issued In the event that the township shall default in the payment of principal of or interest on any of the bonds after the said principal or interest shall become due whether at maturity or upon call for redemption and such default shall continue for a period of thirty days or in the event that the township shall fail or refuse to comply with the provisions of this act or shall default in any agreement made with the holders of the bonds the holders of twenty-five per centum in aggregate principal amount of the bonds then outstanding by instrument or instruments filed in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county and proved or acknowledged in the same manner as a deed to be recorded may appoint a trustee to represent the bondholders for the purposes herein provided Such trustee and any trustee under any deed of trust indenture or other agreement may and upon written request of the holders of twenty-five per centum (or such other percentage as may be specified in any deed of trust indenture or other agreement aforesaid) in principal amount of the bonds then outstanding shall in his or its own name

(a) By mandamus or other suit action or proceeding at law or in equity enforce all rights of the bondholders including the right to require the township to collect rates rentals and other charges adequate to carry out any agreement as to or pledge of the revenues or receipts of the sewer system or sewage treatment works and to require the township to carry out any other agreements with or for the benefit of the bondholders and to perform its and their duties under this act

(b) Bring suit upon the bonds

(c) By action or suit in equity require the township to account as if it were the trustee of an express trust for the bondholders

(d) By action or suit in equity enjoin any acts or things which may be unlawful or in violation of the rights of the bondholders

(e) By notice in writing to the township declare all bonds due and payable and if all defaults shall be made good then with the consent of the holders of twenty-five per centum (or such other percentage as may be specified in any deed of trust indenture or other agreement aforesaid) of the principal amount of the bonds then outstanding to annul such declaration and its consequences

The court of common pleas of the county shall have jurisdiction of any suit action or proceedings by the trustee on behalf of the bondholders Any trustee whether appointed as aforesaid or acting under a deed of trust indenture or other agreement and whether or not all bonds have been declared due and payable shall be entitled as of right to the appointment of a receiver who may enter and take possession of the sewer system or sewage treatment works or any part or parts thereof the revenues or receipts from which are or may be applicable to the payment of the bonds so in default and operate and maintain the same and collect and receive all rentals and other revenues thereafter arising therefrom in the same manner as the township and shall deposit all such moneys in a separate account and apply the same in such manner as the court shall direct In any suit action or proceeding by the trustee the fees counsel fees and expenses of the trustee and of the receiver if any and all costs and disbursments allowed by the court shall be a first charge on any revenues and receipts derived from the sewer system or sewage treatment works the revenus or receipts form which are or may be applicable to the payment of the bonds so in default Said trustee shall in addition to the foregoing have and possess all of the powers necessary or appropriate for the exercise of any functions specifically set forth herein or incident to the general representation of the bondholders in the enforcement and protection of their rights

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 238, (House Bill No. 53), as follows:

An Act to amend Article twenty-one of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws five hundred nineteen) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" providing for and regulating the issuance of non-debt revenue bonds to finance sewer improvements

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That Article twenty-one of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws five hundred nineteen) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" is hereby amended by adding thereto a new subdivision to read as follows

(1) Non-Debt Revenue Sewer Bonds

Section 2180 Sewer Bonds For the purpose of financing the cost or expense or its share of the cost or expense of constructing or acquiring a sewer sewer system or sewage treatment works either singly or jointly with other municipalities or townships or both any borough may issue non-debt revenue bonds secured solely by a pledge in whole or in part of the annual rentals or charges for the use of such sewer sewer system or sewage treatment works Said bonds shall not pledge the credit nor create any debt nor be a charge against the general revenues nor be a lien against any property of the borough but shall be a lien upon and payable solely from the annual rentals or charges for the use of said sewer sewer system or sewage treatment works

Whenever any borough has enacted an ordinance or resolution imposing a sewer rental or charge upon properties to be served by such sewer system or sewage treatment works when the same is completed and has pledged sufficient of the revenues to be derived therefrom for the payment of the interest and sinking fund charges on such non-debt revenue bonds it shall have power to authorize the issue and sale of such non-debt revenue bonds from time to time as the work of construction proceeds and sufficient additional non-debt revenue bonds as may be necessary may be issued and sold to provide for the interest and sinking fund charges accruing thereon until said sewer system or sewage treatment works has been completed and has been in operation for not exceeding one year in order to provide sufficient revenues until such time as sewer rentals or charges may be collected from the owners of properties being served

Nothing in this section shall be construed to abridge or restrict or in any way impair the right of any borough to create indebtedness in accordance with existing laws

Section 2181 Issuance and Sale of Bonds Maturity Negotiability When any borough shall issue such non-debt revenue bonds the authorities thereof may sell the same or any portion thereof at private sale to the United States of America or any agency instrumentality or corporation thereof or to the sinking fund of the borough Any bonds not so sold shall be sold to the highest responsible bidder after public notice by advertisement once a week for three weeks in at least one newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which such borough is situated No bid for such bonds at less than par value shall be accepted Where bonds shall be advertised for sale as herein provided and no bids have been received then it shall be lawful for such borough to sell the same at private sale for not less than par value and accrued interest

All such bonds shall be payable in not more than thirty years from the date of their issue shall be issued in series payable in annual installments as may be determined by the borough and bear interest at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum

Said bonds shall have all the qualities of negotiable instruments under the law merchant and the negotiable instruments law of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Any borough may enter into any deeds of trust indentures or other agreements with any bank or trust company or other person or persons in the United States having power to enter into the same including any Federal agency as security for such bonds and may assign and pledge all or any of the revenues or receipts of the sewer system or sewage treatment works thereunder Such deed of trust indenture or other agreement may contain such provisions as may be customary in such instruments or as the borough may authorize including (but without limitation) provisions as to (1) the construction improvement operation maintenance and repair of any sewer system or sewage treatment works and the duties of the borough with reference thereto (2) the application of funds and the safeguarding of funds on hand or on deposit (3) the rights and remedies of said trustee and the holders of the bonds (which may include restrictions upon the individual right of action of such bondholders and (4) the terms and provisions of the bonds or the resolutions authorizing the issuance of the same

Section 2182 Remedies of Bondholders The rights and the remedies herein conferred upon or granted to the bondholders shall be in addition to and not in limitation of any rights and remedies lawfully granted to such bondholders by the resolution or resolutions or ordinance or ordinances providing for the issuance of bonds or by any deed of trust indenture or other agreement under which the same may be issued In the event that the borough shall default in the payment of principal of or interest on any of the bonds after the said principal or interest shall become due whether at maturity or upon call for redemption and such default shall continue for a period of thirty days or in the event that the borough shall fail or refuse to comply with the provisions of this act or shall default in any agreement made with the holders of the bonds the holders of twenty-five per centum in aggregate principal amount of the bonds then outstanding by instrument or instruments filed in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county and proved or acknowledged in the same manner as a deed to be recorded may appoint a trustee to represent the bondholders for the purposes herein provided Such trustee and any trustee under any deed of trust indenture or other agreement may and upon written request of the holders of twenty-five per centum (or such other percentage as may be specified in in any deed of trust indenture or other agreement aforesaid) in pricipal amount of the bonds then outstanding shall in his or its own name

(a) By mandamus or other suit action or proceeding at law or in equity enforce all rights of the bondholders including the right to require the borough to collect rates rentals and other charges adequate to carry out any agreement as to or pledge of the revenues or receipts of the sewer system or sewage treatment works and to require the borough to carry out any other agreements with or for the benefit of the bondholders and to perform its and their duties under this act

(b) Bring suit upon the bonds

(c) By action or suit in equity require the borough to account as if it were the trustee of an express trust for the bondholders

(d) By action or suit in equity enjoin any acts or things which may be unlawful or in violation of the rights of the bondholders

(e) By notice in writing to the borough declare all bonds due and payable and if all defaults shall be made good then with the consent of the bond holders of twenty-five per centum (or such other percentage as may be specified in any deed of trust indenture or other agreement oforesaid) of the principal amount of the bonds then outstanding to annul such declaration and its consquences

The court of common pleas of the county shall have jurisdiction of any suit action or proceedings by the trustee on behalf of the bondholders Any trustee whether appointed as aforesaid or acting under a deed of trust indenture or other agreement and whether or not all bonds have been declared due and payable shall be entitled as of right to the appointment of a receiver who may enter and take possession of the sewer system or sewage treatment works or any part or parts thereof the revenues or receipts from which are or may be applicable to the payment of the bonds so in default and operate and maintain the same and collect and receive all rentals and other revenues thereafter arising therefrom in the same manner as the borough and shall deposit all such moneys in a separate account and apply the same in such manner as the court shall direct In any suit action or proceeding by the trustee the fees counsel fees and expenses of the trustee and of the receiver if any and all costs and disbursements allowed by the court shall be a first charge on any revenues and receipts derived from the sewer system or sewage treatment works the revenues of receipts from which are or may be applicable to the payment of the bonds so in default Said trustee shall in addition to the foregoing have and possess all of the powers necessary or appropriate for the exercise of any functions specifically set forth herein or incident to the general representation of the bondholders in the enforcement and protection of their rights and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 239, (House Bill No. 60) on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and sections one and two of the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Pamphlet laws one thousand two hundred eighty-six) entitled "An act empowering cities (except cities of the first class) boroughs incorporated towns and townships to charge and collect annual rentals for the use of certain sewers sewage systems and treatment works including charges for operation inspection maintenance repair depreciation and the amortization of indebtedness and interest thereon" extending the provisions thereof of cities of the first class providing for the charging and collection of annual rentals for the use of sewers sewage systems and sewage treatment works constructed or acquired jointly with other municipalities or furnished under contract by any authority or private corporation.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 796, (House Bill No. 917), as follows:

An Act providing for the licensing of all persons engaged as blasters except in anthracite or bituminous coal mines or in agricultural employment requiring examination for such license providing for the payment of a fee for examination and for the issuance and renewal of licenses and providing penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in

General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight it shall be unlawful for any person to be employed or permitted to engage in the occupation of blaster or shot-firer, except in anthracite or bituminous coal mines or on farms in agricultural employment unless he shall first have obtained a license from the Department of Labor and Industry and is a holder of a valid license No license shall be issued until the person to be licensed has first passed an examination as hereinafter provided

Section 2 Application for examination shall be made in writing to the Department of Labor and Industry on a form provided by the Department and shall be accompanied by a fee of three dollars If the applicant is successful in passing said examination a license shall be issued upon payment of an additional fee of one dollar All licenses shall be issued for the calendar year and shall expire on December thirty-first of the year for which issued Each licensee shall have his annual license renewed before January first of each year upon payment of a fee of one dollar All fees collected under this act shall be transmitted by the department to the State Treasurer through the Department of Revenue

Section 3 The Department of Labor and Industry shall have the power and its duties shall be to make alter amend or repeal general rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this act and applying these provisions to specific cases

Section 4 Any person or persons who shall violate any of the provisions of this act or the rules and regulations of the department as herein provided for shall upon conviction in a summary proceeding be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars or more than one hundred dollars and in default of the payment of such fine and costs shall be sentenced to imprisonment for not more than thirty days

Section 5 Prosecutions for violation of this act may be instituted by the Secretary of Labor and Industry or his duly authorized representative

Section 6 The term blaster or shot-firer as used in this Act is defined to mean any person who engages for hire in the charging or firing of explosive materials used in commercial blasting operations Nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to persons doing blasting or shot-firing in agricultural work on farms

and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, this bill works a great hardship in my district. If this bill passes it will require every man that fires a blast, not on a farm but in a little quarry, to take out a license under its jurisdiction and it is going to work a hardship in our community. We have many little quarries and in the fall of the year two or three men who have no employment will go together and they will pay the farmer a small rental, they will make lime during the winter season and sell it to the farmers in the spring. There will be days when there will be no shots fired. They do not have a system of operating these small quarries like they do in the large quarries. They simply drill the holes in those limestone rocks by a hand drill, a sledge and a small drill, they may put in one of those shots a day and they may not put in any. Now this is going to require those people to secure a registered licensed shooter to put a shot in that line of work and it is going to work a hardship. I have had many many requests throughout my county where this is going on today. Insofar as I am concerned—I am an old man and I have never known of an accident and I cannot see why even though they should take out a license, they should put a burden on these people, to protect them. The men around the shop know enough to get out of the way when that shot is going to be fired. And how is this going to protect a man?—the ordinary every-day man—in putting in a small shot of dynamite?

Mr. President, I say this is a vicious bill for my people. I must object to it and ask the Senate to vote it down for the benefit of the ordinary laboring man today.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, Senate Bill Number 796 has been on the calendar now for about two weeks. I asked that the bill go over in order about two weeks ago because I objected to certain features of the bill. They have been taken out of the bill and I think the bill now is in good form and you should pass it. For example, a man in a bituminous mine or anthracite mine or any farmer blasting on his own premises, might hire himself out as a professional blaster. We had a man down in York county who did that, where several men were killed by the blasting. I see no reason why they should not license men and make some regulations for those that pretend to be professional blasters. It is a safety measure and I think the bill should pass and become a law.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, because they had one accident down in that county and negligent people stood around and several men were killed that is a fault of their own and the licensing of these men will not protect the men that stand around there. If they are careless that is not going to compel them to leave there. Because they made that mistake, there is no reason why we should work a hardship on the hundreds of laboring people throughout the country and compel some people to put in a blaster when they fire one or two shots a day. It will not protect them. I object to the bill.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am very anxious to hear the debate of Mr. Kahle. I could not hear what he said, and therefore I cannot answer him.

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, it seems to me they have taken everybody out of the bill. The Senator from Cambria says it is a good bill because it protects the coal miners; that is his business. My district is a lime—stone district and therefore I will vote against the bill.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, under the act that passed the Senate last week the bituminous coal miners and others who do the same type of work, anthracite miners have for years been certified, and I think it is fair as a safety measure to certify those that pretend to be professional blasters. Any man blasting on his own premises for his own purposes, is not included in this bill, and any man, I repeat again, that pretends to be a professional blaster and hires out as such, is included in this bill, and that is how it should be. Why should a man hire out as a blaster without any knowledge of what he is doing? I think the bill should pass without any further argument.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr President, I will.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska what he means by a "professional blaster?" What are the requirements for a professional blaster?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, in reply to the Senator from Clarion, Mr. Kahle, there is a rule set down by the Department of Labor and Industry, and what they mean by it I do not know.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, that is one reason for opposing the bill. The can make it so stringent that a man in the country might have to send to the city in order to get a blaster to come out there and shoot that shot once or twice or three times a week, as they might require.

And the question recurring?

Shall the bill pass finally?

The ayes and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask that the roll be verified.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Cambria what his misapprehension was when he voted "aye' on the bill.

The PRESIDENT. The matter before the House is the roll call.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Chair if the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, and the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, were allowed to change their votes.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman that the Senators were allowed to change their votes.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I challenge that change and desire to interrogate the Senators as to the reason for making that change. I would like to ask the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska whether he voted under a misapprehension?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I did.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, what was the misapprehension, that the Senator voted under?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, that is a personal question I do not care to answer.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, unless the Senator from Cambria states that he voted under a misapprehension, I challenge it.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Cambria has already done so.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, and the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, refuses to say what the misapprehension was.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, the statement by the Senator from Cambria that he voted under a misapprehension should be recorded on the minutes.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Harvey Huffman) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. JACOBS. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 911, on final passage, entitled:

An Act providing for the payment into the State Treasury, without escheat, of certain moneys and property subject to escheat under existing law, namely, unclaimed dividends and profits, debts and interest on debts, proceeds of policies of insurance, stock and customers deposits held by certain limited partnerships and unincorporated associations, joint-stock associations, companies and corportions doing business under the laws of this Commonwealth; declaring the legislative intent with respect to such payments; requiring reports of such money and property by, and imposing other duties upon, such partnerships, associations and corporations; conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers, boards and departments; providing for jurisdiction of courts and for proceedings for the recovery of such moneys and property by the Attorney General, at the suggestion of the Depart-

be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. JACOBS. Mr. President, the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, introduced a bill on escheat, which is now on second reading. It contains some features which my bill does not contain and the Senator from Westmoreland Mr. Dent, believes they should be incorporated in the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. For this reason, and with the understanding that his bill will also be recommitted, I have moved that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Whereas The production sale and distribution of milk and certain milk products in this Commonwealth are attendant with serious conditions affecting milk producers milk dealers and consumers of milk the following legislative findings of fact with respect thereto are hereby made

1 Milk is the most necessary human food vital for promotion of the public health and for development of strength and vigor in the race It is a most fertile field for the growth of bacteria and therefore its production and distribution have been surrounded by more costly sanitary requirements than those of any other commodity in this the third greatest milk producing and consuming State of the nation

2 Milk consumers are not assured of a constant and sufficient supply of pure wholesome milk unless the high cost of maintaining sanitary conditions of production and standards of purity is returned to the producers of milk If this is not done large numbers dispose of their herds or engage in milk strikes and remaining producers supply unhealthful milk or milk lower quality because of financial inability to comply with sanitary requirements and to keep vigilant against contamination Public health is menaced when milk dealers do not or cannot pay a price to producers commensurate with the cost of sanitary production or when consumers are required to pay excessive prices for this necessity of life

3 Milk dealers must handle constant surpluses to meet the emergency requirements of normal variations in fluid consumption and to meet seasonal variations in production which amounts in excess of fluid requirements must find a market in fluid use or in manufacture and tend to demoralize the industry Only one per centum of the milk dealers of the Commonwealth handle over sixty per centum of the milk sold by producers to dealers and persons have often combined privately to establish practices or fix prices to the detriment of producers or consumers

4 Milk producers must make delivery of their highly perishable commodity immediately after it is produced and must generally accept any market at any price Under the utilization method of payment prevailing in the milk industry particularly in cities the value of this market is unknown until the milk dealer sells the fluid milk and uses or disposes of the surplus Furthermore only the dealers have facilities for accurately weighing and testing milk This knowledge of weights tests and uses is in the exclusive possession of the dealer The producers' lack of control over their market is aggravated by the trade custom of dealers in paying weeks after delivery keeping producers obligated to continue delivery in order to receive payment for previous sales and permitting dealers to operate on the producers' capital without giving security therefor Hence milk producers are subject to fraud and imposition and do not possess the freedom of contract necessary for the procuring of cost of production

Whereas public control of the milk industry in recent years is stabilizing the conditions therein and a relaxation of control will cause a return to the unhealthful uneconomic deceptive and destructive practices of the past with respect to this paramount industry upon which the health and welfare of the Commonwealth largely depends and

Whereas It is necessary to preserve and promote the strength and vigor of the inhabitants of this Commonwealth to protect the public health and welfare and to prevent fraud and imposition upon consumers and producers by continuing to treat the production transportation manufacture processing storage distribution and sale of milk in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a business affecting the public health and affected with a public interest

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same as follows

(3) For a license issued on or after February first but prior to May first one-fourth of the annual fee

Milk dealers not engaged in the milk business during any month preceding calendar year shall submit with their application a license fee in the sum of one dollar ($1.00) and in addition thereto at such time or times as the commision may fix but not more than four months after the granting of the license shall pay an additional sum based upon the daily average total quantity of milk received produced or brought within the Commonwealth by such dealer during any of such months in the proportionate amount above stated

Section 410 Computation of License Fees Milk sold and distributed out side of this Commonwealth in any state which charges milk dealers a license fee may be deducted in the determination of the amount of the license fee required by this act Provided That such quantity of milk is actually computed in determining the amount of such license fee in such other state In computing the license fee to be charged by the commission the fluid milk equivalent of milk other than fluid milk shall be ascertained and fixed in such manner as the commision shall prescribe Nothing herein is to be construed as requiring in the computation of the license fee the inclusion of milk which is received by the applicant milk dealer from another milk dealer subject to license hereunder which milk has been included in the computation of such other dealer's fee or milk which is produced by the applicant dealer and not sold by him to stores or consumers Applicant milk dealers other than sub-dealers receiving their entire supply from milk dealers who have paid a license fee thereon to this commission shall pay the license fee of ten dollars ($10.00)

Section 411 Classification of Licenses The commission may classify licenses and may issue licenses to any milk dealer to operate as a milk dealer in a particular municipality only or in a particular market or markets in the Commonwealth only but no milk dealer shall if granted a license under this act at all be prohibited from acting as a milk dealer in any municipality or in any market in which he was operating upon January second one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four

Section 412 Other Licenses The licenses required by this act shall be in addition to any other licenses which are now or may hereafter be required by law

ARTICLE V

Bonds of Milk Dealers

Section 501 Milk Dealers Required to File Bonds It shall be unlawful for a milk dealer to purchase milk from producers unless the milk dealer shall file with the commission a corporate surety individual surety or collateral bond approved by the commission Except as otherwise herein provided the bond shall be in a sum equal to the value ofthe highest aggregate amount of milk purchased by the dealer from producers in any one month during the preceding calendar year which value shall be computed according to lawful prices and shall not in any event exceed one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00) The bond shall be upon a form prescribed by the commission sonditioned for the payment by the milk dealer of all amounts due including amounts due under this act and the orders of the commission for milk sold by such producers to the milk dealer during the license year upon such terms and conditions as the commission may prescribe

In the case of a milk dealer who pays producers in full each week for milk purcased by him from such producers the bond shall be in a sum equal to fifty per centum of the value of the highest aggregate amount of milk purchased by the dealer from producers in any one month during the preceding calendar year which value shall be computed according to lawful prices and shall not in any event exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000)

Section 502 Computation of Amount of Certain Bonds Milk purchased by milk dealer from producers outside the Commonwealth and sold by such dealers as fluid milk within Commonwealth shall be included in computing the amount of such bond except where such dealer has filed a bond for the protection of such producers with the state wherein the milk is purchased or with such producers In such computation the amount due for such milk shall be determined according to any applicable official prices or any lawful contract price

A milk dealer purchasing or intending to purchase milk from producers but not so engaged during any month of the preceding calendar year shall file a bond in a reasonable sum to be fixed by the commission and within the time for filing his application such dealer shall request the commission to fix such sum

Section 503 Time of Filing The bond herein required shall be filed with the dealers application for a license and shall be filed within the time for filing such application

Section 504 Requisites of Bonds Substitution A corporate surety bond shall be executed to the Commonwealth by the milk dealer as principal and by a corporate surety company authorized to do business in this Commonwealth as surety An individual surety bond shall be executed to the Commonwealth by the milk dealer as principal and by one or more individuals as surety or sureties who shall have sole title to real estate the fair valuation of which free and clear or in excess of all encumbrances shall be at least equal to the amount of the bond A collateral bond shall be executed to the Commonwealth by the milk dealer as principal shall set forth therein the collateral posted with such bond and shall have attached thereto the collateral properly assigned and transfered to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania The collateral posted with such bond shall be cash in an amount equal to the amount of the bond or such bond shall be secured by an actual deposit with the commission or with a bank bank and trust company or national bank within the Commonwealth of money to full amount of the bond or by securities to such amount consisting of interest-bearing obligations of the United States government of this Commonwealth or of any political subdivision of this Commonwealth or by any other security or securities approved bythe commission The security or securities deposited therewith shall constitute a trust fund for producers from whom the dealer purchases milk

The commission may likewise grant to any milk dealer the authority to substitute for any bond surety or any collateral another bond surety or other collateral provided that such other bond surety or collateral meets all the requirements of this act

Section 505 Financial Statement A milk dealer shall from time to time when required by the commission make and file with the commission a verified statement of his disbursements or of any other facts in connection with his business during a period to be prescribed by the commission which financial statement shall contain the names of the producers from whom milk was purchased the amount due to the producers and any other relevant facts required by the commision pertinent to the dealer or the dealer's surety or sureties

Section 506 Increase or Decrease of Bond If it shall appear from the dealer's financial statement or from facts otherwise ascertained by the commission that the bond afforded to producers selling milk to such milk dealers does not adequately protect such producers the commission may require such milk dealer to procure an additional surety or to give an additional bond or additional security for the collateral bond in a sum to be determined by the commission which shall not exceed more than fifty per centum of the value of the highest aggregate amount of milk purchased by the dealer from producers in any one month during the preceding or current year which value shall be computed according to the prices applicable and shall not in any event exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) In the case of a milk dealer who pays producers in full each week for milk purchased by him from such producers any increase required hereunder shall not exceed more than twenty-five per centum of such value and in any event shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000)

The commission may grant a reduction of the bond or the collateral or release an additional surety if it shall appear that owing to a decrease in the milk purchases of the milk dealer or to other causes a bond in a lesser amount or with fewer sureties will protect producers selling milk to such milk dealer

Section 507 Duty of State Treasurer All bonds together with any moneys or securities given as collateral therefor received by the commission from milk dealers pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be transmitted by the commission to the State Treasurer for safe-keeping subject to withdrawal in whole or in part at any time by the commission

Section 508 Interest or Dividends upon Securities The milk dealer shall be entitled to all moneys received by the State Treasurer as interest or dividends upon any security or securities deposited by such milk dealer with the commission and transmitted by the commission to the State Treasurer for safe-keeping in accordance with the provisions of this act Provided however That the milk dealer not shall be entitled to interest or dividends if there is on file with the commission a valid unpaid claim of a producer against the milk dealer based on milk sold by such producer to the milk dealer

Section 509 Suit by Commission The commission shall have the power in its discretion to sue on the bond on behalf of producers Suit may be brought in the name of the Commonwealth upon relation of the commission or of the Attorney General in such manner as debts are now by law recoverable

Section 510 Effect of Order by Commission If by valid formal order refusing suspending or revoking a license after hearing with due notice to all those liable on the bond the commission has found a milk dealer to be indebted thereunder such order shall be conclusive evidence of the amount due under such bond in a suit thereon by the commission unless an appeal therefrom is pending and a supersedeas granted

Section 511 Procedure for Disbursing Proceeds The commission may prescribe the procedure for the payment out of the proceeds of any bond or collateral required by this article of the amounts found due to producers based on sales of milk by them to a milk dealer who has posted a bond or collateral Provided however That if the proceeds of a bond or of collateral which has been posted by a milk dealer shall be insufficient to pay in full the amounts due to producers who have sold milk to such milk dealer the moneys available shall be divided pro rata among such producers

Section 512 Cooperatives A cooperative agricultural association or corporation organized under the laws of this Commonwealth or a similar association organized under the laws of this or any other state shall be deemed a producer within the provisions of this article and shall be entitled to its benefits Such an association or corporation if operated for the benefit of producers under contract with it and not conducted for profit shall not be required to file a bond under the provisions of this article

Section 513 Subdealers' Bonds It shall be unlawful for a subdealer to buy milk from a milk dealer who purchases milk from producers unless the subdealer shall file with the commission a corporate surety individual surety or collateral bond approved by the commission Such bond shall be executed to the Commonwealth in a sum equal to three hundred dollars ($300.00) for each route owned or operated by the subdealer and shall be conditioned for the payment by the subdealer of all amounts due under this act and the orders of the commission for milk purchased from milk dealer or dealers during the license year subject however to the further condition that if at time of default such milk dealer or dealers are indebted to producers the proceeds thereof shall be held on the account of such dealer or dealers for th benefi of such producers Such bond shall be filed annually with the subdealer's application for a license and shall in all applicable particulars not herein specifically mentioned be subject to terms and conditions such as provided in the other sections of this article for the bonds of other milk dealers and for suits thereon except where the protection of such milk dealers selling to the subdealer or of producers selling to such milk dealers requires the substitution of such dealers and producers in applying such terms and conditions to the bonds of subdealers

Section 601 Weighing or Measuring Permits It shall be unlawful for any milk dealer to buy or receive milk from producers at any plant station creamery factory or other place within the Commonwealth where such milk is weighed or measured or to sell or deliver milk to stores or consumers unless the milk dealer holds a permit for each place of weighing or measuring such milk issued by the commission as herein provided

The weighing or measuring permit shall be issued by the commission for each such place upon application therefor by the milk dealer on a form prescribed by the commission furnishing information including that pertaining to the apparatus and methods used and persons engaged in weighing or measuring the milk The application shall be accompanied by a fee of five dollars ($5.00) and shall be filed before commencing to weigh or measure milk and annually thereafter on or before December first

Each weighing or measuring permit shall be issued hereunder for the term of one calendar year and shall be posted and kept in plain view of persons delivering milk at the place for which it is issued

Section 602 Certified Testers It shall be unlawful for any milk dealer to buy or receive milk from producers or to sell or deliver milk to stores or consumers on the basis of or with reference to the amount of butterfat contained in such milk unless the butterfat test thereof is conducted by a tester certified by the commission

The certified tester shall keep an accurate record of all tests made and copies of such record shall be kept for a period of two (2) years by him and by the milk dealer

Any person who upon the effective date of this act is the holder of a certificate of proficiency for milk testing issued after examination conducted by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture shall upon application to the commission on a form prescribed by the commission furnishing information including that pertaining to good character and to the apparatus and methods used in testing be issued a certificate and be designated therein as a certified tester

Any person who is not the holder of such certificate of proficiency upon the effective date of this act shall prior to applying for a tester's certificate apply to the commission for a certificate of proficiency Such application shall be accompanied by a fee of three dollars ($3.00) The applicant shall be required to pass an examination in milk testing reasonably prescribed and conducted by the commission and upon approval of the application shall be issued a certificate of proficiency Thereupon and annually thereafter without such examination the person so certified may apply for a tester's certificate as herein prescribed

The application for a tester's certificate accompanied by a fee of three dollars ($3.00) shall be filed upon a form prescribed by the commission before commencing to test milk and annually thereafter on or before December first

The tester's certificate issued hereunder shall be for the term of one calendar year and shall be posted and kept in plain view in the plant in which the certified tester is employed

Section 603 Certified Weighers and Samplers It shall be unlawful for any milk dealer to buy or receive milk from producers or to sell or deliver milk to stores or consumers on the basis of or with reference to the amount of butterfat contained in such milk unless the samples taken for testing purposes shall be made by a certified tester or certified weigher and sampler and according to the method prescribed in this act

Any person who upon the effective date of this act is the holder of a certificate of proficiency for milk weighing and sampling issued after examination conducted by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture shall upon application to the commission on a form prescribed by the commission furnishing information including that pertaining to good character and to apparatus and methods used in weighing and sampling be issued a certificate and be designated therein as a certified weigher and sampler

Any person who is not the holder of such certificate of proficiency upon the effective date of this act shall prior to applying for a weighing and sampling certificate apply to the commission for a certificate of proficiency Such application shall be accompanied by a fee of three dollars ($3.00) The applicant shall be required to pass an examination in weighing and sampling milk reasonably prescribed and conducted by the commission and upon approval of the application shall be issued a certificate of proficiency Thereupon and annually thereafter without such examination the person so certified may apply for a certificate as a certified weigher and sampler The application for such weighing and sampling certificate accompanied by a fee of three dollars ($3.00) shall be filed upon a form prescribed by the commission before commencing to sample milk and annually thereafter on or before December first

The weighing and sampling certificate issued hereunder shall be for the term of one calendar year and shall be posted and kept in plain view in the room in which the certified weigher and sampler is employed

Section 604 Refusal Suspension and Revocation of Permits and Certificates The commission may decline to grant or may suspend or revoke a weighing or measuring permit a tester's certificate or a weighing and sampling certificate where the applicant therefor or holder thereof has violated any provision of this act for the weighing measuring testing or sampling of milk or has violated any rules regulations or orders of the commission respecting the weighing measuring testing or sampling of milk or has engaged in any practice with respect thereto which causes milk producers to be underpaid for their milk or which causes stores or consumers to overpay for such milk or which otherwise defrauds or tends to defraud milk producers stores or milk consumers

The procedure before the commission and of the commission with respect to the refusal suspension or revocation provided for herein and the procedure governing appeals from such action of the commission shall be as that prescribed in this act with respect to milk dealers' licenses issued hereunder

Licenses permits and certificates heretofore issued by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture under acts repealed hereby and which are in force upon the effective date of this act shall be deemed permits and certificates issued by the commission hereunder until the expiration dates thereof and the holders shall be subject to all applicable provisions of this act

Section 605 Transfer The permits and certificates herein provided for may not be assigned or transferred

Section 606 Samples Check Tests Milk dealers buying or receiving milk from producers on the basis of or with reference to the amount or percentage of butterfat contained in such milk as determined by the method commonly known as the "Babcock Test" shall make such test at least once every sixteen (16) days The milk from each producer shall be represented by a composite sample taken from the entire delivery of each of the several lots of milk bought or received from said person and shall cover a period of not more than sixteen (16) days The composite sample to which a suitable preservative has been added shall be made up of aliquot parts taken from each of the several lots of milk from each producer concerned and composite samples of all producers concerned shall cover the same period of time

Any person taking a sample or samples of milk either from the aliquot part of each lot of milk sampled or from the composite lot of milk sampled shall thoroughly stir or mix the contents of each and every container immediately before such sample or samples are taken in such manner that the milk is thoroughly mixed in each container before the sample is taken No weigh tank or container from which the aliquot part is taken for composite samples shall have any partition division or strainer which will prevent such thorough stirring or mixing Each composite sample shall be held in an airtight bottle such bottle being plainly showing the name or number of the producer whose milk the composite sample represents and the rack or container where the samples are held shall be plainly labeled showing the date of the first and last day of the period covered by the said composite samples

The commission may require that the composite samples be tested on the premises where they are taken After such samples have been tested their residues shall be held intact and in condition suitable to test on the premises where they are tested for a further period of not less than ten (10) days after the rendering of a statement to the producer for milk delivered during such period in order to make possible a check test

Every milk dealer affected by the provisions of this act shall within two (2) days after the day on which the test herein provided for has been made notify the producer or his agent of the result of such test stating the period of time during which said composite samples were taken Notice under this section shall be given by posting of the results of said tests continuously for ten (10) days in a conspicuous place in the plant or receiving station or in writing delivered to the producer or his agent Where a daily test is made on milk and the average of these several tests is used as a basis of settlement there shall also be a composite sample taken covering the period of the first half of the month and a composite sample taken covering the period of the last half of the month and such samples shall be held intact on the premises for a period of not less than ten (10) days after the rendering of a statement to the producers for milk delivered during each such period in order to make possible a check test

The commission shall make check tests and other reasonable tests whenever in its judgment such tests are advisable for the public welfare and may also require additional samples or additional composite samples from time to time

Section 607 Violations It shall be unlawful for any milk dealer or other person engaged or employed in the business of buying or receiving milk from producers or selling or delivering milk to stores or consumers on the basis of or with reference to the amount or percentage of butterfat contained therein to take collect or use for testing purposes an unfair or inaccurate sample or to underread overread or erroneously manipulate the "Babcock Test" used for determining the amount or percentage of butterfat in such milk or to falsify the record thereof or to make the "Babcock" reading except when the fat has a temperature of one hundred thirty-five degrees (135°) to one hundred forty-five degrees (145°) Fahrenheit or to use for such test quantities other than seventeen and six-tenths (17.6) cubic centimeters in the case of milk and nine (9) grams or eighteen (18) grams in the case of cream In all tests of cream the cream shall be weighed and not measured into the test bottle

It shall also be unlawful for such milk dealer or other person so engaged or employed to ascertain the "Babcock Test" of the milk by use of any glassware except standard "Babcock Test" glassware and weights which have been previously inspected and approved by the Department of Internal Affairs If the amount or percentage of butterfat is determined by any method other than the "Babcock Test" no utensil or instrument shall be used in such determination until it has been inspected and approved by the commission

Section 608 Payment for Milk Statement Milk dealers shall determine weight measure and butterfat content of milk as provided in this act or in rules regulations or orders of the commission pertaining thereto and consistent with this act Payment for milk shall be made either upon the basis of weight measure or butterfat content or any combination thereof as the rules regulations or orders of the commission may require

Milk dealers buying or receiving milk from producers shall furnish to each producer or his agent a written statement showing the amount of milk delivered daily during the period for which payment is made and unless the commission otherwise provides the average butterfat test of the milk delivered for such period Such statement shall set forth such information as may be required by the commission shall be furnished periodically at the time of payment prescribed by the commission and in no event less often than monthly Provided however That a written statement of weights may be given daily to the producer or his agent in lieu of such periodic statement of the amount of milk delivered unless the commission otherwise provides

It shall be unlawful to use as the basis of payment for milk any amount or percentage of butterfat therein which has been ascertained from a sample containing milk that has been so treated as to cause it to test lower or higher than the milk from which it was taken

It shall be unlawful for any person including any milk dealer to knowingly fraudulently or negligently weigh measure sample or test milk or cause milk to be weighed measured sampled or tested in such manner as to cause stores or milk consumers or to make any false or misleading statement with respect to the weight measurement sampling or testing of milk

Section 1302 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the report?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to call attention to the fact that the Conference Commitee on Senate Bill No. 1064 was appointed about 4 o'clock this afternoon and the report comes in that the Conference Committee with the bill printed, seventy-six pages. We understand that this bill was printed before the Committee of Conference in the Senate was even appointed. It certainly was a physical impossibllity for any printer, regardless of their facilities, to print this bill, within the hour, to say nothing to giving it consideration. I just want to call attention of the Senate to that fact, because this is not a matter of efficiency, this is a matter of ruthless steam-rollering the interests of the rural communities of the State.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair states that the Conference Report is officially before the Senate.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the report?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask that the roll be verified.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette will state his point of order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett did not vote and therefore is not entitled to demand a verification of the roll.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, the Senator from Tioga, certainly has a right to know whether or not he and the rest of us are recorded as voted.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette will state his point of order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE.. Mr. President, the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, voted present and is not entitled to a verification of the roll.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to ask if we are on the question as to whether or not members present in the Senate have a right to refrain from voting? I take it that under the ruling, a member being present must vote "aye" or "no" on the bill. I ask that the roll be re-called and those present and voting present be asked to vote "aye" or "no" on the bill.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, the members who voted "present" had no opportunity to study the bill.

The PRESIDENT. Under parliamentary practice—we operate under Jefferson's manual—it is well established that the Chair before the announcement of any result, at his discretion, may order the vote to be recapitulated, and the Chair does that very thing.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask for a ruling on my request as to the right of members voting "present," without voting "aye" or "no", and before a recapitulation of the vote. I ask for a ruling.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion that the point of order raised by the Senator from Philadelphia is well taken and now directs a recapitulation of the vote.

(Mr. Deitrick voting present).

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order: The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, The Chair has a right to insist that a member failing to vote be held in contempt of the Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, what he proposes to do with the man that refuses to vote?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has ruled in favor of the position of the Senator from Philadelphia, that a Senator should vote; however, the Chair does not know of any way that the rule can be enforced.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to suggest that the Chair can declare a member in comtempt and if the member is in contempt he may not participate in the proceedings of the Senate, and not participate in the proceedings of the Senate, he is not entitled to any compensation or any other rights under the rule.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair suggests that we proceed with the roll call and determine that matter later.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I should like to submit a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Lancaster, Mr. Homsher, will state his point of order.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, my point of order is that when less than quorum votes the Chair can request the members to vote and when there is a quorum voting I do not see any authority for the Chair to compel the Senators to vote "yes" or "no."

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has ruled on the point and has decided there is a question as to whether that can be done. The Chair has ordered a recapitulation of the vote and suggests that the vote be had.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I refer the Chair to rule 36.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands Rule 36 and has already ruled on that. The roll will be called.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

Cavalcante,	Heyburn,	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
Dent,	Huffman,	McGinnis,	Sipe,
DiSilvestro,	Jacobs,	Mundy,	Sones,
Eroe,	Kahle,	Pytko,	Stiefel,
Frey,	Kilgallen,	Rankin,	Thompson,
Gilson,	Lanius,	Reed,	Wolfenden,
Haluska,	Law,	Ruth,

NAYS—5

Gelder,	Howell,	Owlett,	Scarlett,
Homsher,

Deitrick present.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I want to say for myself and for the benefit of my Republican colleagues that this question, we voted "no" in deference to the decision of the Chair that we could not vote present, and also as a protest of the methods employed by our colleagues on the left, of absolutely ignoring one of the greatest industries in Pennsylvania and refusing to give them any consideration when they demanded a hearing and simply steamrollered this legislation through, without any of us having an opportunity even to see the Conference Committee's report, within a few minutes before we were asked to vote for it, and I also want to say that I have been told that the members of the Conference Committee did not see the report until it was prepared for them, at least some of the members.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LANIUS, from the Committee on State Government reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 892, entitled:

An Act concerning children under six years of age with defective hearing; imposing duties on the Department of Health, the Department of Public Instruction, on parents, guardians, nurses and physicians; and placing certain costs on school districts.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1044, as follows:

An Act authorizing courts of common pleas to stay writs of execution against and tax sales of certain real property in certain cases providing for the continuance of return days of writs of execution and authorizing sales thereon without issuance of further writs and exempting mortgages issued under the National Housing Act

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same as follows

Section 1 Definitions That when used in this act the following words and phrases shall have the meanings respectively ascribed to them by this section unless the context clearly requires a different meaning

"Writ of execution" shall mean any writ of fieri gacias venditioni exponas levari facias or any other writ or form of execution for the sale of any dwelling and the land appurtenant thereto or any farm where such dwelling or farm shall be occupied by an owner thereof as his or her residence or any proceeding for the sale of real property as herein defined for failure to pay taxes

"Real property" shall mean any dwelling together with the land appurtenant thereto and any farm occupied by an owner of such dwelling or farm as a residence

Section 2 Every court of common pleas of this Commonwealth shall have authority under the conditions hereinafter set forth to stay any writ of execution from time to time and for such periods as he court in its discretion may deem proper Such stays shall be allowed only upon application of an owner lienholder or any other person in interest and unless the plaintiff conse nt thereto only upon the applicant's showing to the court such facts as the court may deem sufficient to warrant such relief In granting any such stay or continuance the court may impose such condition as it deems proper as to payment of costs taxes accruing interest repairs advertising and notice of sale insurance an any other pertinent matters

Section 3 In exercising the powers conferred by this act a court shall have the discretion of a chancellor sitting in equity It shall be a sufficient reason for the grant of a stay hereunder that immediate execution sale against the real property would work serious inequity

Section 4 The stay of any execution under this act shall continue the return day of writ of execution to the first regular day for such writs which shall occur after a sale held under such writ In the meantime the writ shall remain in full force and effect and sale may be made thereunder without the issuance of an alias or any other writ

Section 5 The powers herein conferred on courts of common pleas shall be in addition to all powers now possessed by such courts to stay and otherwise control writs of execution against real property as herein defined

Section 6 This act shall become effective immediately upon final passage by the Legislature and approval by the Governor and shall continue in force only until the thirty-first day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine Provided That the provisions of this act shall not apply to the foreclosure of mortgages insured under Title II of an Act of Congress of the United States entitled the "National Housing Act" approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-four

Section 7 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are suspended while this act is in effect

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. ALLEN and PERRY (Concurrent). RESOLUTION No. 72.

In the House of Representatives, April 27, 1937.

Whereas, The Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are strongly in favor of the removal of abnormal profits during time of war; and

Whereas, It is their belief that war should be prosecuted with special privilege to none and on the basis of equal service for all; and

Whereas, There is now pending in the Federal Congress a bill which would not only accomplish these desirable results, but by its enactment into law would do much towards the preservation and promotion of peace; and therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States to pass the Sheppard-House Bill (Senate No. 25, House No. 1954) at the earliest possible moment; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to each of the members elected from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the House of Representatives and to the Senate of the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

By Mr. PRESTON. RESOLUTION No. 73.

In the House of Representatives, April 27, 1937.

Whereas on March 16, 1937, House Bill No. 1603 was introduced by the Hon. J. Hall Stackpole which bill in substance regulates and establishes fees to be charged by constables, and

Whereas this bill was referred on March 16, 1937, to the Committee on Municipal Corporations, and

Whereas the Committee on Municipal Corporations after a thorough study ascertained that the Legislators themselves are permitted five cents (5c) per mile in going to and coming from the Session while attending to their legislative duties, and

Whereas the constables under the Act of July 20, 1917, are allowed ten (10c) cents per mile in attending to their duties, and

Whereas the Legislative Membership of the Committee on Municipal Corporations believe that the constables should be brought down at least to some comparative level with the ordinary Legislators on the question of mileage chargeable by them, and

Whereas House Bill No. 1603 reduces the mileage chargeable by constables from ten (10c) cents to six (6c) cents per mile, placing them one (1c) cent above the standard mileage paid to Legislators, and

Whereas this bill was reported on the Calendar and after a dramatic speech by the Hon. Justin D. Jirolanio and by the Hon. Jacob J. J. Elpern, militant Westmoreland County friend of the taxpayers, the bill was re-committed for the second time to the Committee on State Government of which the Hon. Leo Achterman is Chairman.

Now Be It Resolved that the Committee on Municipal Corporations of the House of Representatives hereby memorializes the Hon. Leo Achterman, Chairman of his Committee on State Government, to report back out on the Calendar House Bill No. 1603 which reduces the mileage chargeable by constables from ten (10c) cents to six (6c) cents so that the inference may be given to the people of this Commonwealth that the constables are not worth twice the Members of this Legislative Body, but are only in proportion worth one (1c) cent above the mileage rate charged by Legislators.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendment was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 390.

An Act relating to the performance of industrial work in homes regulating and in certain cases prohibiting industrial homework imposing duties restrictions and liabilities on industrial home-workers and on persons partnerships associations and corporations directly or indirectly furnishing materials and articles to home-workers for manufacture or work thereon requiring permits and home-workers' certificates and prescribing the fees therefor conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Labor and Industry and the Department of Revenue and prescribing penalties

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments, as follows:

Amend the title, page 1, by striking out in lines 11 and 12 the words "and the Department of Revenue."

Amend section 4, page 5, by striking out all of lines 15 and 16 as follows: "(c) Articles of wearing apparel for use of children ten years of age or under"; also at the beginning of line 17 by striking out the letter "(d)" and inserting in lieu thereof the letter "(c)"; also at the beginning of line 18 by striking out the letter "(e)" and inserting in lieu thereof the letter "(d)"; also at the beginning of line 19 by striking out the letter "(f)" and inserting in lieu thereof the letter "(e)"; also at the beginning of line 20 by striking out the letter "(g)" and inserting in lieu thereof the letter "(f)"; also at the beginning of line 21 by striking out the letter "(h)" and inserting in lieu thereof the letter "(g)"; also at the beginning of line 22 by striking out the letter "(i)" and inserting in lieu thereof the letter "(h)"; also by inserting after line 22 the following new paragraph: "Provided That the word "rags" shall not be deemed to apply to new remnants clippings or selvages which are by-products of manufacturing processes"; also at the beginning of line 23 by striking out the letter "(j)" and inserting in lieu thereof the letter "(i)."

Amend section 5, page 6, by inserting after line 27 the following new paragraph: "(c) All power machines used in conduct of industrial home work shall be guarded in accordance with the laws and regulations of the Department of Labor and Industry."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. GERARD. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise in opposition to the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Gerard. On page 5 of House Bill No. 390 the Senate of Pennsylvania in its wisdom, has taken out lines 15 and 16 of that bill. The Senate has stricken out the words "Articles of wearing apparel for use of children ten years of age or under." Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I believe that these lines, lines 15 and 16, should remain in House Bill No. 390. It would be an appalling example of inconsistency for this House to concur in an amendment of this character.

Immediately below the amendment inserted by the Senate, Mr. Speaker, we have Article (c) toys and dolls —that is, if the members have the bill and are following it—that the manufacturing or processing of toys and dolls in industrial home work is prohibited. Now, Mr. Speaker, toys and dolls are used only by small children. It appears obvious to me that if the Senate of Pennsylvania is willing to go along with this House in prohibiting the manufacturing or processing of toys and dolls for the use of small children, they should be equally willing to go along with this House in prohibiting the manufacturing and processing in industrial home work surroundings of articles of clothing for children of a like age. If toys and dolls manufactured under unsanitary conditions are unhealthful for the children of this Commonwealth to use, it appears equally obvious that the clothing which these children will wear should not be exempted from the provisions of this act. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I ask the members of this House to defeat the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Gerard, so that I may offer a motion of non-concurrence and that we may send this bill to conference.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was in the House, there was a serious question in the committee at that time as to whether or not this section should be taken out for the very simple reason that no one is able to determine the age of a child when purchasing clothes, and my understanding of it is that all of the clothes that are made for wearing apparel for children up to ten years of age are sterilized and that with dolls it is just a little different because there is packing and what not in connection with the dolls. The Department of Labor and Industry had the matter up with the Senate Committee and it was agreed that that section should be stricken out.

I ask the members of the House to vote to concur in the amendments to this bill.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I agree with the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Yourishin, that the Department of Labor and Industry had taken up this matter with the Senate Committee and had agreed to this amendment, but I submit, Mr. Speaker, that on authority of Mr. Staley of the Department of Labor and Industry, I am informed that the principal question at issue in this matter was the question of constitutionality, the constitutionality of this particular phrase, and I submit to you, Mr. Speaker, that there is a severance clause in this bill and that if the courts hold that the Legislature of Pennsylvania has no authority to regulate the manufacturing or processing of children's clothing—that is for children under ten years of age—they may throw out that clause and we will still have the industrial home work act.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I only rise to urge the concurrence of the House in the amendments to this bill made by the Senate. As I understand it this bill passed the House with a definite prohibition of the manufacture of children's clothing in the home. All this bill will allow—it will allow the manufacture of children's clothing in the home under regulations established by the Department of Labor and Industry. Now, as the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Yourishin, has indicated it is very hard to determine just the age limitation upon the children's clothes. Also as the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Yourishin, has indicated children's clothes go through a process of laundering and sterilizing prior to being placed on the market which will, in addition to the regulations imposed by the Department of Labor, eliminate all possibility of harmful agents being transmitted to the children wearing the clothes.

That is not true as far as toys and dolls are concerned. They are manufactured in the home, painted and processed in the home, and are not exposed to any sterilization of laundry process.

I, therefore, ask the members to support the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Gerard, to concur in the measure as amended by the Senate.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, will not the gentleman agree with me that the manufacture and processing of toys and dolls is included in this bill; that it is included in so far as the manufacturing and processing are prohibited.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I think, it is, yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman knows it is. Will the gentleman inform me of any good reason why if dolls and toys for the consumption and use of children of small age are prohibited by this bill—any good reason why articles of clothing to be used and consumed by those children should be exempted from it. If one is manufactured under unsanitary conditions certainly the other would be.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question of the gentleman from Allegheny, apparently he was not paying attention to what I had to say and for his sole benefit I will reiterate what I did say. The distinction between toys and dolls and children's clothes is one that is very apparent, in that the clothing of children is laundered and processed before it is shipped to the retailer or before it is consumed or worn by the children, and in the case of toys and dolls they are not laundered or processed or cleansed.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman point out to me the section in this bill which directs manufacturers or contractors of children's clothing to so launder and so disinfect the children's clothing?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr Speaker, that would be covered by the regulations of the Department of Labor and Industry, and it is also covered by the natural manner in which the manufacture of children's clothing is indulged in, namely, every shirt, every piece of wearing apparel that is processed is finally laundered before it is shipped to the consumer.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman says that it can be. He does not say it will be and certainly this act does not say that it shall be.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. But the fact remains, Mr. Speaker, that it is.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2173 (Senate Bill No. 640), entitled:

An Act to encourage the making and maintaining of agreements concerning wages hours and conditions of employment between employers and employes by their representatives and the settlement of controversies concerning the same by mediation and voluntary arbitration conferring powers of mediation and arbitration of such concontroversies on the Department of Labor and Industry

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 3, page 2, line 13, strike out "or any officer"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there objection?

MOTION TO LAY BILL AND AMENDMENTS ON TABLE

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that Senate Bill No. 640 is connected with No. 639, I move that the bill together with the amendment be laid on the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Delaware to withdraw his motion as this bill will be up Monday night anyhow and I intend to hold No. 639 until it reaches the third reading calendar.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I realize that——

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman withdraw his motion temporarily?

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. TURNER. I will withdraw my motion temporarily, Mr. Speaker. I understand, of course, that this bill will go over until Monday night by reason of the insertion of the amendment, but if we do not object to the insertion of the amendment—I have had no chance to check it with the bill at all — then the amendment will be in the bill on Monday night and the bill will be ready for final passage. It seems, therefore, to me that rather than have it in that position it would be far better to hold both bills until Monday night.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I can assure the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, that the amendment is a strikeout and does not affect the bill one way or the other.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I am willing to accept the gentleman's statement in the matter and withdraw my motion.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with instructions of the House?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

SENATE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate which were laid upon the table.
